THIEF RUN DOWN

Has Been Robbing Boarding Houses

IN SEVERAL NEW ENGLAND CITES

Three Cases Against Him in Lowell

The police of several cities, including Lowell, are after Charles Haynes or Hynes, aged 20 years, a slick boarding house thief, now under arrest in Providence.

A dispatch from Providence concerning the arrest, states as follows: Charles Haynes, 20 years old, who came from Boston 10 days ago and remained about this city looking it over for select boarding houses, was in court today charged with larceny from Angelina E. Nichols and others and he was held for the grand jury in $500.

On each of three other charges of the same character he was fined $20 and costs. His victims in these cases were Henry S. Rowe, Daniel H. Reese, and Harriet M. Beale. The goods were taken from first-class boarding houses on the east side of the river. The accused claimed to be a postal clerk and he would call and make arrangements for a room. He would have a valise, and this he sometimes left behind when he had gone through the house and taken all the jewelry or other valuables he could get hold of.

He admitted all the larceny charges and pleaded guilty. He stated he had secured about $300 in all.

Haynes says that he is a hotel bellboy and that he has worked in Boston and in other New England cities. His home is at Cumberland Hills, Me. He has been accompanied by a woman who hails from Maine also, and the pair have done the town. The woman says she lost a string of gold beads which Haynes stole at a shore place down the bay. Haynes is well dressed and a smooth looking young fellow.

Unless he secures bonds he will have to stay at Cranston until the action of the grand jury next September.

A dispatch from Portland, Maine, reads: Charles Hynes, as he is known to the police here, is believed to be a native of Westbrook, a suburb of this city. The police say he was an inmate about eight years ago of the Maine school for boys, and later was arrested for larceny from a hotel in one of the eastern Maine cities and served a short sentence in jail.

Haynes came here in May 26 and engaged a room at Nuttal's boarding house where he entered three rooms and stole money and other small articles and decamped. He came again in July 8, 1903, on circus day, and engaging a room in the boarding house of Lilla Jackson in Lawrence street, stole about $50 worth of money and jewelry.

The police of this city traced him to Elmira, N. Y., a year later and found him then a parole man from the reformatory there. Because he reformed to the satisfaction of the New York authorities they refused to sign requisition papers permitting the Lowell police to bring him to this state, and for that reason he had never been brought to account for his depredations in this city.

BUNKER HILL DAY

Charlestown Will Have Two Parades

BOSTON, June 17.—Although not a legal holiday, practically all the business activities of Greater Boston were suspended today in observance of the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The patriotic celebration of the anniversary centered as usual in Charlestown, the scene of the famous fight. A special detail of police patrolled the district all night to insist upon the obedience of ordinances which require that the noisy part of the celebration shall not begin until 4 a. m. Promptly at that hour the patriotism of the people was manifested by an extensive explosion of fire works. Two parades were arranged for Charlestown during the day, one consisting of military, naval and civic bodies including bluejackets from the visiting warships for the afternoon and an electrical parade for the evening. There was a parade also in the town of Medford in celebration of that city's 275th anniversary. Races at the country club in Brookline, play in the state tennis championship at Longwood, bicycle races at Revere and Cambridge and other outdoor events attracted large numbers of people.

NARROW ESCAPE

LIVELY FIRE ON GROVE STREET

Firemen Took Chances in Saving Money

A fire broke out in the two and one-half story house belonging to E. J. Medina at 8 Grove street about 1.30 o'clock this morning and Mr. James F. Doherty, of Doherty Bros., and his family had a narrow escape from being suffocated.

Mr. Doherty occupied the upper tenement while the lower tenement was unoccupied and was undergoing repairs. During the day yesterday painters and plumbers were working in the tenement underneath and whether it was owing to an accident on their part that the fire started is not known.

About 1.15 o'clock Mrs. Doherty was awakened by a crackling sound. She could not at first realize what the cause was, but when she became fully awakened and found the room filled with smoke and felt herself being overcome, she shouted to her husband in the next room that the house was on fire.

Mr. Doherty immediately donned some clothing and running to the Westford street fire house pulled in an alarm from box 8. Mrs. Doherty then took her baby in her arms and rushed into the street and later on was taken care of by one of the neighbors.

While in the neighbor's house Mrs. Doherty remembered that she had left considerable money wrapped up in a stocking and when the firemen arrived she informed one of them and he rescued the money.

The flames were first discovered in the ell with their starting point apparently in the empty tenement and had worked their way through the partition to the ell. They had a good start and when the fire was discovered the flames had attained considerable headway.

Two streams were laid to fight the fire and quick work of it was made by the firemen.

It was in the neighborhood of three o'clock before the fire was fully under control. Mr. Medina said there was an insurance of from $1500 to $2000 on the house, and it looked as if this would more than cover the loss on the building. Mr. Doherty had an insurance of $500 on his furniture, and as this was probably a total loss it is doubtful if the insurance will cover it.

F. C. Church had the insurance on the house.

FOUND IN STUPOR

SPENT NIGHT ON SON'S GRAVE

Bottle Labelled Poison by Her Side

HAD BEEN INMATE OF FARM

But Brooded Over Loss of Her Son

Ann McGowan, a woman about 55 years of age, who has suffered from numerous paralytic shocks and who has spent a good part of her time for the past few years at the city farm, attempted to commit suicide in a most tragic manner on the grave of her son in St. Patrick's cemetery this morning. She was found in a semi-conscious condition by one of the employes of the cemetery and is now at St. John's hospital in a precarious condition, though there is a slight chance for her recovery.

The case is a very sad one and she was probably led to commit the rash deed by continual brooding over the loss of a son some years ago, her lonely condition and feeble health. While she did not show any outward signs of sorrow, wherever she has been she was always quiet and thoughtful, only now and then referring to the fact that her son's death troubled her.

Shortly before 8 o'clock this morning one of the employes of St. Patrick's cemetery noticed an elderly woman lying on a grave in the cemetery, and thinking that she was overcome by the heat, hastened to where she was and tried to arouse her, but his efforts proved unavailing. He then notified Dennis Meagher, superintendent of the cemetery, and the latter telephoned for the ambulance.

Prior to the arrival of the ambulance it was learned that the woman had attempted suicide, a small bottle bearing a red label with a skull and cross bones and marked "poison," being found by her side. The cork of the bottle had evidently been thrown away and the bottle had been nearly drained. An examination of the contents showed that it was laudanum, a deadly poison, while close by the bottle was a small pill box which was marked "Alloes Belladonna and strychnine pills," and "Carleton & Hovey, druggists," was the inscription on the label. The contents of the box, however, was some powdered substance which looked like phenacetine, which is also poisonous if taken in large quantities.

When the ambulance arrived she was hurriedly taken to St. John's hospital and restoratives were given, and while it was announced at the hospital that her condition is critical, there are strong hopes for her recovery.

On the way to the hospital the woman acknowledged that she had tried to commit suicide but would not give any reason for her rash act, and stated that she had procured the laudanum at Carleton & Hovey's drug store. A representative of The Sun called at Carleton & Hovey's and the management denied that any laudanum had been sold recently. He stated that laudanum was only sold upon a doctor's prescription.

Mrs. McGowan has been the victim of numerous paralytic shocks which prevented her from doing any work in order to take care of herself and has spent much time at the farm. Time and time again she has been discharged from the farm at her own request and at the request of others.

The last time she entered the farm was in October of 1904, and upon the request of a friend she was discharged on May 29th. At that time she had about $21, and after leaving the farm visited Undertaker Peter Davey and stated she was looking for a room where she could live, as she was tired of living at the farm.

Mr. Davey knew that Mrs. Mary Farr of 142 Market street, close by his place, had a vacant room and the room was secured. There Mrs. McGowan stayed until yesterday, when she took a few of her belongings and said that she was going some place else to room.

That was the last that Mrs. Farr saw of her, though several people who knew her stated that they saw her in upper Gorham street late last evening.

In all probability she spent the night in the cemetery at her son's grave, and early this morning decided to end her life. How long she had been on the grave before being found by one of the employes of the cemetery is unknown.

It is understood that she has a sister in Buffalo, N. Y. Those who know her think that she was mentally unbalanced.

SAVAGE CANINE

Nearly Devoured Boy on Second Street

While playing with other children in Second street last evening 8-year-old Ansal Henry was attacked by a vicious shepherd dog and the savage brute would have torn the child to pieces but for the timely interference of persons attracted by the boy's cries. It was with difficulty that the dog was dragged away from the bleeding form of his little victim.

Early this morning the dog was in the street smelling of the blood stained dust and growling savagely. Two weeks ago the dog bit another boy and in fact he has been the terror of the neighborhood since his arrival in Second street about a month ago.

A representative of The Sun called at Ansal Henry's home in the rear of 22 Second street, this forenoon. The boy is badly bitten about the legs, on the chest and on the arms. The dog tried to get at his throat but the boy managed to keep his head in such a position as to make it impossible for the dog to grab him there. He then seemed intent upon reaching the boy's heart and tore his clothing into shreds in an attempt to reach that vital spot. It was one of the most blood-curdling spectacles that has been witnessed in this city for many a day.

The dog is the property of Miss Bessie Worrall, whose home is at 222 Second street, directly across from the home of the Henry boy. Lieutenant Webster called at the Worrall home this forenoon and ordered that the dog be chained until arrangements are made for his disposal.

Miss Worrall was one of the first to go to the boy's rescue, but she could not pull the dog away. Miss Worrall's little brother was the next on the scene and she could not pull the dog from his little victim. Mr. Worrall was summoned and with the assistance of another man the bloodthirsty dog was taken away snapping and growling at the men who held him prisoner.

The little boy limped across the street the blood flowing from wounds on his legs, arms and body. A great crowd had gathered by the time the dog was taken away and the trail of blood from the scene of cruel torture to the boy's home cried for vengeance and two young men went looking for the dog. They armed themselves with clubs and vowed that they would beat the dog to death, but they did not succeed in beating him.

The dog was bought at an auction sale in this city by F. A. Orcutt, who has a livery stable in Second street. Orcutt in turn sold him to Miss Bessie Worrall and after the dog had been in Lowell 30 days his license was transferred.

He was brought to Lowell from Wakefield and the police here will try to trace his record in Wakefield. There is a heavy penalty attached to the transportation of a vicious dog from place to place.

While the dog may not have been brought to Lowell from Wakefield because of his viciousness, the fact that he was sold at auction here instead of Wakefield, will bear investigation.

Dr. Meagher is attending the Henry boy. His wounds have been cauterized and while he was sick and suffered pain during the night, he is resting comfortably today.

The dog is perfectly healthy and the fear of rabies does not enter into the case. The dog is vicious and should be well guarded if allowed to live.

Miss Worrall, owner of the dog, claims that the boys plagued the animal before he attacked the boy.

YOUNG MAN RESCUED THEM FROM THE RIVER.

LOSTON, June 16.—Jumping from the boat landing at Charlesbank park, Gabriel Farrell, Jr., a 19-year-old member of the nearby volunteer life saving corps, saved two young women and a young man from drowning in the Charles river shortly after 9 o'clock last evening.

The three young people in the boat had all attempted to sit on one seat, and the light craft turned turtle more than 100 feet from the landing. Young Farrell immediately jumped into the river and swam to their assistance.

After a tussle with the young man, who grappled with him, Farrell succeeded in getting him into another row boat which had come upon the scene. He then swam to the two young women, who had started to drift down stream, keeping them afloat until another boat towed them and him to the shore. The venturesome young people were taken to the life saving station, where they were given dry clothes and sent home. They refused to divulge their names.

RARE WORKS

FINE PORTRAITS WERE SOLD UNDER THE HAMMER.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Rare works of art were sacrificed under the hammer yesterday afternoon in this city. The life-size, full length portrait of Abraham Lincoln and two canvases, life-size figures of Charles Sumner, said to be striking likenesses, all painted by the late William T. Mathews, went for mere trifles.

The Lincoln was purchased by James Fay of New York for $425 and the two pictures of Sumner were bought by the Rev. Frank Bristol, pastor of the Metropolitan M. E. church of this city for $17.50 each. The life-size portrait of the late President McKinley, a life-long friend of the artist, was withdrawn from the sale because it was bid only to $185.

Two portraits of William Cullen Bryant, also an old friend of the artist, were sold for $12.50 and $8.00. A magnificent picture of Pike's Peak from Wet Mountain Valley sold for $3.50.

Mr. Mathews was a chorister in St. Paul's Cathedral in London and a musician of much ability. His early artistic successes were made in New York, where he was the friend and contemporary of Elliott, Huntington and others of the same class. His pictures, at that time brought large prices. He came to Washington to paint Lincoln and Sumner, and after the pictures were finished they were left on his hands because of the large price he asked for them. He spent the rest of his winters here. He painted the portraits of more presidents than any other artist.

WILL REMAIN AT HEAD OF FOREIGN OFFICE.

PARIS, June 16.—3 p. m.—Premier Rouvier announced at a meeting of the council of ministers held at the Elyzee palace at noon today that he had definitely decided to permanently retain the portfolio of foreign affairs and relinquish that of finance. The successor of M. Rouvier as minister of finance, will be designated tonight or tomorrow. His decision to remain in the ministry of finances was the result of the earnest request of Pres. Loubet and his colleagues who desired his strong hand at the helm during the difficult negotiations with Germany over Morocco. The status of the negotiations continues to give the French officials great solicitude as no progress is being made and the parties are almost at the point of having reached a dead lock.

BOARD OF HEALTH

To Prosecute Man for Concealing Smallpox

There is one smallpox patient at the contagious hospital who, after being released from the hospital will have to stand trial in police court.

The charge is made that he endeavored for a long time to escape detection by the health authorities and the board of health at a meeting held yesterday afternoon voted to order him into the police court as soon as he had recovered sufficiently from the disease. The board also voted to have arrested and taken into court the two men, living in a tenement in Hall street, who refused to be vaccinated. It was the unanimous opinion of members that persons refusing to obey the ordinances governing protection from the disease should be proceeded against.

The discussion of the smallpox situation was the most important feature of the meeting. Rufus O. Adams was granted an undertaker's license and the board adjourned to view the property of Joseph F. Fay who was ordered, quite recently, to put his buildings in the vicinity of Market street in proper sanitary condition.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Alan Boure of Wakefield to Miss Millie Sherman, daughter of Mrs. A. E. Sherman, took place at Mrs. Sherman's home, 120 Mt. Vernon street, last night at 6.30 o'clock, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. C. E. Fisher.

Mr. Herbert Jenkins of Hyde Park was best man and the matron of honor was Mrs. Henry A. Plummer of Lynn. The bride was given away by her brother, Arthur W. Sherman.

From 7 to 8 a pleasant reception took place. The spacious veranda and smooth lawn offered a splendid opportunity for open air conversation and the heat of the day was forgotten in the pleasant surroundings.

A light lunch was served during the reception. The house was tastefully decorated, palms and plants being used effectively.

During the reception Pease's orchestra furnished music. The reception closed in season for the bridal couple to catch the 9.30 train for Boston and start on a wedding trip. On their return they will reside in Lowell at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. E. Sherman, 120 Mt. Vernon street.

GODDARD—BENNETT.

A very pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bennett, Prospect street, North Leominster, Mass., when their daughter, Lucy, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter R. Goddard, in the presence of the immediate families.

Those present from out of town were Mrs. Emeline Goddard and Miss Grace Goddard of Charlestown, Mass., mother and sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Swapp and son, of Lowell, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. J. Bennett of Woburn.

At 7 o'clock, the bride, handsomely gowned in a becoming creation of white, satin striped, silk muslin, entered on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by Mrs. A. E. J. Bennett. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Powell of Dorchester former pastor of the bride, the ring service being used.

The happy couple left on the 8.44 train for a short wedding tour. They were accompanied as far as Fitchburg by a large party of friends, who showered them plentifully with rice and confetti.

CHRISMAN—HAYWOOD.

Mr. Albert A. Chrisman and Miss Ella Haywood were united in marriage Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison at 25 Wilson street. The ceremony took place at eight o'clock and was performed by Rev. J. M. Craig, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Harry Haywood, brother of the bride, was best man, and Miss Fanny E. Ashley was bridemaid. Only intimate relatives and friends were present.

After a wedding dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Chrisman went away on a short honeymoon. They will reside at 204 Moody street upon their return.

MEISTER—JORDAN.

Mr. Victor H. Meister, for the last five years physical director at the Y. M. C. A., and Mrs. Anna C. Jordan, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock, at 201 Appleton street, by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow. A two-ring ceremony was used in the presence of only a few friends. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Meister will live at 201 Appleton street.

GILBRIDE—NORMAN.

John Gilbride of this city and Miss Margaret G. Norman, of Lawrence, were united in marriage at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon at St. Mary's church in Lawrence, the ceremony being performed by Rev. James T. O'Reilly, O. S. A. Francis Norman, a brother of the bride, was best man and Miss Nora Scanlon was bridemaid.

The bride was prettily gowned in white silk trimmed with chiffon and wore a silk chiffon veil held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried white roses. The bridemaid was becomingly attired in a pink silk costume and wore a large white picture hat trimmed with pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 145 Water street. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbride boarded the 9.30 train for a brief wedding tour and will be at home to friends at 20 Fulton street, this city, after July 1.

The choir was in attendance and Mr. Peter Clune rendered the "Pie Jesu" at the offertory. At the close of mass Miss Alice Murphy sang "No Cross, No Crown," and as the remains were leaving the church the choir sang the "De Profundis."

GOMEZ ILL

CUBAN GENERAL IS STEADILY GROWING WORSE.

HAVANA, June 16, 1.14 a. m.—Since midnight the condition of General Maximo Gomez has steadily grown worse. The extraordinary improvement in his condition early in the week caused hope of his temporary recovery at least but it is now apparent that the gangrene resulting from the abscess on his hand for which he underwent an operation at Santiago early in May is retarding the action of the heart and other organs with the result that the general's death may be expected at any time.

TO GET LICENSE

Druggists Must Proceed as Saloon Keepers Do

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 16.—Druggists must conform to the same procedure as a saloon-keeper to secure a license to engage in the sale of liquor in any form, according to an opinion of State Attorney General Wm. B. Greenough submitted to the Providence police commission today, his opinion on the question having been requested by the commission. The opinion of the attorney general concerns the recent enactment by the general assembly in prescribing a $25 liquor license fee for druggists.

The question did not arise publicly until Governor Utter called attention to the fact that town councils and other licensing authorities had granted licenses merely upon an investigation of the applications, no advertisement of the fact as required by law, which might afford time for the presentation of a sufficient number of remonstrances to prevent the granting of such a license, having taken place.

The decision affects 11 sections of the state.

WOMAN CALLS AT WHITE HOUSE TO TAKE ROOSEVELT'S PLACE.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Carrying with her a document signed by Alexander M. Templeton, chief burgess of Washington, Pa., who certifies that she is sane, Mrs. Sarah Comstock, 52 years old, called at the White House yesterday to take charge of President Roosevelt's office. She was met in the main corridor of the White House by Secret Service Officer Tyree, who took her to police headquarters for investigation as to her sanity. Later she was sent to the house of detention.

Mrs. Comstock says she was elected president of the United States last summer, and Mr. Templeton in his document, which bears what appears to be the seal of the state of Pennsylvania, also swears to this statement.

"Mr. Roosevelt knows that I have been elected, and he has just been filling the office while I settle up my affairs in Pennsylvania," said Mrs. Comstock, as she was placed in a cell at the house of detention. She came to Washington Wednesday and stayed at a cheap lodging house with her 14-year-old son, who accompanied her here.

Three other supposed cranks, all men were arrested in the White House grounds today. One was released. The other two, although apparently harmless, were locked up pending an inquiry as to their antecedents.

O'Connell offered no explanation of his conduct. He was sent to Bellevue by Magistrate Breen to be examined as to his sanity.

"This man came into my place," said the saloon keeper, "and demanded a drink. I asked to see his money. Then he grabbed a bungstarter and broke up a lot of bottles and cut glass and started on the fixtures before I could stop him."

Jordan placed his loss at $300.

DIPLOMATIC CORPS

Held in Washington by the Peace Conference

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Already the epoch-making meeting to be held between the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan, to discuss means of ending the war, as Russia tentatively expresses it, has received a name. In dispatches to Europe from the embassies and legations here, it is briefly termed "the Washington conference."

The announcement of the selection of Washington as the scene of the peace making has caused practically the entire diplomatic corps to suspend indefinitely its program for the summer. Despite the reiteration of both belligerents that they propose to negotiate directly with one another, the European powers are preparing to follow each step of the negotiations as closely and as intelligently as cautious plenipotentiaries will permit, and to do this the European envoys must be on the ground. The informal announcement from the White House that if after convening the conference here the plenipotentiaries were oppressed by the heat they would probably adjourn to some watering place in New England, has aroused the hopes of the envoys of the neutral powers that such will be the decision. Among the diplomats whose plans will probably be disarranged by the coming conference are M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, who if he goes to France this month as he had planned, must return in time for the conference; Baron Speck Von Sternburg, who has planned to spend his leave in Germany, and Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, who had already closed his embassy here when the preliminary negotiations necessitated his return from Lenox. If the conference does not convene until September some of the diplomats will make brief visits to Europe mainly for the purpose of getting in touch with the views of their respective governments.

This will not be the first time the diplomatic corps has been kept in Washington, in the summer, because of important negotiations. The preliminary peace negotiations immediately after the war with Spain and the Boxer troubles, and subsequent negotiations, in the summer of 1900 demonstrated to them the mid-summer conditions here.

Diplomatic activity in the past few weeks has exceeded the record established during the Venezuelan negotiations in the winter of 1903 and has recalled vividly the scenes immediately following the end of the war with Spain. There have been conferences at the White House, between the president and various diplomats, morning, afternoon and evening. In this way the White House is informed daily not only of what Japan wishes Russia to know and vice versa but of the views and suggestions of European capitals generally.

Ambassador Cassini and Minister Takahira have been under a remarkable strain. Cablegrams reach them at almost all hours of the day and night and must be deciphered immediately. Each move here has to be put into cipher and sent to their respective governments, and all this must be done between the incessant calls of diplomats and other callers who have to be seen. All this has weighed heavily on these two men because both are under the care of physicians and both were some time ago ordered to leave Washington for a rest and change.

There is keen interest in the corps over the possibility of a meeting of Count Cassini and Mr. Takahira prior to the arrival of the regular plenipotentiaries. It is believed that the initial meeting between these meetings, if one is decided upon, will be at the White House, where the presence of the president, will avail to mitigate embarrassment.

Next to the belligerents themselves, Germany has shown the most keen interest in the selection of a place for the negotiations. From the outset she has both here and at St. Petersburg and Tokio exerted powerful influence to get the negotiators to Washington. It was the emperor's belief that only in Washington—would the negotiators be free from the unsolicited interference of neutral powers. This same fear of outside interference caused Germany to assist the president at every step in his efforts to bring the belligerents together. More than a month ago rumors that several powers were prepared to act jointly as peacemakers reached the German government, and its suspicions of the motives were aroused. Only the president acting as "the friendly channel of communication" Germany took the ground that China's integrity would be assured and that no European power would obtain a commission for its part in the task of ending the war.

George E. Grenier Made Timely Rescue

George E. Grenier saved a boy from drowning in the Merrimack river yesterday afternoon. He was paddling down the river with two boys in a canoe and was nearly opposite the lower part of the boulevard where several boys were in swimming, when there was a loud cry for help from about the middle of the stream.

It seems that the swimmer had been dared to swim across the river and back without stopping and was nearly exhausted on the trip back. Grenier upon hearing the cries saw the boy struggling in the water and paddled with all possible speed and managed to reach just about the time he was going down. The boy was brought to the shore and after a little rest decided that he was none the worst for his trip.

I., June 16.—Charles Haynes, aged 20 years, who gives his home as Portland, Maine, was arraigned in district court here today, on five counts of larceny, pleaded guilty to all the charges, was fined $20 and costs on the three lesser charges and held for the grand jury on the other two. Haynes' method consisted in engaging a room in a lodging house, to ransack the rooms of other lodgers and then to quietly take his leave. Four lodging houses were thus victimized, a total of nearly $200 being taken from five different lodgers.

COLORED MAN ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE.

READING, Pa., June 16.—Samuel Grenson, colored, was today acquitted of the murder of John Edwards. Mrs. Kate Edwards, wife of the murdered man, whose testimony convicted Grenson, over three years ago, today completely exonerated him. Mrs. Edwards is under sentence of death and it is expected that the governor soon will fix the date for her execution.

FLAG HONORED

PATRIOTIC EXERCISES BY RELIEF CORPS.

—A patriotic celebration in honor of flag day was held last evening in Post 120 hall, by James A. Garfield Relief Corps, 33.

The hall was crowded and the patriotic utterance of the several speakers were heard with manifest enthusiasm.

The speakers were Mayor Casey, Rev. C. E. Fisher, Rev. George F. Kenngott and Commander Royal S. Ripley of Post 120.

The exercises opened with a pretty salute to the flag by all present. Mrs. Lostura Parker had charge of the exercises and introduced Mayor Casey, who said in part:

"The flag is the symbol by which we designate our country. It stands for all that is near and dear to us. It means that under its protecting folds the poor and oppressed of all lands can find an asylum where they are the equals of every man. That flag is known and honored throughout the world. It has never been stained by a dishonorable or ignoble deed, and never will be if American patriotism remains at its high standard."

Rev. George F. Kenngott and Rev. C. E. Fisher made stirring addresses.

Mrs. O. A. Gelino sang. Mrs. E. B. Berry, the national press correspondent of the Relief Corps, addressed the meeting. Walter Shepard, Miss Annabel Savage and the Misses Viola and Stella Marshall sang. Frank Riggs, the bugler of the Sixth regiment in Porto Rico, gave some bugle calls.

WARNING

RUSSIA ADVISED TO APPOINT STRONGEST ENVOYS.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 16.—12:25 p. m. The announcement that Emperor Nicholas had accepted the resignation of his uncle, Grand Duke Alexis as high admiral, created a great sensation when it became known today, but the announcement came too late for comment in the morning papers.

Commenting on the selection of Washington as the place of meeting for the peace plenipotentiaries, the Novoe Vremiya calls upon Russian diplomacy to prepare to struggle seriously and not repeat the drifting policy which the Russian diplomats followed before the war, to decide what Russia wants and to act accordingly.

The Russ dwells on the necessity for selecting the ablest men available to represent Russia at the Washington meeting. "Since they may have to conclude a peace which will determine for many years Russia's position in the far east."

The Bourse Gazette demands that men representing "new" and, not old Russia, shall be sent. The paper adds:

"The other powers are already expressing fears that Russia and Japan will arrive at a rapprochement which will decide the destiny of eastern Asia. These fears should be a powerful instrument in the hands of the Russian plenipotentiaries."

The Listok says the world formerly manifested alarm at "the Russian advance" eastward, but seems now to be indifferent to "Japan's advance" westward through Korea and Manchuria.

"In 1895," the paper continues, "Germany, France and Russia protested against Japan exploiting China. Today no power comes forward to stay Japan's victorious march. Russia stands alone and a peace may be forced upon her which will be prejudicial to the interests of Europe."

The latest news from the front indicates that the rainy season is beginning sooner than usual. Already heavy storms have occurred, and if the down pour continues the military operations necessarily will come to a standstill without an armistice, a state of affairs which will last long enough for the plenipotentiaries to meet.

There is some talk that Foreign Minister Lamsdorff himself may be one of the plenipotentiaries.

WOMAN A PRISONER ON WEDDING EVE.

FOUND DYNAMITE

Three Schoolboys Were Badly Injured

BOSTON, June 16—Three schoolboys were injured today in Roxbury by the explosion of a stick of dynamite, which one of them had found in a vacant field. None was seriously hurt. The injured are: Edward Lynch, 11 years of age, fingers blown off, amputation of hands probably necessary.

Bernard Cooper, 7, badly burned about hands and face.

Irving Poole, 11, wrists fractured.

The boys were ignorant of the nature of their find. They grouped in the middle of a street surrounded by a large number of other boys and Lynch broke the stick of the explosive upon the pavement, a violent detonation following. All the injured were removed to a hospital.

RELEASED

JOHN MATTRESS, SUSPECTED MURDERER, SET FREE.

OSSIPEE, N. H., June 16.—The detention in the Carroll County jail here, for seven weeks of John E. Mattress of Center Ossipee, who was arrested on the charge of having murdered Ezra Dodge of Tamworth in September, 1900, has ended in the release of Mattress. The authorities had intended to place the case before the grand jury which has been in session here but they were unable to find sufficient evidence to warrant such a step. Accordingly, it was decided to discharge Mattress. The grand jury has ended its session. Mattress has maintained his innocence of the crime charged against him ever since his arrest. It is understood the county authorities will make additional investigations in the hope of finding some clew to the indentity of the person who was responsible for the death of Dodge.

THE SULTAN

HAS HAD CONFERENCES WITH GERMAN MINISTER.

FEZ, Morocco, June 16.—Much significance is attached to the numerous private audiences which Count Von Ettaenbach-Ashold, head of the German mission, has had with the sultan since arrival here of British Minister G. A. Lowther. There is reason to believe the principal subject of discussion has been Germany's willingness to help the Moorish government in the work of reform and it is understood that in the event of the ultimate rejection of the proposed international conference in Morocco, Germany will make definite proposals to undertake the re-organization of certain government departments now included in the French reform project.

EASY JOB

NO TROUBLE AT ALL TO ROB A DUCHESS.

LONDON, June 16.—A vagabond laborer named Chapman was arraigned in the police court today for the burglary of the duchess of Westminster's jewels, which were stolen from her London residence on May 30.

One of the jewels was offered at a jeweler's shop for valuation, and that led to Chapman's arrest. He made a statement, showing that the tales recently printed about how carefully Grosvenor house was guarded were entirely baseless.

Chapman on the evening of May 30 passed through a side door leading into the basement and then went up an unused staircase. When the night watchman crossed the court at 2.30 Chapman went to the duchess' room, pocketed the jewelry and departed the way he had come. He then went to Cambridge and left the stuff with a tailor named White, who buried it.

White confessed and showed the police where the valuables were buried. He is now under arrest.

THE LATE ALBERT LIBBY.

OFFICER LIBBY

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon

HAD SERVED SINCE 1869

Leaves a Record of Honorable Service

Patrolman Albert E. Libby, one of the oldest members of the Lowell police department, having been in service in the department for over 36 years, passed away yesterday afternoon at 4.10 o'clock at his home, 61 Eighteenth street.

The deceased had been ill but several weeks, but owing to the fact that the disease which caused his death had been bothering him for a good many years his life was despaired of shortly after he had taken to his bed last week.

Mr. Libby was 72 years of age and had watched for 17 years continuously in Centralville. Almost everyone knew the big hearted and jovial policeman who patrolled the Centralville district and his absence from his regular beat will be felt with regret by all the residents of that section of the city. He had lived the greater part of his life in Centralville and on one occasion when there was a shakeup in the police department, and Mr. Libby was assigned to a beat in some other part of the city, a petition was soon started by residents of Centralville to have him restored and the petition was soon granted.

Many a person who has tread the wrong path had been led back by the deceased officer who was always full of sound advice and always thought it better to try and lift a man up who had fallen than have him arrested and brought into disgrace.

On Jan. 9th of this year Officer Libby celebrated the 36th anniversary of his appointment to the force. He quietly observed the occasion and expected to observe several other annuals.

He was appointed on the police force January 9, 1869 by Mayor Folsom. He has served since that time practically without a break, and has been considered one of the most efficient men on the force. Seventeen of those eventful years have been spent on the Centralville beat, and there is hardly a man, woman or child on the north side of the river who did not know him. He was never a demonstrative man, but he had a congenial personality, and was gentle and kind even in the performance of duty.

Albert E. Libby was born in Hartford, Maine, in 1833. He came to Lowell in 1852 and went to work in the Appleton mills. He was employed there as a watchman, and served faithfully for five years. Counting this in with his 36 years on the police force, and his years spent this total 41. On April 20, 1857, he started for New York and San Francisco and spent 10 years on the Pacific coast. His appointment to the local force came in 1869, twelve years later.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Mabel Libby, with whom he lived up to the time of his death, and Mrs. George E. Burns, both of Eighteenth street.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home in Eighteenth street.

MEMORIAL

IN HONOR OF THE REVOLUTIONARY HEROES.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, June 17—A bronze memorial statue in honor of the revolutionary heroes of the town of Framingham was dedicated today in Buckminster Square in the center of the town. A parade was held in which companies E of this town, M of Milford and F of Marlboro, Sixth regiment, M. V. M., participated together with members of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans. The oration of the day was given by Lieut. Governor Curtis Guild, Jr.

The statue which is that of a blacksmith minute man was designed by Mrs. Alice Ruggles Kitson and cast in bronze with a granite pedestal.

GUILTY

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., June 17.—No further defense was offered by Harry McCormack when his trial on the charge of having broken from the Middlebury jail, while awaiting trial on the charge of forgery was resumed here today before Judge Watson of the supreme court. Judge Watson occupied two minutes in his charge to the jury and six minutes later the jury reported a verdict of guilty. McCormack then was arraigned on the charge of forgery, pleaded guilty to two of the five counts of the indictment against him and was remanded back to jail. Sentence in both cases was deferred.

HEART FAILURE

PHILIP WELLER OF MELROSE DROPPED DEAD.

MELROSE, Mass., June 17.—Just as Philip Weller, 23 years old, was about to step from a boat on L. Pond in this city to a float early today, he fell backward and went into the water. Companions held out an oar, but Weller made no attempt to grasp it and the others then quickly pulled him out of the water. Two physicians were hastily summoned, but Weller was dead before their arrival. They pronounced death due to heart failure. With several others Weller had been out in the boat for several hours after midnight.

GONE TO JAIL

SIBYL KELLY GIVEN A SENTENCE.

Sibyl Kelly, a young woman well known down town and with quite a record, has at last landed in jail for yesterday in the superior court she was sentenced by Judge Sherman to six months in jail. She was found guilty of cohabitation with George Richards and Richards was sentenced to jail for one year.

The Kelly woman will be remembered as the one who was horsewhipped on the steps of her home in High street about a year ago. The horsewhipping was done by the wife of a mill corporation employe, the affections of whose husband she had alienated. Then the man was brought into court for not paying for a sealskin cape which he gave to Mrs. Kelly.

OFFER CASH PRIZE

The Lowell Historical society has voted to offer a cash prize to the members of the graduating class of the Lowell High school, for the best essay on some local historical subject. The matter has been referred to a committee consisting of Alfred P. Sawyer, chairman, Hon. S. P. Hadley and Alfred L. Bachelier of the Green school. STOLE GAS

MAN WAS RELEASED AND THEN ARRESTED AGAIN.

FALL RIVER, June 17.—Edward Crosson was arrested last night on a warrant alleging the larceny of gas from the Fall River Gas Works company, valued at $324.14. He was bailed out. Last March employes of the gas company found in Crosson's cellar, they allege, an arrangement by which Crosson tapped a service pipe and burned the gas in a furnace to heat his house. Crosson was arrested and fined $250. On appeal Judge Pierce held that the special statute did not apply and ordered Crosson's discharge. The present warrant was then secured.

TO LOCOMOTOR ATAXICS!

After myself suffering for ten years the tortures that only an ataxic can know, I have been relieved of all pain and restored to health and strength by an easily obtained and inexpensive treatment. The prescriptions which cured me (which can be filled by any druggist) I will mail free to any fellow sufferer who sends me a self addressed, stamped envelope. E. P. Burnham, Delmar, N. Y.

Reaping Benefit

From the Experience of Lowell People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Lowell residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. 'Tis emphatic and convincing. No better proof can be had.

Mrs. Wm. A. Buckley, of 9 Chestnut street, Lowell, Mass., says: "Both my husband and myself are very strong advocates of Doan's Kidney Pills. Mr. Buckley took them some six years ago and was completely cured of kidney complaint and backache. He doctored and wore bandages and used liniments and other remedies but nothing did him any good until he got Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store on Merrimack St. The use of three boxes cured him and he regards it a pleasure to tell others of the great value of this medicine. Some time after he was cured I was taken with backache and other noticeable symptoms of kidney complaint. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon banished the backache and corrected all other difficulties. I take a few when I feel that the kidneys are sluggish and they always tone me up and make me feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

LOUIS PAYETTE, RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

NARROW ESCAPE

If four-year-old Louise Payette should live to be 100 years old she will never have a narrower escape from death than she had yesterday, when a great touring car passed over her, rendering almost speechless the persons who witnessed it.

Little Louise was crossing the street at the corner of Spaulding and Merrimack streets and did not see the great touring car that was coming down the street at full speed from Pawtucket street. It is not known if the little girl threw herself down in front of the machine or if she was knocked down. The fact remains, however, that the machine passed over her without doing her injury. She lay between the wheels and no part of the machine touched her.

The machine was driven by a Mr. Eldridge of Boston upon whom no blame attaches. He stopped the car and did all that one in his position could do. He did not see the child in time to stop the machine, and if any medical aid was required he was willing to pay for it. Louise Payette's parents live in Bilbeault's block, Moody street.

BIGGEST DAY

THE STREETS IN MEDFORD WERE CROWDED.

MEDFORD, Mass., June 17.—A salute of 21 guns fired at sunrise by Lawrence battery opened today's observances in this city, the most elaborate of those held this week in honor of the two hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary of the settlement of Medford. The fact that this was Bunker Hill day, observed as a holiday in Boston and vicinity, made the celebration more general than on previous days and the streets and play-grounds were thronged. The leading feature of the forenoon was a parade through the main part of the city participated in by a military brigade, a civic division and floats representing the various trades of Medford and the city departments. General G. Whitney commanded the military division, which headed the parade and which included members of the Fifth regiment, M. V. M., heavy artillery of the First regiment, Roxbury horse guards, signal corps of the Second brigade, naval brigade, High school brigade, civil and Spanish war veterans and Sons of Veterans. Six bands and drum corps accompanied the long line. A ball game was also played on the common during the forenoon between Arlington and Medford High schools. Later a long program of athletic games was carried out at Playstead, West Medford.

A band concert and fireworks on the common this evening will end the day's celebration and special services in the various churches tomorrow will bring the anniversary observances to a close.

JOHN MYLES

MONUMENT TO FOUNDER OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH IN MASSACHUSETTS.

BARRINGTON, R. I., June 17.—An interesting ceremony from a historical viewpoint took place at the Town hall and the Tylers Point cemetery here today when a monument to Rev. John Myles, founder of the First Baptist church in Massachusetts and Rhode Island was dedicated. The exercises were under the auspices of the Barrington Historical Antiquarian society and the Bristol County Historical society. At the ceremonies in the Town hall, Thomas W. Bicknell, of Providence, president of both historical associations, presided, and delivered a brief address.

Mr. Myles died in 1683.

LADD AND WHITNEY CIRCLE.

The regular meeting of Ladd & Whitney circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., was held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The president, Miss Ford, being absent, Vice-President Mrs. George Burtt presided. A letter from Post 185 was read expressing their gratitude toward the circle for providing such a bountiful collation on Memorial Day. There was also an invitation from Wauchatchie command, U. V. U., extended to the circle to attend the memorial services to be held at the Eliot church tomorrow night.

The department corresponding secretary, Mrs. May Lee De Sorgher of Boston, was present and addressed the meeting. After the meeting adjourned the annual strawberry festival was held from 6 p.m. to 8. Then an enjoyable entertainment followed. The young people of the First Congregational church presented a laughable farce entitled "The Peddler's Parade." Those taking part were: Clarence Cutler, Edith Maker, Chester Martel, Arvella Peabody, Ralph Clark, Blanche Atkinson, Ella Martel, Iva Connell, Alice Cochrane, Ed. Nelson, Will Nelson, George Mevis, Bessie Worrell, Wilbur Johnson, Walter Wilson, Lottie Spriggs. Then followed a vocal solo by Miss Nera Johnson, piano accompaniment by Mrs. O. C. Johnson; a "medical lecture," Edward Nelson; and solo by Will Nelson.

ATTACKED WOMAN AND BIT HER SEVERAL TIMES.

TREMONT, June 17.—A vicious mongrel dog broke from his chain at Pelrceville Thursday, as Mrs. Samuel Gurney, a young married woman, was entering the dooryard, and bit her eight times upon the leg and arm.

Mrs. Gurney lies in a critical condition. Her husband is employed in the machine shop at the Tremont nail works. The dog's owner is Miss Edith Davis, daughter of Nehemiah Davis, a neighbor, in Briggs' lane.

Mrs. Gurney has been bitten by the dog before, the neighbors say. It has been a terror in the neighborhood for a long time, since Mr. "Wat" Cobb presented it when young to Miss Davis. It was generally tied up.

When the dog attacked Mrs. Gurney Thursday she grabbed his collar and held on, in spite of his bites. It took the combined efforts of two women to choke the beast into submission. The dog has been killed.

BACK TO LIFE

Thomas McDermott Nearly Drowned

RESUSCITATED AT THE HOSPITAL

After a Long Period of Unconsciousness

Thomas McDermott, aged 22 years and residing at 316 Adams street, had a narrow escape from being drowned last night, and in fact was brought back to life after it was believed that he had been drowned.

McDermott with a number of friends was swimming in the western canal near the Red Bridge near Walker street last evening about 8 o'clock. He got some distance away from the bank, when his friends heard him calling for assistance. Several of his companions went into the water and soon reached the place where he was, but he had sunk beneath the surface of the water and owing to the darkness of the night they had some difficulty in locating him.

He was finally brought to the bank in an unconscious condition and it was believed by all that he had been drowned, but the chance of life remaining was taken and every effort was made by artificial respiration to save him.

For half an hour his friends worked over him, and put on his clothes to keep warmth in the body, but no sign of life had appeared when a carriage arrived to convey him to the hospital. He was hurried to St. John's and on arrival there the efforts toward resuscitation were continued.

After half an hour more of effort there was a faint sign of life and this urged the physicians to continue their work. Consciousness gradually returned and in half an hour more McDermott was again able to sit up and after an hour he had so far recovered strength that he was able to return to his home.

HEAVY STORM

THIRTEEN YACHTS STARTED IN THE BIG RACE.

DOVER, Eng., June 17.—Thirteen yachts started from here today in the annual race from Dover to Heligoland, a Prussian island in the North sea, for Emperor William's cup in a heavy rain storm and with a light wind blowing. Shortly afterwards at about noon, the American yachts Atlantic and Apache and the British yacht Valhalla got away in a fog over the same course for a special cup offered by Emperor William for the auxiliary yachts which participated in the recent trans-Atlantic race.

WITH THE HORSES.

Outside of the Suburban the betting was comparatively light at Sheepshead, Thursday. Though the running of the first race was put back fifteen minutes because of the strike of the Mets, there was practically no big betting on that event at all. The handicap was the chief magnet for the money. Joe Hayman bet $2000 on Beldame, Henry Grann and H. R. Shaffer placed $1000 each on the mare, who also carried $50 bets made by Newton Bennington, George Newton, W. Gratz, Joe Vendig and others. The clubhouse commissioners at the last moment wagered $5000 on Beldame, and when the horses were at the post Delhi and Beldame were equal favorites at threes.

Proper had the support of many smart speculators. Wheelock bet $1500 on him, Honest John Kelly, Eddie Burke, Kid Rogers, Sammy Carrol, Abe Lonegan and Billy Hayes all bet $1000 on the Prestonpans horse. Dave Johnson wagered $1500 on Jacquin. Jesse Lewisohn went to Delhi for $2000, Sol. Lichtenstein and Smith Keime for $1000 each, Bill Porter for $1500 and Orlando Jones and Bill Cowan for smaller amounts.

Bennington and Lichtenstein cashed on Ivan the Terrible in the first race, with Dave Johnson splitting $1000 on Jocund. When "Diamond Jim" Brady's Water Light won the second race Jesse Lewisohn cleared up $7000. Tommy Meehan, who possibly bet for Brady, had $1500 on the colt, and Bennington $500. Wheelock lost $2000 on Agile, Eddie Burke $1000 Joe Hayman $1000, Bob Tucker $1000 and Timothy D. Sullivan $500. Orlando Jones and Henry Griffin went to Sinister with Tom Costigan, Max Blumenthal and Alex Shields playing Uncas. Sam Hildreth split $500 on Jake Sanders.

George C. Bennett, the winner of the double event, was played by all the western operators. The clubhouse commission was $5000. Joe Hayman bet $2000 on Bennett. Sol. Lichtenstein placed $1000 on Bohemian. Counsellor Litchtenstein took Bohemian for $500. Morris Stack bet $1500 on Jerry Wernberg, who was also backed by Johnny Coleman and Ike Thompson.

The fifth race was a gold mine for those who backed John E. Madden's Timber, for even after the colt ran away and his price went up to 2½ to 1 after closing at 7 to 5, his supporters went up and down the line and backed him down again. George Wheelock placed $2500 on Timber; so did Joe Hayman, with Charles Head Smith wagering $5000, Kid Rogers $2500, Sol Lichtenstein $1000; Sammy Carroll $1000, Joe Vendig, Fred Lowe, John Waldman, R. Reilly, John Madden, Fred Johnson and Abe Lonergan $500 each. Bob Tucker, John E. Moran and Johnny Coleman played accountant. John A. Drake bet $2000 on Memories in the last race. Charles Head Smith and Lewisohn also backed the mare heavily, with Wheelock playing Orly II., Honest John Kelly taking Pretension and Sam Hildreth Action.

The Suburban Handicap was worth $17,000 to the winner. This turf classic was first run in 1884, the winners being Gen. Monroe, Pontiac, Troubadour, Eurus, Elkwood, Raceland, Salvator, Loantaka, Montana, Lowlander, Ramapo, Lazzarone, Henry of Navarre, Ben Brush, Tillo, Imp, Kinley Mack, Alcedo, Gold Heels, Africander and Hermis, who holds the record for the race, 2.05.

There are 203 bookmakers of all classes operating on the track, including 74 Mets and 10 non-members in the front line, 53 in the back line, 18 standees and 109 in the field.

Others present from out of town yesterday were Colonel and Mrs. Frank Dalton and Miss Dalton of Salem, Mrs. George L. Goodale, wife of Prof. Goodale of Harvard college; Miss Minnie Gilman of Cambridge, Mrs. Hobson's sister Mrs. L. D. Donnett of Saco, Me., Miss Anna Mueller of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Hobson's brother, Dr. Adolph Kettenbell of Cambridge. A large number of Lowell friends called to offer congratulations.

The library had bouquets of pinks and maidenhair ferns and of buttercups. In the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served, there were clusters of Fair Maid pinks and of daisies. Miss Alice Littlefield, Miss Elizabeth Abbott, Miss Gertrude Abbott, Miss Bonney Lilley and Mr. Nelson Coburn, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Hobson in entertaining guests, and Master Ralph Coburn was page. Mr. and Mrs. Hobson were recipients of a large number of beautiful sterling silver gifts, several books, a liberal amount of money and many lovely flowers.

REAL NOVELTY

INAUGURATED BY BELL CLOTHING COMPANY.

The big combination sale inaugurated today at the Bell Shoe & Clothing Co. has for its inception an original and novel idea. Each department manager is responsible for the success and gross amount of sales in his own department, having received full power to make such price concessions and offer the biggest bargains imaginable to make a big showing. The following is taken from a few remarks to a Sun reporter: Mr. T. G. Driver, head of the ladies' department says:

I am pleased to be in a position to show what I can accomplish in my department and have every confidence in the bargains I can offer my friends and patrons. It comes very opportune as my stock consists of the newest and brightest seasonable garments for present wear.

Mr. M. Kelly, head of the men's clothing department, says: 'At no time of the year could this sale have been more appropriate. Backward season, cold weather, etc., has left us with more spring clothing than we ought to have and as I've got carte blanche on prices, there'll be some tall hustling in this department.

Mr. A. Flanders, head of the shoe department, says: A snap—well I should say so. There'll be more bargains sold in my department than ever before, because I am determined, irrespective of cost, to make this the record-breaking era of the department.

Mr. J. Corrigan, head of the boys' and children's department, says: I am going to boom this department to the top notch. I'll set the other fellows such a pace on bargain getting that they'll have to trot a fast gait not to get distanced.

Mr. E. Mountain, head of the furnishing goods department, says: With the free hand given me by the firm, I'm going to give the boys some prices on straw hats and fancy fixings that'll do their heart good. Swell negligee shirts, neckwear, fancy hose, etc., all included in this sale.

What Mr. M. M. Jacobs, general manager, says: I am glad to see my colleagues take hold of this innovation sale with such zest and vim, and while, of course, the rivalry is of a friendly nature, each department manager vies with the other in making a higher gross return, and while the people of Lowell reap the benefit of the cut prices, the popularity of the "Bell" and the introduction of new customers will ultimately repay us for the sacrifice of profit. The Bell Shoe and Clothing Co., 31 to 41 Merrimack street.

FREDERICK AYER CONTRIBUTES TO FAIR OF AYER EMPLOYES.

Mrs. Bertha Lee, who had charge of the recent bazaar given by the employes of the J. C. Ayer company in aid of the Lowell General hospital, has received a check for $100 from Frederick Ayer with a kind letter complimenting the employes for their good work. The check swells the receipts of the affair to $800.

The J. C. Ayer company is shut down today. Just prior to Washington's birthday the employes were given their choice of holidays and they unanimously declared themselves in favor of the 17th.

GET OUT TO CHURCH AND THEN TO THE WOODS ON SUNDAY.

Get out of the crowded city on Sunday. Go to church and then to the woods or the country away from the bustle of city life.

For the million who toil incessantly during the week, there is but one day of rest—Sunday—and a great deal depends upon how they use that day, whether to their detriment or to their benefit. To loiter around home, in the same environment, unsanitary mayhap it be, to seek no recreation, no change of scene, no refreshment from the invigorating breezes of the woods, the mountains or seashore, would be wasting the opportunities for gaining health, strength and happiness and at the same time for prolonging life. It would be wilful waste of one of heaven's best gifts, the divinely appointed Sabbath, when the man and woman who toil during the week are privileged to rest and to recuperate for the work of the ensuing week. The human body and the mind as well is somewhat like a clock. It gets run down at regular intervals or about once a week, and requires renewed energy and inspiration to carry it over the labors, worries and responsibilities of another week.

Sunday then is the time for recharging the storage batteries with the energy needed for the battle of another week.

How is it to be done? What is the best method of spending Sunday?

Where most people profess some form of Christian faith, we presume the first duty will be to provide for the soul the spiritual sustenance needed, for man is a spiritual or supernatural as well as a physical being. The body requires rest, nourishing food and plenty of fresh air; the mind requires relaxation and change of scene that will overcome that mental occupation that is the dread of intellectual workers and so difficult to cast off.

Of what use is it to the mental toiler to have a respite if the mental "wheels" are still in operation, if he is still pondering over the matters that engaged his attention during the past week or that may engage it during the coming week.

Hence to obtain real mental or even bodily rest the occupation of the week must be for the nonce forgotten and left behind; for mental work is sometimes quite as exhausting as physical labor.

Then to rest properly on Sunday, the work of the week must be forgotten. This cannot be done by poking around the office, looking over the books seeing what was done wrongly and what might have been improved upon. The best way to overcome this tendency is to take to the woods.

The trolley lines have many inviting trips and the companies have provided many delightful resorts. Visit them or else go into the woods, there to commune with Nature in her wildest retreats, to listen to the singing of the birds, the sighing of the pines and enjoy the sweetness and beauty of the flowers and the inspiration of scenic grandeur.

But to the people who live in the congested districts in poor tenements and unsanitary surroundings the opportunity to get out into the woods should not be lost.

If Lowell were situated like Brockton, Quincy, Salem, Malden, Lynn, Gloucester, Boston, and other cities near the sea, we would advise everybody to use the trolleys to get to the beaches—there to enjoy the fresh breezes from the broad Atlantic; but being rather distant from the seashore the vast majority must be contented with the woods and the summer resorts which have their peculiar attractions as well as the beach.

Stand in one of the great union stations in Boston on a hot day and watch the vast streams of people that keep continually pouring outward to the country and the mountains and the equally vast streams which pour inward to the beaches. The people tire of one thing and seek change of scene which has its beneficial effects; but the poor workingman cannot take long trips. It will serve his purpose best to take his whole family out to the parks or the commons; or, better still, for a trolley ride to the suburbs where all can wander at will in the cool shade and drink in the pure air that is an unknown quantity in the burning streets of the city. When men loiter around their homes on Sunday, they do not feel right and yet they do not know what ails them. To overcome this ennui they have recourse to strong drink and too often by excessive indulgence turn the Sunday into a curse instead of a blessing. Not only do they thus abuse their own physical health, but they spend what should go to buy food or clothing for their families. How much better to go to the woods and return refreshed, good humored, cheerful and happy.

The man who gets out to the woods on Sunday or any other day is not so likely to have that craving for strong drink which is brought on by bad digestion and impure air. A trip to the woods will serve as an excellent tonic for body and mind. It is one of the ways in which the poor family can derive most benefit from the day of rest and fortify themselves most effectually against the inroads of disease. Therefore, let us again advise all who can do so conveniently to take to the woods—get out of the crowded city on Sunday; get out to the forests and parks, to the rivers and mountains, to the summer resorts with their lakes and their fountains, not to engage in roller skating but to rest the body and regale the mind with fine scenery and it may be sacred music that has always the power to charm.

AUTOS IMPORTED

FRANCE HEADS ALL THE OTHER COUNTRIES.

The fact that practically a million dollars' worth of automobiles and parts thereof have been exported from the United States since the beginning of the present calendar year lends interest to the following compilation prepared by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics, showing the imports and exports of automobiles in the commerce of the United States.

The first record of the importation of foreign-built automobiles into the United States was for the fiscal year 1901, when 26 automobiles, valued at $43,126, were imported into the country. Since that year, however, the imports have steadily increased, having grown from 26 in 1901 to 423 in 1904, while their value (including automobile parts) has increased from $47,471 in 1901 to $1,446,301 in the last fiscal year.

During the last fiscal year France supplied 55 per cent. of the importations of automobiles into the United States, the value of the imports from that country being nearly seven times as much as the combined value of the imports from all other countries. From France 368 automobiles, valued at $1,117,494, were imported, while from all other countries the total number was 55, valued at $178,666.

A special compilation recently made by the bureau of statistics shows the ports through which foreign-built automobiles enter the country. New York, Boston, Chicago, Newport, R. I., and Philadelphia are, in the order named, the principal ports for the admission of foreign automobiles into the United States. The number and value imported at each port during the past year were as follows: At New York, 355, valued at $1,106,128; Boston, 41, valued at $121,252; Chicago, 10, valued at $19,597; Newport, R. I., 6, valued at $19,048; and Philadelphia, 4, valued at $17,167; while through the ports of Newark, St. Louis, Mobile, and San Francisco 4 automobiles, with a combined value of $10,568, entered the country.

The rate of duty assessed on importations of automobiles and parts of is 45 per cent. ad valorem, and the aggregate amount of duties paid on the total imports thereof since 1901 is $1,373,835, having been $21,359 in 1901, $247,590 in 1902, $151,050 in 1903, and $650,836 in 1904.

The exportations of automobiles of domestic manufacture have been recorded only since 1902. In that year the total exportation of automobiles and parts thereof was $918,528; in 1903 the total had increased to $1,207,064, and by 1904 the total was $1,895,605; while for the ten months of the fiscal year 1905, for which figures are available, the total is $1,876,063, thus indicating a record of over $2,200,000 for the complete year which ends with the present month.

The United Kingdom and Canada take about three-fourths of the automobiles and parts thereof that are exported from the United States. During the fiscal year 1904 automobiles and parts thereof of domestic manufacture were exported to the value of $1,895,605, of which $1,020,681 went to Europe, mainly to the United Kingdom, $493,730 to North America, principally to the Dominion of Canada, and $376,125 to other countries.

In view of the rapid increase in the use of automobiles in the United States and the large proportion of imported automobiles brought from France, the following extract from Consulaire Versiaged en Berichten, published at Amsterdam, will be of interest. From this statement it will be seen that France, as well as the United States, imports foreign-built automobiles in response to the demand for machines other than of domestic manufacture, and that she also exports far in excess of such importations. The statement is as follows:

According to a statement by the administration of direct taxes, the number of automobiles in France in 1903 was 19,886, or, in round numbers, 20,000. This is a marked increase over the preceding year. In 1899, when the first census of these vehicles was held, their number was 1438; in 1900 it was 2354; in 1901, 3286; in 1902, 11,000 and in 1903, 18,886. The greatest number in any department is 4510, in the department of Siene. As automobiles are an article of export and of great utility to the less wealthy class, it is hoped that a drop in price will popularize their use.

One incident of the industry is the decrease in the number of horses. From 1903 to 1904 the number of horses in Paris dropped from 91,016 to 90,141, a difference of 869. In 1901 there were 133,842, making a decrease in 1904 of 43,745 as compared with 1901. At Lyons the same thing was observed, although there the underground railway may have contributed. The 20,000 vehicles represent a value of about 40 million dollars.

During the first two months of 1904 automobiles to the value of $208,316 were imported, as compared with $128,539 and $58,816 for the same periods in 1902 and 1903. Although there has thus been an increase in the value of imports, still it bears no comparison with the value of exports, which for the same two months were $3,267,345 in 1901, $4,070,915 in 1903, and $3,462,913 in 1902.

NEW CUBA

NUMBER OF AMERICANS HAVE SETTLED THERE.

HAVANA, June 16.—Cuba has no compiled statistics which would serve as a trustworthy basis for statements concerning the number of Americans who have settled in the island or for estimates of the land which has been bought by American citizens during the last six years, yet both form a noticeable element in the Cuba of today. It is certain that the settlers are to be estimated in thousands rather than in hundreds, and it is possible, and even probable, that somewhere between 7 per cent. and 10 per cent. of the entire area of the island is owned outright by Americans.

The acquisition of land has followed a variety of channels. The Cuba Railway company, organized under a New Jersey charter, purchased the land for its line, 450 miles in length, and has bought various tracts along its route. The so-called tobacco trust has purchased a large number of scattered tracts in the tobacco areas. A few companies have bought sugar lands with a very considerable total acreage. Other tracts, large and small, have been bought for purposes of cultivation, for cattle raising, for timber operations, mining operations or for speculation pure and simple. A few tracts have been taken with a view to the erection of winter residences, and one costly building of this kind is already well under way at Mariel, about 25 miles west of Havana.

Another channel appears in the form of speculative investment in large tracts for sub-division and sale to small holders. Some of these have been little if anything better than deliberate swindles. Others have been started in a mixture of good faith and general ignorance. It is impossible to say how many buyers have been victimized by such enterprises. Some have come to occupy the tracts which they have bought solely on the basis of lurid descriptions of glorious climate and wonderful soil, spread before them in pamphlets prepared for such as they by the promoters of the enterprise. Many have gone home again disgusted with their experience and embittered by their losses. Some have stayed to fight it out because no other course was open to them, and a few have been fairly successful.

There is really very little reason for any American emigration to Cuba. Probably 95 per cent. of those who come do so with the idea that the natural richness of the island is so great that wealth will come to them without obliging them to contribute any of that unnatural aid known as hard work. Disappointment will surely be one of the principal crops secured by any who come with that idea in their heads. Any man who believes that Cuba is an exception to the fundamental law that the cost of bread is the sweat of the brow should at once revise his opinion. Cuban opportunities furnish ground for arguments and inducements whose soundness is apparent rather than actual. On a basis of modest capital backed by intelligent industry the average American will do quite as well in his own land as he will in Cuba or Porto Rico or the Philippines. Most Americans will do even better at home.

LAWYER PATRICK

NOTIFIED OF DATE OF HIS EXECUTION.

OSSINING, N. Y., June 17.—Official notice of the date of his execution for the murder of millionaire William Marsh Rice was served upon Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, in his cell in Sing Sing yesterday. The date is Aug. 7. Patrick did not seem to be in the least disturbed by the warden's announcement. He said that the court had nothing else to do but to set a new date for the carrying out of the sentence, but he intimated that the warden would not be called upon to enforce the death penalty on that date and that steps would be taken at once to secure a further delay by making another appeal for a new trial.

The letter was accepted and placed on file.

The secretaries are incensed at the criticism made by the manufacturers that they are responsible for the large number of operatives that have left the city. The secretaries deny the allegation.

CHICAGO, June 17.—A check for $75,000 is said to have been given by Charles F. Thaw of New York to Frances Rush, formerly a chorus girl, who received a divorce from Thaw yesterday. The divorce was granted by Judge Albert Akers on statutory grounds, Thaw making no defense. No mention of alimony was made in the decree given Mrs. Thaw, but her lawyer declares a check for the sum named was given to her by Thaw, the lawyer negotiating the transaction. HOW TO SUCCEED

Points for Young Men to Conslder

"That article recently printed in the 'Points for Subordinates' on the discouraging note offered by public men, by saying that not all can hope to attain the highest eminence, reminds me of the army," said a veteran of the civil war last night. "When a regiment or a brigade was lined up to go into battle, we felt certain that some of us were going to be killed. As a matter of fact, some were killed in every engagement that I entered. I was a private and went where commanded. On more than one occasion I have seen our solid ranks thinned out and comrades on both sides go down, yet it never occurred to me that I would be killed. That was the chance a soldier didn't like to consider. The moment he began to feel that he would be shot, his knees began to tremble, his aim was vague and his courage insecure. While we knew to a dead moral certainty that some of us would never sit around the camp-fire again, every soldier cultivated the feeling that he and he alone of the regiment was going to be the one to escape the enemy's bullets.

"That sort of a feeling and that determination made the battle hot and long and often brought victory. As I was going to say, it is the sentiment to be applied in the ordinary peaceful affairs of life. When I see a lot of young men together listening to wise counsel, I like to have them told that each one is in all likelihood the man who will escape the enemy's bullets; that each is the lucky one; and that there is no doubt that each can reach the highest goal—it all depends on the effort put forth. As your writer suggested, some of them will thereby shoot pretty tall trees, as all are taught to aim high."

UP BY HARD WORK.

"The Memoirs of an American," a serial ranging in the Saturday Evening Post, could be read by every young man, making an earnest beginning in life, with considerable profit. It is only a plain narrative of a boy who began at the bottom in Chicago and by his own sturdy determination pulled himself to wealth and position. The story is of interest because it reads like truth. The incidents related are so commonplace and so matter-of-fact that it requires no imagination to believe them. The lesson of the story is especially valuable to the young man because it shows how success can be achieved by work and struggle without the entrance at any point of the factor of luck or chance.

Harrington, the American who succeeded, won for himself by following the plain signposts of success. He worked diligently, enthusiastically in every position that he held from delivery boy in a meat market to the top of the packing-house ladder. In addition to this, he saved money out of every salary that he received. Even at the beginning, when he earned barely enough for support, he saved something. He studied his business constantly and thoroughly, and he strove to please every customer with whom he came into contact. But even with these virtues, his success was not meteoric. He rose only by slow and laborious degrees. Every additional prize was wrested from the world with effort; every step upward represented toil. Harrington won because he understood his business and because he never relaxed his efforts. He won the fight because he fought intelligently and valiantly.

The point in this story that should especially impress itself upon the youth is the fact that from the first, from the time when he walked the streets of Chicago without a roof and without the price of a meal, Harrington never doubted his ability to succeed, never lost his determination to win wealth. It is this fixed purpose that tells for success. Pretty nearly anything that a strong man determines to secure he can get if his determination and effort never flag. It is the serious perseverance of purpose that is the chief characteristic of the Japanese people. It is this that has stood for much of their success in war and peace.

The youth who starts in determined to succeed, confident that he can and will succeed, and who never relaxes effort for an instant, will, like Harrington in the story referred to, land at the top.

TAILORS DIVULGE SOME POINTS.

At their banquet the other night the merchant tailors of New York, who are interested in such things, had some matters under discussion that young men could profit by hearing. Said one:

"There is no man in business who does not have to give and get credit. Credit is the cheapest thing in the world. We are taken at our own valuation. The young man who seeks to sell his services with the air of 'Kick me before somebody else does,' gets a menial's job and pay for the rest of his days. The well-dressed, clean fellow with an air of confidence will be his boss. We have heard all our lifetime that nine out of every ten business men fail. Statistics prove this untrue. About five out of every hundred fail. Out of 1,500,000 business men but 60,000 failed last year."

JUST AS YOU ARE!

"If you are willing to make a door mat of yourself, do not be surprised if people wipe their feet on you and kick you aside," says Success.

GOOD BUSINESS

REPORTED BY THE JOBBERS IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Jobbers had no complaints to make yesterday over the manner in which summer business is moving along. Cooler weather in a measure kept the city retail buyer out of the market, but mail orders, especially from the south, were very encouraging. From all the principal southern cities very favorable reports have been received. Business in New Orleans has been particularly good. Several of the department stores report May sales as ahead of last year for the same period by over 30 per cent. Salesmen just back from southern trips report that the business outlook all through the south was never brighter. One salesman who travels eight months in the year through southern territory, and who has been doing this for past thirty years, said yesterday:

"I have just returned from a two months' trip through the south, and have booked excellent orders both for current needs and next fall. I have watched the south develop for over 25 years, and people in the north don't realize the enormous resources and opportunities there. Many of the largest cotton mills in this country have realized that they must get in closer touch with the section which produces raw material. They have gone south. In certain sections towns are springing up around these new plants. Many hands are employed, and good wages are being paid. This has helped to put more money in circulation, and has naturally helped the retail storekeeper. In former years the retailer depended largely upon the farmer, who received money for his cotton or other products once or twice a year. This meant that the retailer must give credit and carry his account for eight months, or may be a year. Today there same retailers are doing a large cash business, wherever there is a cotton mill within shopping distance.

"New Orleans looms up large in the future. The coming Panama Canal means that this city will be one of the greatest and busiest in the United States at no very distant date. Already signs toward this end are apparent. Men with money are today getting options on property in and around the city, where it is possible. Others are planning new companies. Three new steamship lines have been announced with New Orleans as the home port. Raw material, including cotton, is plentiful, including iron ore, lumber, cement fields, and many other things too numerous to mention. All I can say is, keep your eye on the south."

EDWIN MARKHAM

WILL MEET THE "MAN WITH THE HOE."

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 16—One of the most interesting episodes in the history of literature and art seems likely to take place during the coming summer at the Lewis and Clark exposition. "The Man With the Hoe," Millet's celebrated painting, and Edwin Markham, author of the still more famous poem of the same name, which was inspired by the painting, are expected to meet face to face in the museum of art at the exposition. A coincidence that adds interest to this expected event lies in he fac ha Edwin Markham is a naive of Oregon City, only twelve miles from Portland, where the exposition is held. The poet grew up there, and doubtless was more or less familiar in his boyhood with the beautiful spot where the great fair has been built.

The Millet painting is now owned in San Francisco, where Markham's poem was first published. Frank Vincent DuMond, director of fine arts at the Portland fair, is negotiating with Mr. Crocker, owner of he picture, to secure the world-famed work as one of the attractions in the museum of art, where Mr. DuMond is now installing a splendid collection of paintings by the most renowned artists of America and Europe, and many representative works by western artists.

It is the hope of the exposition management that Mr. Markham may be present during "Western Authors' Week" at the fair, from July 10 to 15, culminating in "Poets' Day." The final day of the week was named in honor of Joaquin Miller, who in a letter to the department of special events insists that it be called "Poets' Day" and that all poets of recognized worth be invited. Miller declares that he is "not entitled to first place except by right of antiquity," and that he has "tried on the halo fashioned for him by the exposition and it doesn't fit." Nevertheless, the day is most likely to be known as "Joaquin Miller Day," though it is expected that a considerable number of poets will be in attendance.

During "Western Authors' Week" it is believed that a large gathering of authors will attend the exposition and take part in certain exercises and social functions to be arranged by the committee in charge. This is the first exposition that has given such recognition to the authors, and the idea is attracting wide attention. Joaquin Miller, the dean of western writers and poets, is a native of Indiana, though he grew up in Oregon and did much of his early literary work in that state. He now resides near Oakland, Cal. He is famous both in Europe and America. Recently his complete poetical works have been collected and published, with characteristic comments by the author.

HIS HAND INJURED.

While adjusting a large motor yesterday afternoon George W. Conant, head machinist for Derby & Morse, had his right hand too close to the rapidly revolving exhaust fan with the result that the index finger was almost severed and the hand and other fingers were badly lacerated.

He was taken to Dr. John C. Irish's office, where his wounds were dressed. It was found that the top of the index finger was being held in place by the skin, the bone having been broken.

FISH WARDEN GEORGE T. SPENCE.

BUILD FISHWAY

OLD ONE IS ONLY AN APOLOGY

The Fish Cannot Pass Through It

George T. Spence, fish warden for the city of Lowell, says that the fishways in this city at the present time are positively unserviceable and he says that the commissioners on fisheries should see to it that a new fishway is built at once. Mr. Spence declares that it is impossible for fish of any importance to get through the fishway as it is at the present time. He claims it is not even a good apology for a fishway.

Mr. Spence tells interesting stories of the vain attempts of fish to climb the falls by way of the fishway. He has seen thousands of them in trying to face the swiftly running water in the fishway thrown back and discouraged. Mr. Spence has served as state deputy on fish and game in this state for several years, and he allows that he knows what he is talking about when he says that the fishway in this city is the purest kind of an apology. He also makes the statement that when the Locks and Canals are putting in new flash boards the fishway is boarded up, but that does not amount to much in view of the fact that the fishway is no good anyway. Relative to the closing up of the fishway when new flash boards are being installed, Mr. Spence quotes from his report to the commissioners on fisheries and game for the year ending Dec. 31, 1895, as follows:

During the month of May there was the largest run of eels I have seen for a great many years here at the fishway. On May 22 I found the fishway completely closed up. The men employed by the Locks and Canals company, having occasion to put new flash boards on the dam, had boarded the fishway up, and there was no chance for any water to run through. I called at the office of the company and notified them that the fishway was closed up and there should be an opening left on the end of the dam, so as to allow the water to go over and give the fish a chance to get up, and they claimed that the men working on the dam had made a mistake. The boards were taken off, and they fixed it satisfactorily.

Mr. Spence calls upon the commissioners on fisheries to give the fish a chance to get over Pawtucket falls.

"In reading over a report of the commissioners on fisheries and game a few years ago," said Mr. Spence, "the governor of New Hampshire said that owing to impassable falls in Lawrence and Lowell the fish were unable to reach New Hampshire. The trouble is that the relations between the commissioners and the companies who control the dams in this city and in Lawrence are too pleasant to be disturbed by an order for a new fishway. The commissioners on fisheries and game for the side of the companies and let the fishways go to Jericho."

The following was culled, by Mr. Spence, from the report of the commissioners and fisheries and game for the year ending December 31, 1902:

"It is of large importance that, in the event of building additional fishways, the utmost care shall be exercised to secure their proper location, as well as their suitable construction, in order that the public may receive the largest benefit in consequence of the action taken. Unfortunately, it sometimes happens that a fish ladder is so badly located that the object of building it is entirely defeated, and, as a result, its erection is worse than useless, for those ignorant of the real cause of inefficiency are liable to ascribe it to some other cause than the right one, much to the prejudice of fishways as a means for fish to pass over dams on their way to spawning grounds at the head waters of streams.

"The Lawrence fishway is a noteworthy example of making such a structure useless, even when it is built at large expense. The writer has examined it on several occasions, and is of the opinion that either it should be abandoned as worthless, or that it should be rebuilt in another location as soon as the laws will permit.

"The foot of the fishway is in close proximity to the outlet of a sewer, which pollutes the river at that point to such an extent that one may marvel that even a lampray eel enters it. Indeed, there were not many of them that made the venture this year. Superintendent Thomas S. Holmes reports that: 'Lampreys appeared in the Lawrence fishway May 15. There were very few of them, and none were seen after June 17. The only other fish seen were a very few suckers, chubbs and silver eels.'

"This is not strange; the wonder is that any fish were seen in or near the fishway, for not only is the water contaminated, but the lower end of the fishway is out of the water a large part of the time,—that has been its condition whenever seen by the writer.

"Inasmuch as the commission is usually considered responsible for the proper location of fishways, as well as for their satisfactory construction, the board in authority at the time the Lawrence fishway was built will doubtless be held accountable for its present unsatisfactory location, which has effectively defeated the purpose of its erection. However that may be, it is evident that the commission should now be authorized by law to have fishways built where they are required for the continuance of fish life in our streams."

"I hope," said Mr. Spence, "that when the commissioners build a new fishway in Lowell they will not build it near the mouths of any of our sewers.

"The commissioners have been stocking ponds that now contain a large number of black bass, with trout and land-locked salmon. I want to say that the salmon and trout will make nice live bait for the bass. Other ponds have been stocked with smelt which is a natural food for the land-locked salmon. I know of one pond that was stocked with land-locked salmon fingerlings over 15 years ago and there were a large number of pickerel in the pond at the time. No land-locked salmon have ever been seen or caught in this pond."

The following extracts from the Acts of 1904 will give your readers some idea of the authority invested in commissioners of fisheries:

Section 9. The commissioners may examine all dams upon rivers where the law requires fishways to be maintained, or where in their judgment fishways are needed, and they shall determine whether the fishways, if any, are suitable and sufficient for the passage of the fish in such rivers, or whether in their judgment a fishway is needed for the passage of fish over any dam; and shall prescribe by an order in writing what changes or repairs, if any, shall be made therein, and where, shall be kept open, and shall give notice and when a new fishway must be built, and at what times the same five to the owners of the dams accordingly. The supreme judicial court, or the superior court, shall, upon the petition of the commissioners, have jurisdiction in equity or otherwise to enforce any order made in accordance with the provision of this section, and to restrain any violation of such order, notified by serving upon them a copy of the order; and a certificate of the commissioners that service has been so made shall be deemed sufficient proof thereof.

Section 11. Any owner of such a dam who refuses or neglects to keep open or maintain a fishway at the times prescribed by the commissioners shall forfeit fifty dollars for each day of such refusal or neglect.

Section 12. If in the opinion of the commissioners, a passage for edible fish should be provided or if any one of the commissioners finds that there is no fishway or an insufficient fishway in or around a dam where a fishway is required by law to be maintained, any one of the commissioners may, in his discretion, enter with workmen and materials upon the premises of the person required to maintain a fishway there and may, at the expense of the commonwealth, if in the opinion of the commissioners the person required by law to construct or maintain such fishway is not able to afford such expense, improve an existing fishway, or cause one to be constructed if none exists, and may, if necessary, take the land of any other person who is not obliged by law to maintain said fishway; and if a fishway has been constructed in accordance with the provisions of this section, the commissioners shall not require the owner of the dam to alter such fishway within five years after the completion thereof.

Section 13. All damages which are caused by taking land as provided in the preceding section, shall, upon the application of either party, be estimated in the same manner as land which has been taken for a highway and shall be a charge against a person who is required by law to construct and maintain such fishway and shall be recovered in an action of contract in the name of the commonwealth, with costs and with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum.

In concluding his interview Mr. Spence said: "I would say to the commissioners on fisheries and game for this state that if they do not build a new and proper fishway in Lowell, right away, I would recommend that the honorable board of commissioners stock the Merrimack river between Lawrence and Lowell with frying fish as they are the only ones of the finny tribe that could possible succeed in getting over the dam at Pawtucket falls under present conditions."

United States Stands Expense of Peace Conference

WASHINGTON, June 17—Impressive in dignity and number will be the missions which Russia and Japan will send to the Washington conference, for although the plenipotentiaries, will be limited to two or three, the complete missions with their advisers and attaches and secretaries will each, it is expected, number 12 or more persons. Japan's plenipotentiaries probably will be accompanied by an army and a navy officer of high rank who will act as military adviser to the plenipotentiaries. In addition, there will be secretaries and attaches, some of them from the diplomatic service, some from the foreign office and others who will act as translators and recording secretaries. Russia probably will send a similar mission though perhaps not so large and both the Russian ambassador and the Japanese minister at Washington will place at the disposal of the respective missions their secretaries and attaches.

The Washington government will furnish a suitable place of meeting for the conference and as soon as a date for its convening is fixed, arrangements for the two missions will be made by the Russian and Japanese envoys here. There have been so many other important details to be settled, that the state department has not yet fixed upon offices for the conference. In addition to the main conference room, retiring rooms, offices for secretaries and a reception room will be needed. Either the capitol or the congressional library are regarded as perhaps the best suited buildings in Washington and in view of the indefinite period which the conference may remain in session, it has been suggested that perhaps the congressional library might be preferable to the capitol, for should some unexpected obstruction arise to keep the conference in session until in the fall, the convening of congress in extra session, might necessitate the removal of the conference elsewhere.

Whatever expenses are incurred incident to the maintenance of quarters, will of course be borne by the Washington government. If M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador at Paris comes to Washington as the ranking Russian plenipotentiary, his rank will equal that of Marquis Ito. At first there was some doubt in the minds of the Japanese as to whether M. Nedlioff possessed sufficient rank, for a mission of the importance accorded the Washington conference in Japan. Russia, however, at this juncture, let it be known that the Russian ambassador at Paris, outranked even the Russian minister for foreign affairs. Moreover, it was pointed out that as the personal representative of his sovereign a Russian ambassador could be outranked only by a prince of the royal family. Japan has not of course objected to the selection of M. Nelidoff. But in view of her expressed determination to select two of three "distinguished personages" she is desirous that Russia choose as plenipotentiaries men of rank and statesmanship, who possess the confidence, not only of their own government, but of the other powers.'

THE RUSSIANS

WILL SUPPORT WAR POLICY IF JAPAN DEMANDS TOO MUCH.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 17—2.05 P.M.—The note of the foreign office announcing that the negotiations for the meeting of the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries was printed without comment in the morning papers, but the press of all shades of opinion is discussing Japan's terms and declare with practical unanimity for a continuation of the war rather than the acceptance of humiliating conditions. In this the newspapers are upheld by public opinion, which is rallying around to support of the war policy if Japan's terms prove too hard.

Only the Nasha Zizen advises Russia that she need not balk at the payment of an indemnity, the cession of the island of Sakhalin, the renunciation of her right to keep warships in far eastern waters or the surrender of Vladivostok but the paper holds that Russia must retain northern Manchuria and the Vladivostok railroad. The Bourse Gazette, which draws a gloomy picture of Russia's relations with France, Great Britain, Germany and Austria the Novoe Vremya, and the reactionary Sviet sound hostile notes against the United States.

The Novoe Vremya reiterates that Russia's chief enemies in the far east are not the Japanese, but the British and Americans on account of their commercial rivalry, while the Sviet objects to Washington as the place of meeting for the plenipotentiaries, declaring that the atmosphere there is unfriendly and asserting that Russia's representatives will be subjected to prejudicial influence" in the capitol of the enemy's ally."

All the papers comment on the retirement of Grand Duke Alexis from the office of high admiral and a general feeling of relief is manifested at the fact that the present naval regime is ended.

Big Sensation at Jail Breaking Trial

U. S. Prisoners Had Unusual Privileges

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., June 17—The trial of Harry McCormick, who is charged with having broken from the Middlebury jail while awaiting trial on the charge of forgery, which began here yesterday before Judge Watson of the supreme bench, developed sensational testimony which it is said is likely to lead to an investigation of the jail here, and which again brought prominently to notice J. W. Ketcham, the U. S. prisoner who is serving a seven years' sentence for the part he had in wrecking the Farmers' national bank of Vergennes.

It appeared in the testimony, and Deputy Sheriff William H. Cobb, who has also been the jailer here for 32 years, admitted the fact, that Ketcham has been allowed to serve as turnkey, has had access to the keys of the jail, and has even had the unusual prison luxury of the services of a valet.

McCormick, who is being defended by Frank L. Fish of Vergennes, sets up the defence that he did not break jail, as the doors of the jail were open and that he simply went away. He was apprehended in Franklin, N. H., last Saturday, pleaded not guilty to the charge of jail breaking.

A number of prisoners from the jail were brought to court as witnesses, among them being Ketcham. All these witnesses were subjected to a rigid examination as to the methods and discipline of the jail, and it was during this line of testimony that Ketcham's jail life was brought prominently to the fore. It appears that the lad he had as valet had himself been subjected to a charge of forgery by Ketcham, who charged that the servant had forged his name to a check for $1.

The valet, Don Henry Davis, a native of the island of Malta, brought here by soldiers returning from the Philippines, had been arrested on the charge, but the court ordered the case not press'd after an investigation. It is known that Davis comes of a prosperous Maltese family, and that the lad will receive $5000 when he comes of age in two years, and it is alleged that the charge against Davis was prompted by ulterior motives.

Cobb said that the door of the cell room could be opened by a piece of wire and a wooden plug, and he had satisfied himself by experimenting that it could be done. He admitted that an iron bar provided for securing the jail doors had never been used as it was intended, and that only recently did he ascertain that he possessed a lock for such bars.

Some of the prisoners who were companions of McCormick in jail testified to the effect that they had seen McCormick have in his possession and engaged in the manufacture of a wire key which he told them he intended to use in opening the jail door. McCormick, they said, also told some of the prisoners after he was apprehended and brought back that he had secured his liberty by the aid of the jailer and told certain of his companions that death awaited them if they did not come into court and testify that McCormick received a letter from E. W. Train of Ludlow, in which was $10 and a note from Cobb, the jailer, stating that arrangements would be made to liberate him.

WAS DEAD

SPRINGFIELD, June 17.—John J. O'Neil was found dead in the Hampden park stables yesterday by Thomas Dowd. O'Neil was 25 years old and the son of Dennis O'Neil of 81 Washburn street. He had been employed as a hostler. He was seen about the stables within an hour of the time of finding his body. Medical Examiner E. A. Bates pronounced death due to acute uraemia.

A SERIOUS FALL

Henry Brady Tumbled Down Stairs

Henry Brady, aged 36 years, fell down stairs at his boarding house, 24 Webster street, shortly before midnight last night and sustained serious injuries.

He was so badly hurt that the ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Emergency hospital, where upon examination it was found that he was suffering from a broken nose, his head was gashed and required seven stitches, and one of his fingers was broken together with probable internal injuries.

LEGAL HUSBAND

WOMAN ASKS COURT TO DECIDE THE QUESTION.

BROCKTON, June 17.—Mrs. Mary E. Frawley-Clapp-Collison of Boston, who has appealed to the courts to relieve her of one of her two husbands, having been married to Henry J. Collison after having received news of the death of John F. Clapp, her first husband, who had deserted her, came here Thursday and searched this city and Easton in the hope of locating her missing spouse.

According to the records of the city clerk here, she was married to John F. Clapp in Easton by the Rev. Francis Holmes, Aug. 16, 1886. They lived in Easton for a time and then separated. The deserted wife states that some years afterward one of his aunts reported that he was dead. She had removed to Boston and was there married to Henry J. Collison in 1900.

In February, 1905, a Mrs. Mary E. Wilbur of Boston told her that she had seen the missing first husband, Clapp, on the street, in Brockton. She at once appealed to the superior court to set her marital relations in order, and the matter is now under advisement with Judge Fox.

Clapp was in Easton a few days ago, according to an employe in the Easton town clerk's office, and has been in Easton working within a few days.

Mrs. Collison is living apart from Collison, having taken that step immediately on receiving the information from Mrs. Wilbur in February.

FOR BIG PARADE

MANY FEATURES ALREADY PROMISED

Sporting Feature Was Cut Out

At a meeting of the Fourth of July committee held last night it was voted to cut out the sporting feature and to transfer the $125 appropriated for that feature to the parade. Unless all signs fail the slambang parade will be a "corker."

Chief Marshal Hubbard is very enthusiastic and will do all in his power to make a success of the parade. Principal Irish of the High school was at the meeting. He had been asked to state whether or not the High school regiment could parade on July 4. Mr. Irish said that after the school closed the pupils were not under the control of the school department. Then there was the question of loss of equipment to consider. Mr. Irish, however, said he would talk with the committee and do what he could to have the regiment turn out.

On motion of Councilman Baldwin it was voted to add $25 to the prize for a school feature.

Chief Marshal Hubbard said that things were going along swimmingly. He said that he had heard from the O. M. I. cadets of Belvidere, the St. Patrick's Fife and Drum corps, and he had had assurances from the five Portuguese societies that they would turn out.

The suggestion was made that the Textile school arrange a feature, and it was stated that there was every indication that such a feature would be introduced. Nothing definite as to the starting time of the parade was agreed upon. It was the sense of the committee that the parade should start not later than 8 o'clock or earlier than 6.30.

The committee went to Charlestown today to see the parade and to secure features for the slambang in Lowell on the Fourth.

ON THE WARPATH.

Passaconaway tribe of Red Men will send their warwhoops down the line in the slambang parade. The great council sent a dispensation last night authorizing the tribe to appear in costume in the parade. There will be at least 100 real Indians in line and the feature will be a very attractive one.

FRENCH AMERICAN CITIZENS.

A large meeting of representative French American people was held in St. Joseph's college hall last evening. The purpose of the meeting was to make arrangements for the turning out of French Americans in the Fourth of July parade.

Maxime Lepine presided, and Councilman Leon Marcotte was the secretary. It was unanimously voted to accept Chief Marshal Hubbard's invitation to take part in the parade.

Those who spoke in favor of getting up a whole French American division were E. H. Choquette, L. P. Turcotte, Charles H. Boisvert, Councilman Marcotte, Pierre A. Brousseau, Joseph Harvey, Maxime Lepine, Fred Giroux, Joseph S. Monminy, Paul Charbonneau, L. P. Leblanc and Mr. Brunelle.

The formation of a whole division to represent the French American people met with general approval and means were immediately taken to secure that end. Joseph Harvey was chosen marshal, and L. P. Turcotte, Maxime Lepine and Councilman Marcotte were appointed a committee to issue invitations to the French American societies and clubs to turn out in the division.

NORTH ADAMS PAPER SUED FOR ALLEGED LIBEL.

NORTH ADAMS, June 17.—John G. Robinson and Cal Towers, guardians of Cevera De Fonta, better known as Prince Mungo, a Filipino, who is with the John Robinson circus, have entered suit against a local paper for $10,000 for libel. The Herald printed a story recently, purporting to come from a commercial traveller named John H. Siddon, asking that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of this city take action to prevent the Filipino from biting the heads off small alligators. The man claimed to have seen this done in Bennington, Vt., while the show was there. Prince Mungo denies the allegation.

TIME HAS COME

Lowell Has Finally Won a Game

New First Baseman Proves to be the Real Thing--O. Jackson Works Nicely Behind the Bat

Joe Wall, the new first baseman, arrived in Lowell yesterday and played in yesterda's game against Manchester. The new man showed up well during the preliminary practice, doing some lively work on the base. Billy Merritt was in uniform and participated in the practice, but did not play in the game. Anderberg occupied a seat on the bench and will take a few days' much needed rest.

Cross did slab work for Lowell, while Leith was in the harness fro the team from the Queen city. 'Old Phenom" John Smith, who is well known to local fans, was out in right garden for the visitors and was given a very cordial reception by the fans. There were about 500 present and Umpire Stafford called time at 3.15 o'clock.

FIRST INNING.

The visitors scored right off the reel in the first inning. Spratt, the first man up, drew his base on balls. He then stole second. Owen Jackson threw the ball to catch Spratt off the base, but McLaughlin tried a one-handed catch and the result was that Spratt reached third. Armbruster struck out and Page filed out to Grant, and Spratt scored on the put out. J. Smith filed out to J. Jackson.

In Lowell's half Connors singled to centre field and Grant sent him to second with a sacrifice. Bigbie filed out to Armbruster and J. Jackson hit to Leith who fielded the ball to first in time to catch the runner.

Score—Manchester 1, Lowell 0.

SECOND INNING.

In the second inning Kane filed out to Bigbie and Clark hit a grounder through Connors' legs. Clark then tried to steal second and was thrown out by Owen Jackson. A. Smith closed the inning by striking out.

Wall, the new man, demonstrated the fact that he is quite a sprinter, in the latter half of the second inning. He drew his base on balls and then stole second. Tierney filed out to Ambruster. Wall started to steal third and almost reached the bag when Owen Jackson made a foul and Wall had to walk back to second. Jackson then hit to Clark who fumbled and the runner was safe while Wall went to third. Jackson and Wall then tried a double steal, and Wall was thrown out at the plate.

Score—Manchester 1, Lowell 0.

THIRD INNING.

The visitors failed to score in the third inning. Knau opened with a single. Leith bunted a fly to J. Jackson. Spratt sent a grounder which Connors took care of, and Ambruster closed the inning by flying out to Grant.

Lowell went out in quick order in the latter half of the third, all of the outs being on flies. Cross filed out to Arthur Smith while Connors made his second hit. Grant filed out to Armbruster and Bigbie closed the inning by flying out to Kane.

Score—Manchester 1, Lowell 0.

FOURTH INNING.

Cross pulled out of the tightest kind of a box in the fourth inning. With three men on bases and only one out, by good fielding the visitors were prevented from scoring. Page opened with a foul fly to J. Jackson. J. Smith and Kane followed with singles and Clark being hit by a pitched ball walked to first, filling the bases. Arthur Smith hit to short centre field and Grant made a pretty catch, and threw back to the plate in time to hold J. Smith on third. Knau closed the inning by flying out to Bigbie.

The locals went out in quick order in the latter half of the inning. Jim Jackson struck out and Wall was hit by a pitched ball, but was thrown out while trying to steal second. McLaughlin closed the inning by striking out.

Score—Manchester 1, Lowell 0.

FIFTH INNING.

The visitors scored another run in the fifth inning, and Owen Jackson made two excusable errors. Leith struck out while Spratt and Armbruster made singles. The two latter then tried a double steal and Spratt was nailed at third Armbruster reaching second on the play. O. Jackson then muffed a foul fly off Page's bat, after a hard run Page singled scoring Armbruster and Page went down to second on the play. O. Jackson threw to McLaughlin, but the latter was moping and Page reached third. John Smith hit to McLaughlin and went out at first.

Lowell got as far as third in this inning, but the fans were once more disappointed when another goose egg was added to the score. Tierney hit over third base for what looked to be a fair ball, but the umpire called it foul. Tierney then made a clean single which could not be disputed. O. Jackson sacrificed and sent him to second. Cross hit to Knau and went out at first, Tierney going down to third on the put out. The crowd then shouted for Billy Connors to bring in Tierney, but the best that Billy could do was to hit to Leith and die at first.

Score—Manchester 2, Lowell 0.

SIXTH INNING.

Neither side scored in the sixth inning. Kane singled and then went down to second on Clark's sacrifice. A. Smith filed out to Bigbie and Knau hit along the first base line and Wall fielded the ball and put him out at first.

Only four balls were pitched in the latter half of the sixth. Grant filed out to Armbruster, Bigbie filed out to J. Smith, and Jim Jackson went out on a grounder to Leith.

Score—Manchester 2, Lowell 0.

SEVENTH INNING.

The visitors went out in one, two, three order in the seventh inning. Leith foul filed to J. Jackson, Spratt hit to McLaughlin and was out at first, while Armbruster foul filed to O. Jackson.

Lowell scored one run in the lucky seventh, but should have scored more. Wall was the first man up and he hit to left field for a single. McLaughlin drew his base on balls. Tierney sacrificed advancing Wall and McLaughlin. Owen Jackson was called upon to bring both men in and he responded with a single scoring Wall. Barney attempted to come home from second on the throw home. Cross drew his base on balls and Connors walked to first on a free pass, filling the bases, but Grant was called out on strikes.

EIGHTH INNING.

Page filed out to McLaughlin in the eighth. John Smith fanned out and Kane followed with a single to left. Kane etrid to steal second and was nailed Owen Jackson.

Bigbie hit to Spratt, but Kane muffed the ball at first base and the runner was safe. Jackson bunted to Leith who threw to Knau catching Bigbie at second. Knau tried to catch Jackson, but threw bad and Jackson went down to second. Wall then hit to centre field for two bases scoring J. Jackson. McLaughlin then came to the bat and redeemed himself by sending the ball over the left field fenc for a home run scoring Wall and himself. Tierney hit to Spratt and was thrown out at first. O. Jackson hit to Clark and was thrown out at first.

NINTH INNING.

Clark filed out to Jim Jackson in the ninth inning. Arthur Smith sent a fly to Bigbie, the ball going away out to the fence and he caught it against the fence but the umpire said the man was safe and he went down to second base. Knau filed out to Grant and A. Smith went to third on the put out. Morrissey then went in to bat for Leith. Morrissey struck out.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Concord today.

Mr. Eustace and Mr. Stafford meet again today--at catchweights.

Yesterday's game was in the nature of a hummer and the fans were well satisfied.

Here's where we start to climb up," said Capt. Connors after yesterday's game.

Lowell now has a good ball team. Joe Wall, the new first baseman, looked the part of a ball player the moment he stepped on the grounds and he showed himself to be as good as he looked. He is sure on the base and his timely batting practically won the game. Owen Jackson, too, is just the boy behind the bat, and there'll be few bases stolen on him. True, he made two errors but one was Barney McLaughlin's fault, while the other was a muffed foul fly.

When the bunch called McLaughlin "Old Tanglefoot" Barney got thick and drove the ball over the left field fence for a homer.

Constant playing seems to have been the best thing in the world for Tierney, for Chick is playing a first class game all around.

John Smith surely must have stolen a half pint from the fountain of youth for he is as frisky as a colt.

The same lineup will play against Concord today.

It isn't the usual thing to lay off a ball player the day after he makes two two-base hits in one game, but that is what happened to Tommy Devine yesterday.—Concord Exchange.

Perhaps he was laid off for showing how to play third base after Eustace was chased off the grounds here a few days ago.

Stafford missed a decision on third base against Lowell, yesterday.

President Pulliam has instructed the National league umpires to address the players on the field as "Mister." The players don't need any instructions as to what to call the poor umpires.

Bill Clements did not stay long in New Bedford for yesterday Manager Doe learned from the player that he guessed he would not play here. He went to his home in Providence Tuesday after the game with Haverhill and returned yesterday to tell Manager Doe that he had decided to play with Toronto. As Clements had accepted the New Bedford manager's terms, perhaps the board of strategy will have a question to decide. Manager Doe would like to have had Clements in uniform yesterday, for he had an idea of pitching him.—New Bedford Mercury.

Clements will have his hands full of business if he attempts to get funny with Doe.

It is whispered in baseball society that there is trouble "in the midst" of the New Bedford team. Taylor and Friend want to get through with the team and Doe would like to transport some of the others.

Grant's mind was evidently on "the green" when he allowed three strikes to be called on him yesterday, and strikes they were.

Stafford comes from Cambridge, that classic city where the Med Fac romps during the still watches of the night and where a fair sized portion of the check list is under indictment for alleged election frauds. Thus he can recognize trouble from a distance and generally gets in the first swing at it when it comes up to him.

Stafford took off the fine imposed on Grant after Wednesday's game. He was somewhat hasty and was fair enough to admit the fact.

It's up to "Hi He" Dickson to locate his old friend "Long John" and insist upon him returning to the ranks of the truly loyal rooters. His observations upon men and things in baseball are greatly missed.

The Daily News of Cumberland, Md., a red hot baseball paper in a red hot base ball town, in Thursday's issue has an enthusiastic account of a 17-inning game played the day before at Midland, Md., between Midland and Fairmount in the Peach league, in which the pitcher on the losing team was William Jackson, another brother of Jim and Owen of the Lowell team. The young fellow although his team lost the game, held his opponents down to six hits with a total of seven in 17 innings, which is certainly pitching some. He also contributed a single to the eight hits made by his team. There is still another brother playing in that league, older than the two boys now with Lowell. Thus four of them are playing professional baseball and there may be a couple more when they get big enough, for the Jackson family consists of six boys and six girls. If President Roosevelt hasn't heard of the Jackson family of Frostburg, he should be made acquainted at once. The name of Jackson ever since the days of the immortal Andrew was ever a name to conjure by.

Street Department is Short of Money

The committee on streets met last evening and voted to recommend a loan of $5,000 for the street department. That department is going to run shy and will have to be pieced out.

Chairman Fairweather called to order about 8.30. The city engineer was instructed to get estimates of the cost of macadamizing Chelmsford street from Powell street to the city line, and on Powell street from Liberty street to Chelmsford street.

Petitions for the acceptance of Clough avenue from West Tenth street to Bridge street and for Ina avenue from Ina street to Fourth avenue were read and sub-committees were appointed to take the matter in hand. Councilman Morse and Mahoney were appointed on one committee and Councilman Fleming and Hayes on another.

The petitions for damages relative to the straightening of Middlesex street from the power house to the city line were read and Chairman Fairweather and Councilman Mayberry were appointed a sub-committee to investigate.

Councilman Cheney appeared before the committee and spoke in favor of improving the condition of Middlesex street between Grand street and the depot.

Committee adjourned at 9.15.

OIL ON FIRE

WHARF WAS IGNITED AT CHELSEA.

BOSTON, June 17—A coal lighter owned by John Morrison & Co. of East Boston, the tug William G. Williams of the Ross towboat company and portions of the wharf of Stickney & Whiting, Marshal street, Chelsea, were on fire at the same time yesterday afternoon, neither, however, having been seriously damaged.

In the vicinity of the fires there is a large oil business, and yesterday afternoon a quantity of oil flowed into Chelsea creek. It is supposed that a workman after lighting his pipe threw a match into the water and the oil on the surface took fire. In an instant the coal lighter, tug and wharf were afire, and before the workmen realized the situation a lively blaze was on.

An alarm was sounded from box 18 at 4.19, and after an hour's work the firemen extinguished the flames. The lighter, tug and wharf were damaged to the extent of $50 each.

COUNTRY WEEK

APPEAL FOR FUNDS TO CONTINUE GOOD WORK.

The Channing Fraternity is sending around its annual appeal in behalf of that great philanthropy, country week, which it has maintained for several years. The work of last year was most successful. More than 130 women and children enjoyed a much needed rest in the country—some for a few days and some for two or three weeks—as necessity demanded. Beside these vacations 1200 women and children took advantage of the free street car excursions, which gave them a chance to get away from the heat of the city for a day. These day trips were greatly appreciated by those unable to leave their homes for a longer time. For this feature we are indebted to the generosity of the Boston and Northern Street Railway Co.

The expense of Country Week is met by voluntary contributions and the money is disbursed under the skilful and experienced guidance of Mrs. Paxson. The work is far reaching in our city, and much good is accomplished in our very midst. The amount on hand this year is less than usual, and the committee hope for a very generous response.

The office of the Ministry-at-Large, Middlesex street, between Eliot and South streets, has been placed at the disposal of country week and applicants may be received Saturday afternoons from 2 to 6 o'clock, beginning July 8, and ending with the close of August 26.

Contributions of money are respectfully solicited and may be sent by mail or otherwise to Edward Ellingwood, treasurer, corner Merrimack and Central streets. All sums received will be acknowledged from time to time through the Lowell papers, unless otherwise requested. Letters relative to country week should be addressed to Mrs. A. M. Paxson, Lowell.

NEW HOSPITAL

WILL BE DEDICATED NEXT WEDNESDAY.

The new building of the Lowell General hospital will be formally dedicated on next Wednesday at 4 p. m.

The new building is not only free from debt but there is a sufficient surplus to grade the grounds and put the other buildings in good condition, all being possible through the munificence of Frederick Fanning Ayer.

The two wards in the new building are the handsomest in New England and it possesses a large operating room finished throughout in white enamel with floor of glass that is non-absorbent. The work of furnishing has been done by the Ladies' Aid association the Young Women's Guild and the young women of the J. C. Ayer company.

NORWAY

WILL HAVE GOVERNMENT ON THE SWISS MODEL.

LONDON, June 17—Nejo Bjornson, the Norwegian poet, novelist and dramatist, in a communication to the Daily Chronicle declares that had the Norwegian Storthing left the question of the dissolution of the union to be decided by the general election eighteen months since, it would undoubtedly have been achieved in full agreement with the Swedish people, the majority of whom even now are in favor of dissolution. Norwegians could then have adopted whatever form of government they wished. As the matter stands, unless King Oscar consents to nominate a prince of the house of Bernadotte for the throne, Norway will no doubt become a republic and a government on the Swiss model will be adopted.

SAM LANGFORD WON.

DIED IN STREET

MARY PRETT A VICTIM OF HEART FAILURE.

BOSTON, June 17.—Mrs. Mary Pratt, 45 years of age, whose home was in Somerville, was brought into the Relief hospital last night shortly before 8 o'clock in a semi-unconscious condition and without regaining consciousness died there at 1.30 this morning.

She was found by friends, standing up against the subway station in Haymarket square and when spoken to did not respond. Soon after she was brought into the hospital, the doctors placed her on the dangerous list and sent a hurried call for her husband, who arrived shortly before his wife passed away. Heart trouble is said to be the cause of her death.

THREE FIREBUGS

Held in $500 for Grand Jury

THEY DESTROYED ICE HOUSES

North Andover Case Cleared Up

NORTH ANDOVER, June 17.—Joseph M. Coppinger, 25; Samuel Hargreaves, 22, and Ernest L. Johnson, 25, were arraigned before Justice Frye at a special session of court yesterday afternoon and held in $500 bonds each for the September term of the grand jury.

They are charged with burning the five ice-houses owned by Brooks F. Holt of Lawrence, which were situated on the shore of lake Chochichewick in this town.

When arraigned the three men conversed together and finally pleaded guilty and were then bound over to the upper court.

The three arrests were made yesterday afternoon by Maurice F. Casey, old in the fire marshal's department of the district police, who has been investigating the burning of the five ice-houses since last July.

There was a celebration here on the eve of the Fourth last year and the crowd of celebrators, not being content with starting bonfires, turned their attention to greater fires. A barn owned by Mrs. Ellen Mahoney was set afire and destroyed, but the three men arrested were not concerned in that.

Early on the morning of the Fourth the town was aroused by the fire at the ice-houses owned by Mr. Holt. The five building awere valued at $4000 and were practically destroeyd. The investigation that followed showed that the fire was of incendiary origin, and Mr. Casey began work on the case. He obtained bits of evidence by gradually pursuing his investigation, and a week ago he became convinced that he had located the right parties. Within the past few days he has interviewed the three men arrested yesterday, visiting each separately, and yesterday decided upon the arrests.

Coppinger, who has been working in Boston for three weeks, was first taken and brought to this town. Johnson was found in Lawrence and Hargreaves was found in this town.

A special session of the court was convened late yesterday afternoon, when the prisoners were arraigned. They each furnished bail, after being held for the grand jury.

Casey has learned that Coppinger, Hargreaves and Johnson were celebrating the Fourth, and early on that morning planned the fire at the ice-houses. They secured a quart of kerosene, and going to the ice-houses, gathered hay and straw, and, with this and the oil, started the blaze.

The young men are well known in town and of good families. Their act is regarded as a "night before the Fourth" prank, in which their recklessness overreached their judgment. Coppinger, before leaving North Andover, was employed on the delivery wagon of a Lawrence grocer.

It is said that Coppinger has made a confession, telling the whole story of the reckless prank to Deputy Neal.

WILL PITCH CANVAS IN LOWELL JUNE 25.

The attractions offered by Ringling Brothers' circus the current season are more imposing than ever before. The performers are the pick and flower of the world. The spectacle of "The Field of the Cloth of Gold" employs 1,200 people, and the scenic and costume accessories cost a fortune. The fun is provided by fifty clowns. The spectacle runs about thirty minutes, and precedes the ring acts. The march of the chivalric hosts introduces all the people and horses with the great shows and is a thrilling and picturesque relief from the usual circus entry. The tournaments of the sixteenth century are illustrated by athletic feats of the kind peculiar to this historic time of romance. A Ballet divertisement of 300 young girls is a fascinating feature of this production. In the circus program are 200 acts, interpreted by 375 performers. Over 200 horses are required for the swiftly changing bill. Among the sixty celebrated riders are the four Berdinis and Gilbert Eldred, of European renown; Albert Crandall, Orrin Davenport, May Davenport, Lulu Davenport, Rhoda Royal, Mme. Royal, the Hobsons, Alex. Lowanda, Rego McCree, John Agee, the DeVenes, Nola Satterfield and Nellie Showers. In the great gymnastic features of the show are many European performers never seen in this country before. The six Ollinserettis are first among these. The Colini-Cairon troupe, the Malvos, the great Draculin, Mons. Le Hirt, Mlle. El Salto, the Fortune Brothers, the three Rios and the Alvos trio are in this class of famous gymnic artists. The Kaufman family and Jackson family are masterful bicycle specialists, unequalled in the world. The Dacoma family and Flying Fishers are at the head of the sixty aerial artists gathered from the four quarters of the globe.

The bicycling specialties of the Kaufman family of eight and Jackson family of seven are amazing exhibitions and thrillingly illustrate the possibilities of riding upon this delicate machine. They perform athletic feats of amazing difficulty and novelty with the graceful ease of experts in ground gymnastic work. This feature is one of the sensational numbers in the immense program.

WANTS $10,000

BOY ATTACKED BY ROOSTER LOST AN EYE.

BOSTON, June 17.—Losing an eye through an attack made on him by a rooster, Felix Scandone, six years old, seeks $10,000 damages from Rosetta Pettine, owner of the bird.

The case went to trial yesterday in the session without jury of the superior court before Judge Hardy.

The child lives in East Boston. He was playing in an open field three years ago, off Lubec street, when the rooster flew at him, picking at his eye. At the time the boy was three years old.

The action is based on the allegation that the rooster possessed vicious habits and dangerous propensities, which previously had been manifested.

BEEF TRUST MEN

Reported to Have Been Indicted

CHICAGO, June 17—Proposed indictments against officials of at least five packing firms were said to have been presented to the members of the federal grand jury by District Attorney C. B. Mofrison yesterday for consideration. A report was current that the indictments had practically been voted by the jury.

From a dozen to forty indictments were yesterday generally expected, as a close to inquiries which have lasted since March, bringing in scores of witnesses and occupying months. The charges are conspiracy, violation of the anti-trust laws, perjury, subordination of perjury and intimidation of witnesses.

The accused make charges of their own, asserting that homes of some of them have been practically robbed by secret service men in search of evidence and alleging persecution of innocent persons. The latter refers to the cases where wives of some of the packing firms employes who left the city, were placed under bond.

There has also developed a serious conflict among the packers themselves. On resulting intimations of alleged treachery the government officials are said to count on producing testimony not obtainable except by some one turning "state's evidence."

EXECUTORS' SALE OF TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 3747 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 12 LAGRANGE STREET.

As executor of the above estate, I will sell promptly at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday next, this parcel of property consisting of a two-tenement house, and about 3747 square feet of land. There is no property so well and conveniently handled by a person of moderate means than a two-tenement house of this character.

It is situated on the southerly side of Lagrange street, and will always be rented, as it is quite handy to all city conveniences; it is but a short distance from the Lowell Machine shop and Carpet mills, and the several industries on Broadway. Now it is up for absolute sale and the purchaser, whoever it may be is sure to strike a grand bargain. The house consists of two tenements of about six rooms each; they are in very good repair and are rented at the present time for about $264 a year. The lot contains about 3747 square feet, is all fenced in, has good yard room with concrete walks and has a frontage on the street of about 57 feet. Now this is a prime good parcel of property and will be appreciated by the man with a small capital to invest.

TERMS: $250 must be paid to auctioneer at time and place of sale.

Very Pretty Home Property

House, barn and about 4824 square feet of land, on School street. This is a very neat, compact piece of residential property; it is the right size for a small home and offers all conveniences that are necessary to make a comfortable dwelling. There are eight large, well proportioned rooms, bath, and cemented cellar. It is heated throughout by steam, has hot and cold water connections, and all modern improvements. The stable has four stalls, excellent carriage room, and a good loft for storage; the carriage room and driveway are all concreted. The lot contains about 4824 square feet of land with a frontage of about 50 feet on the street; it sets on the easterly side of the street, has good elevation and is pleasantly surrounded by many pretty homes.

This would make an excellent home for some business man who had two or three horses and the present owner having changed his place of business is the only reason that he offers his beautiful little home for sale. For full particulars call on C. F. Keyes.

JOHN M. FARRELL, Auctioneer

Wednesday, June 21, 1905, at 4 o'clock

I will sell at public auction a very fine residence, consisting of a well built house and barn and 11,040 square feet of land, with a frontage of 60 feet, situated at No. 48 Riverside street, between Pawtucket and Moody street bridge, making it very convenient to get to the heart of the city in a few minutes, near church, school and store and two lines of street cars.

Having business interests that oblige me to leave Lowell, I have instructed Mr. Farrell to sell, without limit, my beautiful home. The house has 10 large rooms and bath, with a large summer kitchen, with unfinished attic, and has a high posted, well lighted cellar with cement bottom. The house is substantially built of the best material that money could buy, and no pains or expense spared to make it a comfortable home, as I always expected to live in it myself. It is heated by a first-class hot water heating plant, with ample raidators throughout that give the best satisfaction. It is lighted by gas and has handsome gas fixtures.

First floor has large square hall and vestibule, parlor, sitting room, with open fireplace and mantel. Dining room with china closet built in kitchen, with hot and cold water, also large, airy summer kitchen conveniently arranged. Second floor has 5 pretty high posted and airy chambers, with a handsome fireplace and mantel in one; has a roomy bath room, with hot and cold water, all open plumbing; everything is in the best of shape and a better finished house cannot be found. The barn has stalls for three horses and room to store 3 carriages, with a large loft for hay and grain. There is also a shed attached, used as storage, 22 by 40, that make it very handy. The grounds are laid down to a lawn, set out with apple, pear, cherry trees, shrubs and vines, with broad drive and walks; a mortar wall is laid all around the lot and it is well fenced.

This property is in the best of repair inside and out, and a better built or a handsomer residence so near the heart of the city it would be hard to find. Any person wanting a nice, quiet home with every convenience, be sure and attend the sale.

Terms: $500 must be paid at time of sale; 30 days will be given to take deed; 60 per cent. of the purchase money can remain on mortgage.

I will sell at public auction the fine lot of land with a new barn and the foundation for two tenement house, 40x41, with a heavy 16-inch wall with a center wall dividing same, situated on Grotton street, North Chelmsford, but a step from the end of the street cars at North Chelmsford. Take street that leads to Crystal lake, and it is situated on the top of the hill on the left hand side before you reach the lake and contains 11,000 square feet of land with a frontage of 79 feet on Grotton St. Having started to build me a home I have erected a very nice barn for three horses, high-posted with studding 18 inches apart on a solid foundation that I had in mind some time; if so desired could be turned into a dwelling, also large carriage shed. I also put in a solid house cellar, 40x41 ft., with center wall all 16-in. thick for a two tenement house. The lot is all graded and 100 load of loam is in pile on the lot to finish grading. I had a fine well put in at great expense, and as things turned out I need money and feel that I must sell. Some one will get a good trade.

DAVIS MAY DIE

Another Shooting Affray in Chicago Strike

CHICAGO, Ill., June 17, 1905.—State Attorney Healy, this afternoon, announced that as a result of the grand jury investigation of alleged corruption practices in labor matters the state expects to make a strong case of conspiracy against some of the men intimately connected with the teamsters' strike. The speedy end of the strike is predicted by some owing to the proposed overthrow of Pres. Shea's supporters in the teamsters' joint council. Shea is alleged to have been deserted by almost all of his chief allies.

Frank Davis, 17 years old, was shot and probably fatally injured today by the driver of an American Express company wagon. The driver was attacked by a crowd just before the shooting. After the shooting the mob fled. The driver surrendered himself at a police station.

KILLED BY AUTO

Well Known Inventor the Victim

NEW YORK, June 17.—The man who was run over by an automobile at Ninetieth street and Amsterdam avenue on Thursday night and who died yesterday morning as a result of his injuries in the J. Hood Wright hospital, was James Black, a civil engineer and inventor with offices in the Bennett building on Nassau street.

Policeman John W. England and four others in the automobile said after the accident that the man seemed to become bewildered while crossing the street and that he ran directly in front of the machine.

Mr. Black's friends and business associates gave this explanation for the accident: Mr. Black, they said, had weak eyes and wore powerful glasses They think that while hurrying across the street his glasses fell off and he was unable to see just where he was going.

The injured man was picked up unconscious and hurried to the hospital, where it was found that his skull, right arm, right leg and five ribs had been fractured. He never regained consciousness and died shortly before noon yesterday.

The dead man was 54 years old and a widower. He had no children. He had two brothers, one of whom is at present on a hunting trip in Canada and another with his family somewhere in Europe. Their address is care of J. S. Morgan & Co., London, and a dispatch has been sent to that firm regarding the death of the inventor. In the meantime Mr. Black's body has been removed to an undertaking establishment to await orders from either of the two brothers.

Mr. Black was interested in the Delver Cooperative company, an electrical concern. He was also interested in many inventions and is said to have perfected a scheme whereby electricity could be manufactured at a nominal cost and at the same time be controlled independently.

The dead inventor lived at various hotels in this city and in the summer months sought the Jersey coast. Only a few days ago he went to live at a hotel in Long Branch. He had been visiting at the home of friends in the nineties near Riverside Drive and was leaving their house when the accident occurred. For some time the body remained unidentified at the hospital yesterday. Francis R. Fast, a lawyer associated with Mr. Black, identified the body and took charge of it in the absence of relatives.

Policeman England and his friends were returning to their homes in the automobile when th eaccident occurred. The machine was being driven by Edward H. Farrell, who was locked up. He was arraigned in the west side police court yesterday just about the time that news reached the court of Mr. Black's death. The magistrate remanded Farrell to the custody of the coroner.

HAD AN OUTING.

The girls of the graduating class of the Green school chaperoned by their teacher, Miss Bailey, held their annual outing at Mountain Rock on Friday afternoon. Singing was the special feature of the day and the merry party made the woods ring with their songs. A dainty luncheon was served after which the party returned to the city. The outing was voted a success by all.

SUPREME REGENT

Denies Stories About Royal Arcanum

ROME, N. Y., June 17—Howard C. Wiggins, Supreme Regent of the Royal Arcanum in a statement denying the published reports that there had been a recent meeting of some of the members of the supreme council and charging certain enemies of the order with circulating false reports, said to The Associated Press today:

"My attention has been called to an article widely published in various papers yesterday stating that a conference had been held here by various members of the supreme council together with Grand Regent Hoag to consider plans to prevent threatened secession of councils from the order. There is absolutely no truth whatever in such a report. Grand Regent Hoag has not been in Rome to my knowledge within six months. There is no occasion for alarm and no occasion for conference upon the part of supreme council officers. The statement contained in the report of yesterday that at every council meeting since the present agitation began from 5 to 12 members have been suspended is absolutely false and untrue. The source from which emanates such false and misleading reports will be obvious to every one.

"The rates recently adopted, represent the actual cost of protection as shown by our 27 years experience. Our members do not want something for nothing, but prefer adequate rates, guaranteeing permanency of the order throughout all time to come to temporary cheapness.

"The courts of the last resort in various states have without exception upheld the power of fraternal orders to increase their rates of assessment whenever necessary in order to provide for meeting their mortuary obligations and similar action to that taken by the supreme council has been sustained by repeated decisions."

Mr. Wiggins added that the Royal Arcanum was on an absolutely firm foundation and that its very success had aroused the envy and fury of the interests which are hostile to the fraternal orders.

SAVAGE CANINE

Nearly Devoured Boy on Second Street

While playing with other children in Second street last evening 8-year-old Ansal Henry was attacked by a vicious shepherd dog and the savage brute would have torn the child to pieces but for the timely interference of persons attracted by the boy's cries. It was with difficulty that the dog was dragged away from the bleeding form of his little victim.

Early this morning the dog was in the street smelling of the blood stained dust and growling savagely. Two weeks ago the dog bit another boy and in fact he has been the terror of the neighborhood since his arrival in Second street about a month ago.

A representative of The Sun called at Ansal Henry's home in the rear of 22 Second street, this forenoon. The boy is badly bitten about the legs, on the chest and on the arms. The dog tried to get at his throat but the boy managed to keep his head in such a position as to make it impossible for the dog to grab him there. He then seemed intent upon reaching the boy's heart and tore his clothing into shreds in an attempt to reach that vital spot. It was one of the most blood-curdling spectacles that has been witnessed in this city for many a day.

The dog is the propetry of Miss Bessie Worrall, whose home is at 23 Second street, directly across from the home of the Henry boy. Lieutenant Webster called at the Worrall home this forenoon and ordered that the dog be chained until arrangements are made for his disposal.

Miss Worrall was one of the first to go to the boy's rescue, but she could not pull the dog away. Miss Worrall's little brother was the next on the scene and he could not pull the dog from his little victim. Mr. Worrall was summoned and with the assistance of another man the bloodthirsty dog was taken away snapping and growling at the men who held him prisoner.

The little boy limped across the street the blood flowing from wounds on his legs, arms and body. A great crowd had gathered by the time the dog was taken away and the trail of blood from the scene of cruel torture to the boy's home cried for vengeance and two young men went looking for the dog. They armed themselves with clubs and vowed that they would beat the dog to death, but they did not succeed in locating him.

The dog was bought at an auction sale in this city by E. A. Orcutt, who has a livery stable in Second street. Orcutt in turn sold him to Miss Bessie Worrall and after the dog had been in Lowell 30 days his license was transferred.

He was brought to Lowell from Wakefield and the police here will try to trace his record in Wakefield. There is a heavy penalty attachd to the transportation of a vicious dog from place to place.

While the dog may not have been brought to Lowell from Wakefield because of his viciousness, the fact that he was sold at auction here instead of Wakefield, will bear investigation.

It looks now as if he was a candidate for the death box at the police station.

Dr. Meagher is attending the Henry boy. His wounds have been cauterized and while he was sick and suffered pain during the night, he is resting comfortably today.

The dog is perfectly healthy and the fear of rabies does not enter into the case. The dog is vicious and should be well guarded if allowed to live.

Miss Worrall, owner of the dog, claims that the boys plagued the animal before he attacked the boy.

BUNKER HILL DAY

Charlestown Will Have Two Parades

BOSTON, June 17.—Although not a legal holiday, practically all the business activities of Greater Boston were suspended today in observance of the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The patriotic celebration of the anniversary centered as usual in Charlestown, the scene of the famous fight. A special detail of police patrolled the district all night to insist upon the obedience of ordinances which require that the noisy part of the celebration shall not begin until 4 a. m. Promptly at that hour the patriotism of the people was manifested by an extensive explosion of fire works. Two parades were arraned for Charlestown during the day, one consisting of military, naval and civic bodies including bluejackets from the visiting warships for the afternoon and an electrical parade for the evening. There was a parade also in the town of Medford in celebration of that city's 275th anniversary. Races at the country club in Brookline, play in the state tennis championship at Longwood, bicycle races at Revere and Cambridge and other outdoor events attracted large numbers of people.

FOUND IN STUPOR

Bottle Labelled Poison by Her Side

But Brooded Over Loss of Her Son

Ann McGowan, a woman about 55 years of age, who has suffered from numerous paralytic shocks and who has spent a good part of her time for the past few years at the city farm, attempted to commit suicide in a most tragic manner on the grave of her son in St. Patrick's cemetery this morning. She was found in a semi-conscious condition by one of the employes of the cemetery and is now at St. John's hospital in a precarious condition, though there is a slight chance for her recovery.

The case is a very sad one and she was probably led to commit the rash deed by continual brooding over the loss of a son some years ago, her lonely condition and feeble health. While she did not show any outward signs of sorrow, wherever she has been she was always quiet and thoughtful, only now and then referring to the fact that her son's death troubled her.

Shortly before 8 o'clock this morning one of the employes of St. Patrick's cemetery noticed an elderly woman lying on a grave in the cemetery, and thinking that she was overcome by the heat, hastened to where she was and tried to arouse her, but his efforts proved unavailing. He then notified Dennis Meagher, superintendent of the cemetery, and the latter telephoned for the ambulance.

Prior to the arrival of the ambulance it was learned that the woman had attempted suicide, a small bottle bearing a red label with a skull and cross bones and marked "poison," being found by her side. The cork of the bottle had evidently been thrown away and the bottle had been nearly drained. An examination of the contents showed that it was laudanum, a deadly poison, while close by the bottle was a small pill box which was marked "Aloes Belladonna and strychnine pills," and "Carleton & Hovey, druggists," was the inscription on the label. The contents of the box, however, was some powdered substance which looked like phenacetine, which is also poisonous if taken in large quantities.

When the ambulance arrived she was hurriedly taken to St. John's hospital and restoratives were given, and while it was announced at the hospital that her condition is critical, there are strong hopes for her recovery.

On the way to the hospital the woman acknowledged that she had tried to commit suicide but would not give any reason for her rash act, and stated that she had procured the laudanum at Carleton & Hovey's drug store. A representative of The Sun called at Carleton & Hovey's and the management denied that any laudanum had been sold recently. He stated that laudanum was only sold upon a doctor's prescription.

Mrs. McGowan has been the victim of numerous paralytic shocks which prevented her from doing any work in order to take care of herself and has spent much time at the farm. Time and time again she has been discharged from the farm at her own request and at the request of others.

The last time she entered the farm was in October of 1904, and upon the request of a friend she was discharged on May 29th. At that time she had about $21, and after leaving the farm visited Undertaker Peter Davey and stated she was looking for a room where she could live, as she was tired of living at the farm.

Mr. Davey knew that Mrs. Mary Farr of 142 Market street, close by his place, had a vacant room and the room was secured. There Mrs. McGowan stayed until yesterday, when she took a few of her belongings and said that she was going some place else to room.

That was the last that Mrs. Farr saw of her, though several people who knew her stated that they saw her in upper Gorham street late last evening.

In all probability she spent the night in the cemetery at her son's grave, and early this morning decided to end her life. How long she had been on the grave before being found by one of the employes of the cemetery is unknown.

It is understood that she has a sister in Buffalo, N. Y. Those who know her think that she was mentally unbalanced.

REFORM PARTY

Business Men in Philadelphia Score Republicans

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Mayor Weaver today issued a statement bearing upon the letter signed by 21 business men and addressed to Sheriff Miles, chairman of the republican city committee, urging the committee to reform the republican party. The letter suggested that new nominations be made for the fall election.

The mayor's statement is as follows:

"I know nothing about this movement neither as to its origin, nor its purpose. It is a trivial interposition at this time. Some of the gentlemen whose names appear on the address, I am sure can not have understood the true significance and the possible efforts of their action."

MORE DISMISSALS.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17—The only development of importance today in Mayor Weaver's crusade for good government was the dismissal of 30 employes in the bureau of health.

It is generally believed that Mayor Weaver has decided that every man who has had any part in the frauds believed to have been perpetrated upon the city in connection with public works shall be arrested and prosecuted.

This injection of paltry politics at this time is unfortunate.

"The efforts I am making to reform the municipal government and expose the past abuses and crimes have given me no time to consider political questions or political effects. It will be treason to a holy cause to involve it in partisan politics. It makes no difference what persons, what parties, or what organizations fall as the result of their participation in municipal wrongs and crimes of the past. Let them fall. They must fall and be dethroned if the work in hand cannot be completed impartially and honestly and the affairs of the people placed on a firm and secure foundation for the future. I will consider no politics before this work is done.

"Treating with the organization over the question of a ticket for sheriff and coroner, is a futile and misleading diversion. It makes no difference who that organization puts on its ticket at this time. This is not a contest over a sheriff and coroner and I shall not permit it to be reduced to such a lame and impotent conclusion if I can help it. Therefore I speak now and thus strongly, in order that the true friends of municipal regeneration and honest government may be on their guard against either subtle or misleading efforts as would divert the issue, betray the cause and possibly save for further evil, the parent source of all of our woes."

STEAMER ON FIRE

A Serious Explosion is Feared

NEW YORK, June 17.—Fire which started in the hold of the steamer City of Kansas of the Savannah line while she was making her way through the dense fog off Sandy Hook early today and caused a panic among her three score passengers, and which was believed to have been extinguished, broke out anew after she had reached bed dock. When the hatches were removed after the hold had been filled with steam for several hours the flames burst forth and resisted every effort the combined land and water fire fighters could make to subdue them. Late this afternoon the fire was still smouldering in the hold and tons of water were being poured down upon it. Far down in the bottom of the hold there is stored a large quantity of resin and turpentine. It is feared that if the flames reach this material a serious explosion may occur, scattering the fire to all portions of the vessel. Several thousand water melons which were stored in the hold have been destroyed by the heat and the cargo of cotton has been considerably damaged.

GERRISH LIABLE

He Must Pay Miss Foote $10,000

BOSTON, June 17.—James R. Gerrish, master of the house of correction at Deer Island, has abundant opportunity to regret for the part he took in the promotion of the Dumont & Boston mining and milling company's scheme in which figured Francis L. Burton, who was pardoned after he had ingratiated himself into the good graces of the master of the institution in which he was serving a sentence for swindling a railroad company, and Charles F. Berry, the missing trustee and fugitive from justice.

Gerrish was severely scored for the attitude he has assumed by Judge Loring in the supreme court yesterday at the close of the hearing on the bill brought by Miss Frances E. Foote against the Beacon Trust company and Gerrish to get back $10,000 that she lost through the dealings Berry, her trustee, had with Gerrish and Burton.

The court held Gerrish personally liable for the $10,000, and he will have to pay it to Miss Foote, while the other defendant, the trust company, is relieved from the liability.

His honor said that the appearance of Gerrish on the stand was not frank; his testimony was not fair, and a good deal should be inferred against him.

The court said that the scheme to which Gerrish lent himself, as one of four, was to take all the capital stock after enough had been sold to get $75,000 to be paid to the mining company and was a scheme which had the possibility of dealing with large sums of money.

Gerrish, the court said, was told by the trustee, Berry, who was an associate of Burton, the prisoner, that he had a mortgage on which he could get money. Subsequently Gerrish found that the mortgage was not Berry's but was Miss Foote's and he asked Berry in regard to the information he had gleaned. Berry told him a story that does not fit in, said the court, with anything he had known of the matter up to that time.

Berry told Gerrish that Miss Foote was interested in the scheme and that was a lie. Gerrish was not justified in accepting as true, said his honor, that preposterous lie of Berry.

Berry is held liable to Miss Foote, to whom he must account for the $10,000.

While Burton was serving his sentence he interested Gerrish and others in his schemes, resulting in their befriending him and getting him a pardon.

Lately Burton wrecked a bank out west and has been arrested. He left this city after swindling those who had befriended him out of about $30,000.

AN INDIAN BOY

Lost All Night on the Water

HYANNIS, June 17.—Jesse Jeffers, a 13 year old Indian boy of Marthas Vineyard reached Hyannis today after being lost all night on the water. Jeffers started from Edgartown late yesterday in a 13 foot sail boat for his home at Cape Pogue, two miles distant. A thick fog came over the water and the boy lost his bearings. He sailed about all night and landed on the Osterville shore today. He walked to Hyannis. Jeffers says he was never on the mainland before and had no idea where he was when his boat touched the shore. During the night the mast broke and Jeffers lost an oar so that the boat drifted most of the time until it struck bottom.

THIEF RUN DOWN

Has Been Robbing Boarding Houses

IN SEVERAL NEW ENGLAND CITIES

Three Cases Against Him in Lowell

The police of several cities, including Lowell, are after Charles Haynes or Hynes, aged 20 years, a slick boarding house thief, now under arrest in Providence.

A dispatch from Providence concerning the arrest, states as follows: Charles Haynes, 20 years old, who came from Boston 10 days ago and remained about this city looking it over for select boarding houses, was in court today charged with larceny from Angelina E. Nichols and others and he was held for the grand jury in $500.

On each of three other charges of the same character he was fined $20 and costs. His victims in these cases were Henry S. Rowe, Daniel H. Berge, and Harriet M. Beale. The goods were taken from first-class boarding houses on the east side of the river. The accused claimed to be a postal clerk and he would call and make arrangements for a room. He would have a valise, and this he sometimes left behind when he had gone through the house and taken all the jewelry or other valuables he could get hold of.

He admitted all the larceny charges and pleaded guilty. He stated he had secured about $300 in all.

Haynes says that he is a hotel bellboy and that he has worked in Boston and in other New England cities. His home is at Cumberland Hills, Me. He has been accompanied by a woman who hails from Maine also, and the pair have done the town. The woman says she lost a string of gold beads which Haynes stole at a shore place down the bay. Haynes is well dressed and a smooth looking young fellow.

Unless he secures bonds he will have to stay at Cranston until the action of the grand jury next September.

A dispatch from Portland, Maine, reads: Charles Hynes, as he is known to the police here, is believed to be a native of Westbrook, a suburb of this city. The police say he was an inmate about eight years ago of the Maine school for boys, and later was arrested for larceny from a hotel in one of the eastern Maine cities and served a short sentence in jail.

Haynes came here in May 26 and engaged a room at Nuttal's boarding house where he entered three rooms and stole money and other small articles and decamped. He came again in July 8, 1903, on circus day, and engaging a room in the boarding house of Lilla Jackson in Lawrence street, stole about $50 worth of money and jewelry.

The police of this city traced him to Elmira, N. Y., a year later and found him then a parole man from the reformatory there. Because he reformed to the satisfaction of the New York authorities they refused to sign requisition papers permitting the Lowell police to bring him to this state, and for that reason he had never been brought to account for his depredations in this city.

MEN'S MISSION

Will Close at St. Michael's Sunday

The mission which is being conducted at St. Michael's church this week for the men of the parish under the auspices of the Dominican Fathers, is nearing a close and it is estimated that about 1500 men of the parish have made the mission.

Last night there was the usual large attendance and Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., gave instructions on the Holy Rosary after which it was recited and the reverend preacher spoke in an encouraging manner stating that he hoped that the men would continue with the good work they had begun.

In closing he laid great emphasis on the necessity of men keeping out of liquor saloons, especially on Saturday night, stating that that night above all others was the worst as a man who spends Saturday night drinking will not spend his Sunday properly. In all probability he will not go to church at all.

Rev. Fr. Conlin, O. P., delivered the sermon which was taken from St. Luke. He first read the verse in the chapter of St. Luke referring to the prodigal son and likened the prodigal son to the sinner who wanders away from God and who afterwards is received back into grace and forgiven. He made a strong appeal to his hearers to have recourse to the tribunal of penance to wash away their sins and make their peace with God.

At the conclusion of the sermon the benediction of the blessed Sacrament was given, Rev. John J. Shaw officiating.

Last night was a record breaking night for confessions, several hundred men being heard in the basement.

The men's mission will end tomorrow night at 7.30 o'clock when vespers, sermon and benediction will be held and the papal benediction given.

FORTY HOURS' DEVOTION.

The decision was a popular one. Briggs forced the fighting throughout. In the 11th round Coffey landed a stiff blow on Briggs' left ear that dazed him for a minute.

Young Mack of Lawrence, Mass., and Kid Labore of Manchester went on as a preliminary. Mack won in two rounds, Labore going down in the second.

NARROW ESCAPE

LIVELY FIRE ON GROVE STREET

Firemen Took Chances in Saving Money

A fire broke out in the two and one-half story house belonging to E. J. Medina at 8 Grove street about 1.30 o'clock this morning and Mr. James F. Doherty, of Doherty Bros., and his family had a narrow escape from being suffocated.

Mr. Doherty occupied the upper tenement while the lower tenement was unoccupied and was undergoing repairs. During the day yesterday painters and plumbers were working in the tenement underneath and whether it was owing to an accident on their part that the fire started is not known.

About 1.15 o'clock Mrs. Doherty was awakened by a crackling sound. She could not at first realize what the cause was, but when she became fully awakened and found the room filled with smoke and felt herself being overcome, she shouted to her husband in the next room that the house was on fire.

Mr. Doherty immediately donned some clothing and running to the Westford street fire house pulled in an alarm from box 8. Mrs. Doherty then took her baby in her arms and rushed into the street and later on was taken care of by one of the neighbors.

While in the neighbor's house Mrs. Doherty remembered that she had left considerable money wrapped up in a stocking and when the firemen arrived she informed one of them and he rescued the money.

The flames were first discovered in the ell with their starting point apparently in the empty tenement and had worked their way through the partition to the ell. They had a good start and when the fire was discovered the flames had attained considerable headway.

Two streams were laid to fight the fire and quick work of it was made by the firemen.

It was in the neighborhood of three o'clock before the fire was fully under control. Mr. Medina said there was an insurance of from $1500 to $2000 on the house, and it looked as if this would more than cover the loss on the building. Mr. Doherty had an insurance of $500 on his furniture, and as this was probably a total loss it is doubtful if the insurance will cover it.

F. C. Church had the insurance on the house.

SAMUEL LEMA ROBBED OF HIS EARNINGS.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 17.—Samuel Lema, who came from California to Tiverton two weeks ago to reside, was before the district court here today for examination. Five days ago he disappeared from Tiverton and it developed today that he had spent the time since his disappearance wandering in the woods. He had eaten nothing and had evidently been without sleep. When he was taken into court today he had to be supported by police officers. The court ordered Lema sent to the hospital, and he will be placed under observation. No charge has been preferred against the man, but the authorities fear that if he is left at large he will die from lack of nourishment.

BIG VERDICT

AWARD OF $48,300 MADE BY JURY IN CIRCUIT COURT.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 17.—A verdict for $48,500 was returned in the United States circuit court last night in the suit brought by the Montgomery Water Power company, a New Jersey corporation, against William A. Chapman, and others of this city, contractors, the amount sued for being $200,000. The verdict is one of the largest recently returned in the local courts.

The suit was brought to recover damages said to have resulted from delay by the defendants refusing to complete the construction of a dam on the Tallapoosa river in Alabama after it had been partially finished and partially destroyed by a flood on the river. The defendants claimed that the specifications furnished them for the construction of the dam were not for a structure of sufficient strength to withstand the force of water during a flood.

The case in various phases has been tried in the courts of other states and has also been before the United States supreme court.

WORCESTER, June 17—Officials of Worcester County Horticultural Society are interested in the efforts of Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson to interest the farmers of the country in silk worm culture.

Adin A. Hixon, secretary and librarian of Worcester Horticultural Society, gives some interesting facts concerning the only attempt ever made to start the industry in Massachusetts.

The experiments were made in 1839 by Leopold Trouvelot, a French naturalist. He settled near Medford, and at first tried to raise silk from native worms. Trouvelot also introduced European species of silk worms for the same purpose. He was warned at that time by Harvard scientists not to allow any of these moths to escape. Despite this warning some of Trouvelot's moths got away and from such small beginnings was started the gypsy moth plague that has cost the commonwealth upward of a million dollars.

This year $375,000 has been appropriated by the state to aid in exterminating these pests, which are a direct result of the first attempt to raise raw silk in Massachusetts.

NEW TREASURER.

FALL RIVER, June 17—William S. Potter, treasurer of the Flint mills of this city, has been elected by the directors of the Corr Manufacturing Co. of Taunton, treasurer of that corporation, to succeed H. H. Shumway, whose resignation was tendered last week. Mr. Potter will continue treasurer of the Flint mills. Mr. Shumway's retirement from the Corr corporation, is reported to be due to serious differences of opinion between him and some of the stockholders. It was thought possible that Mr. Shumway and some of his friends in Taunton might buy the Watuppa mills property at the sale, Saturday, for the establishment of a plant for his management. Mr. Shumway was present at the sale, but there was, apparently, no bidding in his interest. The Corr Manufacturing Co. has one mill of about 33,600 spindles capacity located in East Taunton.

THAYER'S SPEECH

State Building at Portland Dedicated

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 17.—The Massachusetts building, one of the most beautiful and substantial state structures on the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition grounds, was formally dedicated today in the presence of a large gathering of distinguished persons from all sections of the U. S.

A large party of Massachusetts people journeyed across the continent, to be present at the exercises. In the delegation were 18 members of the Massachusetts house of representatives, a number of members of the state senate, several professional men and a large number of people, men and women, from the lesser public walks of life. The delegation was headed by John R. Thayer of Worcester who represents his district in the congress of the U. S.

Perhaps a more fitting day could not have been selected for the dedication ceremony than the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill and this feature lent general interest to the occasion and presented a theme which was not neglected by the speakers of the afternoon. The ceremonies were opened by Dr. Edwin Lincoln House, who delivered the invocation.

The building was presented to the state of Massachusetts by executive commissioner Wilson H. Fairbanks through Theodore E. Wilcox, the personal representative of Gov. Douglas. Addresses of welcome were made by President Goode of the exposition; Mayor Williams of the city of Portland and Governor George E. Chamberlain, for the state of Oregon. Congressman John R. Thayer was the principal speaker for the Massachusetts delegation. A vocal solo by Mrs. Bloch Bauer of this city concluded the exercises.

An elaborate luncheon and reception followed the dedication ceremonies.

Mr. Thayer in speaking for the Massachusetts delegation, said in part:

We are here, commissioned by his excellency, the governor, the honorable council and state legislature, officially, to represent the commonwealth of Massachusetts upon this anniversary day of the battle of Bunker Hill, and to participate with you in this great historic exposition of the world's progress and to express the deep interest and pride Massachusetts takes in this magnificent exposition which, drawing hither the products of the peoples of the world, is a great national contribution to the world's advancement.

We bear willing testimony of our gratitude to the great northwest for what it has accomplished in the march of civilization, in lighting the torch of liberty and progress on the Pacific slope and in carrying beyond the Rockies and preserving unimpaired the fundamental principles, which were inculcated in the heart and soul of the pioneers, who first came from the old Bay State. We are here from the far eastern shores of Massachusetts bay, having travelled thousands of miles on American soil, bringing glad greetings and earnest congratulations to our brother freemen of this rich and delightful city upon the magnificent success which has attended the fulfillment of a conception as grand as it is inspiring. We meet not as strangers but as friends and relatives filled with the pride of a common ancestry ,linked together by a common heritage, a common aspiration and a common destiny.

It is an affectionate greeting we bring from the mother of states, whose heart beats true and strong for all in the great sisterhood of states, and especially to the representatives of the great northwest, whose energy, perseverance and generosity have invited here the sister states of the union and nations of the world in friendly competition for the edification and instruction of all. The history of Massachusetts is a birthright above all price, for full as it is of great and passionate events marking the milestones in the march of civilization and material development, there is not a page in her annals that will bring the scarlet of shame to the cheek of enlightened men. Doubtless she has faults but they are of the surface. Her heart beats in sympathy for the uplifting and success of the human race.

RED TAPE

ROOSEVELT WANTS DEPARTMENTS TO CUT IT OUT.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—President Roosevelt is after the bureaucrat, who believe that his entire work and that the entire work of the government should be the collecting of the papers in reference to a case, commenting with eager minuteness on each, and corresponding with other officials in reference thereto, to use his words.

In his letter designating Assistant Secretary of the Treasurer Keep, James R. Garfield and three other high department men to find out what changes are needed to place the conduct of the executive business of the government in all its branches on the most economical and effective basis, in the light of the best modern business methods, he says: "These people (bureaucrats) really care nothing for the case, but only for the documents in the case. In all branches of the government there is a tendency greatly to increase unnecessary and largely perfunctory letter writing.

"In the army and navy the increase of paper work is a serious menace to the efficiency of fighting officers, who are often required by bureaucrats to spend time in making reports which they should spend in increasing the efficiency of the battleships or regiments under them. As regards this matter, you will please confer with the assistant secretaries of the War and Navy departments, and request them to submit to me a scheme for doing away with the evils referred to.

"In the civil departments the abuse of letter-writing amounts, not merely to the waste of time of the government servant responsible for it, but also to the impeding of public business."

ROYAL ARCANUM

Some Talk of a New Organization

NEW YORK, June 17.—Resolutions have been adopted by at least nine Royal Arcanum councils within Greater New York appointing committees to investigate the new rates recently promulgated by the supreme council of the order. The councils that have adopted resolutions are: Acme, Fraternity, Brooklyn, Gramercy, Brevoort, Long Island, DeWitt Clinton, Oxford and Whitestone.

Members of the committees will hold a joint meeting next week for the purpose of appointing an executive committee to give the matter serious and undivided attention. In appointing a committee, Fern Council No. 774 declared that a strict investigation should be made as to the reasons for the increased rate, and an explanation asked of the supreme council.

The supreme council representatives in this city, when seen yesterday, declined to make any explanation of the increase dates, District Deputy Grand Regent Sheffield said that it was against the rules of the order to talk of Arcanum business for publication.

"There have been no notices of the increase sent out yet," he said, "and when a council is notified a representative from the supreme council will appear before the subordinate council and explain the new system satisfactorily."

A proposal to form a new order to be known as the American Arcanum was put forward at a meeting of Fulton Council in Brooklyn Thursday night. A resolution was also adopted unanimously to compel the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum to convene a special meeting and rescind the order for higher rates. If this action is not taken, or, as an alternative, if the members do not resign, the resolution provides that the fight be taken at once into the state courts.

Grand Vice-Regent Theodore Thonet and Supreme Representative William W. Sheffield of New York were present at the meeting. In the presence of these high officials of the order charges were openly made that lobbying with a fund of $500,000 supplied by one of the three large life insurance companies had brought about the order from the supreme council for higher rates. Whenever the name of Grand Regent Wiggins was mentioned it was hissed and jeered.

NAMED COMMITTEE.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 17.—Equity Council of the Royal Arcanum, the largest council in New England, has appointed a committee to investigate the legality of raising insurance rates and to ascertain whether the supreme council has acted in accordance with the Massachusetts statute governing the increase of fraternal insurance assessment rates.

Mayor F. W. Dickinson, one of the most prominent members of the order in the East, says that the increase is absolutely necessary. In 1895 the order had a surplus of nearly $500,000, he says; in 1903 it had shrunk to $204,000, and last year the department paid out in death benefits $271,000 more than was received from assessments. Conservative members of the Royal Arcanum state that the increase in rates will result in most of the older members dropping out and in many of the younger members taking out policies in old line companies.

RATE CONDEMNED.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., June 17.—Vernon Council No. 219, Royal Arcanum, passed resolutions unanimously, last night, condemning the new rates as unnecessary, excessive and inequitable, branding the clause relative to members 65 years old uncharitable and detrimental to the order and requesting the supreme council to reconvene and readjust rates. It also condemns the New York representatives for voting for the new rates and commends the Massachusetts representatives for fighting them.

He had carried the weapon for many years without using it, as a protection against vicious dogs. The bullet ranged upwards through Kilmer's clothing, entered the right cheek and lodged in the brain. He died instantly retaining hold of a paris green sprayer which he was using when shot. His age was 60.

ON TRIAL

JOSEPH BYRNES IS ACCUSED OF MURDER.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The trial of Joseph Byrnes, a groom, who had charge of Clarence H. Mackay's polo ponies at Mr. Mackay's country home, Harbor Hill, Roslyn, for the murder of Alexander Kaukuskie, was begun before Justice Keogh of the supreme court at Mineola, L. I., yesterday. Byrnes is charged with shooting the Pole to death in the hotel at Bull's Head after a quarrel about a pool game.

Byrnes's wife died in childbirth a year ago. The baby, Christopher, was in court today, attended by its grandmother, Mrs. Feeney. When the recess was announced at 1 p. m. Mrs. Kaukuskie, the widow of the man who was killed made a rush for Byrnes, screaming:

"Take my children now," she cried. "You killed my husband and now you will have to support my children. I am a poor woman and you will have to take them." One of the woman's three children was in court with her. Two officers seized the woman, but she continued to scream at the defendant.

One of the witnesses said that Byrnes did not draw a revolver until after Kaukuskie threw a pool ball at him. Byrnes's lawyer, Mr. Stoddard, moved that the indictment for murder be set aside, as the prosecution had not shown premeditation. Justice Keogh reserved decision. Mr. Stoddard told the jury that he would show that Byrnes was knocked down and that he fired, while lying on the ground, in self-defense.

KILLED HERSELF

Woman First Tried to Shoot Friend

NEW YORK, June 17.—Miss Minnie Stormer, a pretty dressmaker, aged 27 years, who lived in East Eighty-ninth street, walked into Louis Meyer's shoe store in Third avenue today, tried to shoot Meyer, and then shot herself. Miss Stromer and Meyer had been close friends for two years. Last night she met him escorting another girl and upbraided him.

Miss Stromer pointed a revolver at him, saying: "I'm going to kill you, Louis."

She tried to fire the weapon, but the cartridge failed to explode and Meyer fled to the rear of the store when he called to an employe in the cellar for help. The latter came up stairs far enough to take in the situation and retreated, declaring: "I'm a married man and I don't want to be shot."

Miss Stromer made no further attempt to reach Meyer but while the two men were in hiding she shot herself in the breast and fell dead.

TITLE IN DOUBT

Ownership of Land in Dispute

HALIFAX, N. S., June 17.—According to a Halifax firm of attorneys who are investigating the subject the ownership of a large tract of valuable property included in the immense area of Citadel Hill and vicinity, held by the British military authorities, is in doubt. Persons claiming to be heirs of a family which owned the property before its occupation by the British government are seeking to establish a title, or failing in that attempt to settle the question of ownership beyond question. George Brayley, a Boston musician, is one of those interested in the case and it is understood a brother will go to England shortly to further investigate the case.

Besides a large parcel of land within the Citadel inclosure the claimants name the land upon which stands the military hospital and garrison chapel as property the ownership of which is in doubt. The military gymnasium, military schools and several of the barracks buildings are also situated on the lands. Before the buildings were constructed by the British government years ago the property was owned by a family named Rundt and it is claimed it was leased by the military authorities. The persons who are now investigating the case are of the opinion they say that the leases have expired and it is because of this that attorneys were engaged to take hold of the matter. The leased deeds have not been found and than for there has been no trace of any deed by which the militia authorities acquired the property absolutely. The two parcels of land with the buildings on them, are of great value, situated as they are in the most elevated part of the city. It is understood, however, that should the claimants succeed in establishing a title that the individual gains would not be particularly large as the legal heirs would be numerous.

The military records in England are to be searched by a member of the Brayley family who will sail within a short time.

WENT AGROUND

Excursionists Spent Night on Steamer

DETROIT, Mich., June 17.—Eleven hundred people, who started out last evening on the steamer Columbia for a moonlight ride on the river and dance, were forced to spend the night on the steamer which went aground in a dense fog at 10.30 o'clock at the foot of Pechel island. The excursionists made the best of the situation and spent the night dancing and singing. The passengers were transferred to another steamer after vain attempts had been made to pull the Columbia into the channel and arrived here at 7.30 a. m.

Twelve hundred moonlight excursionists from Wyandotte, Ford and other down river points had a similar experience to that of the people on board the Columbia except their steamer, the Pleasure, spent the night tied to a dock instead of aground. The captain did not care to attempt to thread the river in the dense fog. The Pleasure was tied up from 11.15 last night until about 7 o'clock today. The excursionists made the best of their enforced stay on the Pleasure and danced until daylight.

SEVERAL BREAKS

Residents of Milford Are Alarmed

MILFORD, Mass., June 17.—Considerable uneasiness is being felt by the women of this town as the result of numerous recent breaks into private residences by an unknown man who in each case entered or tried to enter through a window in a woman's bedroom. Two additional attempts were made early today. In one case a man entered the window of a room in a house where Miss Lucy O'Reilly was sleeping. She was awakened by his movements and screamed. The intruder hit her on the head with a stick without, however, seriously injuring her. Upon hearing other members of the family approach the man hastily ran to the window and down a ladder and disappeared. A little later Mrs. Wm. Williams was aroused by seeing a man who was trying to enter her window. She quickly summoned her husband, who chased the man for a quarter of a mile, but the latter escaped.

The authorities are working on the theory that the man is insane.

LAST DAY

FINAL ATTACK MADE BY DICKENS' SQUADRON.

FORT MONROE, Va., June 17.—The last day of the war game opened with an attack on Fort Monroe at dawn today by the destroyers and the gunboats of Admiral Dickens' fleet. Just between dark and daylight, when it was too light for the search lights to be effectively operated and too dark to see without them, Admiral Dickins and three of his destroyers and two gunboats crept close to the walls of the fort before they were discovered. The fusilade was brief, but lively and at its conclusion the offending craft departed towards the Capes.

The squadron is visible in the distance and the officers of the artillery expect the game to end in a fusilade later.

BROKER A BANKRUPT.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 17.—Charles M. Sheldon, a broker, formerly prominent in Kansas politics, has been adjudged a bankrupt with liabilities of $312,500 and assets of $300. Banks and trust companies scattered over the United States are the principal creditors.

BROTHERS MET

Had Not Met for Fifty Three Years

NEW YORK, June 17.—Glen Cove wasn't much of a place in 1852, when James Travis and his younger brother, Ira, sat on the beach and watched the ships pass Hempstead Bay. James was 18 years old and wanderlust had crept into his heart. So he ran away to sea, and Ira never saw him again until the day before yesterday. They were lads when they parted and grayheards when they met. One had gone all over the world, and recently had traveled 12,000 miles to see his brother. The other had strayed from Glen Cove no further than Flushing, but both prospered.

Ira Travis, who is one of the leading men of Flushing, never gave up hope of finding his runaway brother, although everyone tried to convince him that Jim had been lost at sea. He did the best he could to locate the sailor, but it was in vain. Then a relative died, leaving to each of the brothers a fortune said to be about $60,000, and Ira began anew his efforts to find James. Advertisements were published all over the world, and three months ago one of them caught the eye of the missing brother as he sat in his fine house in Dunedin, New Zealand, a retired land agent, with his family about him.

He started for New York on May 9, taking his wife, his son, the Rev. Richard Travis, and his daughter, Mrs. Francis Rustin. They changed steamers at Auckland and Suva, reached Vancouver ten days ago and arrived in New York Thursday on the Empire State Express. Ira Travis was waiting for his brother at the Rossmore hotel, and yesterday he took the party to his home, at Madison avenue and Percy street, Flushing. The brothers were busy in Manhattan part of the day looking after the legacy.

James Travis is a hearty old man, so well off that the legacy is now only an incident to him, but it may come in handy for his family. He has six sons and five daughters. Of the sons one is a minister, another a farmer, a third a woodcarver, one a dry goods merchant, one an upholsterer, and one a professional ventriloquist. Mrs. Rustin, the daughter who accompanied him, is the wife of a man who for fifteen years was Mayor of Dunedin. Mr. Travis' grandchildren number 24.

When Mr. Travis went about Manhattan yesterday and viewed the changes made since he saw the city last, when Ambrose C. Kingsland was mayor, he shook his head in wonderment.

"And I thought Melbourne was a great city!" he said.

BODY FOUND

THE LITTLE ARMSTRONG BOY RECOVERED.

The body of James Armstrong, the boy who was drowned in the Merrimack river yesterday morning while heroically attempted to save the life of a companion, was found this morning by Undertaker Molloy and Charles Armstrong, the father of the boy. The body was taken to Undertaker Molloy's funeral parlors.

Charles Davis and Michael Larkin, the latter the well known swimmer, were the first to discover the body of young Armstrong. Both tried to pull the body to the surface of the water, but it was wedged between two stones and neither one of the swimmers could move it.

They came to the surface and notified Mr. Armstrong, the boy's father, and the latter divesting himself of his clothing, dove in and pulled the body to the top of the water where it was taken into the boat.

A still alarm yesterday summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze on the roof of a house in Moody street, owned by A. Staples' estate. The fire was caused by a spark from a chimney.

AFTER 50 YEARS

Brother and Sister Were Reunited

LAWRENCE, June 17.—For brother and sister to be united after a separation of 50 years is not wholly without precedent, but for their meeting to fall on the anniversary of the separation is surely most remarkable.

Anthony Sherlock of 152 Cedar street, Manchester, N. H., an operative in the mills, has just returned from Lawrence, where he has been visiting his sister, whom he had not seen for a half century. The reunion of brother and sister took place on the anniversary of the day when Sherlock parted from her on leaving the old country for America.

Mr. Sherlock's sister is Mrs. Katherine Cassidy. She lives at 321 Hampshire street. She is an invalid and is cared for by a devoted daughter.

Mr. Sherlock on April 8 lost his wife by death. The account of the funeral was read by Mrs. Cassidy's daughter and an investigation was immediately begun. Mrs. Cassidy and her daughter wrote to Mr. Sherlock and he came to Lawrence.

After coming to America Sherlock lost all trace of his sister. It appears, however, that she married in the old country and came to America. The brother and sister were only 26 miles apart. Neither learned of the other until 12 years ago, when Mrs. Cassidy was told by a friend that an Anthony Sherlock, who looked as if he might be her brother, was working in one of the mills in Manchester. Mrs. Cassidy had long before this made up her mind that her brother was dead for rumor that he had enlisted in the army in the Civil war and was killed in battle had come to her. She went to Manchester and sought out the address of Anthony Sherlock only to find that he had moved away.

Nevertheless, feeling that her brother might be in the city she subscribed to a Manchester paper. For years she scanned its columns but no mention of her brother ever appeared. Then she was broken down with rheumatism and has since been an invalid. The paper, however, she continued to receive, and it was read to her by her daughter.

Last April an account of the death and funeral of Mrs. Anthony Sherlock caught her eye and new hopes that perhaps her brother might be found before she died were aroused. Her daughter wrote to Mr. Sherlock and the correspondence resulted in his coming to Lawrence and the reunion of brother and sister after a separation of half a century.

AT THE HAGUE

Peace Conference May Be Held

ST. PETERSBURG, June 17.—7.09 p. m.—The question of the place of meeting of the Russian and Japanese representatives has been reopened and there is a possibility that The Hague instead of Washington may be selected. After the announcement that Washington had been selected, Russia expressed a desire to have the selection re-considered and exchanges to that end are now proceeding between Foreign Minister Lamsdorff and Ambassador Meyer and Washington. Russia's preference for The Hague is based on the obvious advantages that it is entirely neutralized, the capital of a small state and the site of the arbitration court and also by consideration of time.

THE LATE ALBERT LIBBY.

OFFICER LIBBY

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon

HAD SERVED SINCE 1869

Leaves a Record of Honorable Service

Patrolman Albert E. Libby, one of the oldest members of the Lowell police department, having been in service in the department for over 36 years, passed away yesterday afternoon at 4.10 o'clock at his home, 61 Eighteenth street.

The deceased had been ill but several weeks, but owing to the fact that the disease which caused his death had been bothering him for a good many years his life was despaired of shortly after he had taken to his bed last week.

Mr. Libby was 72 years of age and had watched for 17 years continuously in Centralville. Almost everyone knew the big hearted and jovial policeman who patrolled the Centralville district and his absence from his regular beat will be felt with regret by all the residents of that section of the city. He had lived the greater part of his life in Centralville and on one occasion when there was a shakeup in the police department, and Mr. Libby was assigned to a beat in some other part of the city, a petition was soon started by residents of Centralville to have him restored and the petition was soon granted.

Many a person who has tread the wrong path had been led back by the deceased officer who was always full of sound advice and always thought it better to try and lift a man up who had fallen than have him arrested and brought into disgrace.

On Jan. 9th of this year Officer Libby celebrated the 36th anniversary of his appointment to the force. He quietly observed the occasion and expected to observe several other annuals.

He was appointed on the police force January 9, 1869 by Mayor Folsom. He has served since that time practically without a break, and has been considered one of the most efficient men on the force. Seventeen of those eventful years have been spent on the Centralville beat, and there is hardly a man, woman or child on the north side of the river who did not know him. He was never a demonstrative man, but he had a congenial personality, and was gentle and kind even in the performance of duty.

Albert E. Libby was born in Hartford, Maine, in 1833. He came to Lowell in 1852 and went to work in the Appleton mills. He was employed there as a watchman, and served faithfully for five years. Counting this in with his 36 years on the police force, and his years spent this total 41. On April 20, 1857, he started for New York and San Francisco and spent 10 years on the Pacific coast. His appointment to the local force came in 1869, twelve years later.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Mabel Libby, with whom he lived up to the time of his death, and Mrs. George E. Burns, both of Eighteenth street.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home in Eighteenth street.

MEMORIAL

IN HONOR OF THE REVOLUTIONARY HEROES.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, June 17—A bronze memorial statue in honor of the revolutionary heroes of the town of Framingham was dedicated today in Buckminster Square in the center of the town. A parade was held in which companies E of this town, M of Milford and F of Marlboro, Sixth regiment, M. V. M., participated together with members of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans. The oration of the day was given by Lieut. Governor Curtis Guild, Jr.

The statue which is that of a blacksmith minute man was designed by Mrs. Alice Ruggles Kitson and cast in bronze with a granite pedestal.

GUILTY

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., June 17.—No further defense was offered by Harry McCormack when his trial on the charge of having broken from the Middlebury jail, while awaiting trial on the charge of forgery was resumed here today before Judge Watson of the supreme court. Judge Watson occupied two minutes in his charge to the jury and six minutes later the jury reported a verdict of guilty. McCormack then was arraigned on the charge of forgery, pleaded guilty to two of the five counts of the indictment against him and was remanded back to jail. Sentence in both cases was deferred.

PHILIP WELLER OF MELROSE DROPPED DEAD.

MELROSE, Mass., June 17.—Just as Philip Weller, 23 years old, was about to step from a boat on L. Pond in this city to a float early today, he fell backward and went into the water. Companions held out an oar, but Weller made no attempt to grasp it and the others then quickly pulled him out of the water. Two physicians were hastily summoned, but Weller was dead before their arrival. They pronounced death due to heart failure. With several others Weller had been out in the boat for several hours after midnight.

Sibyl Kelly, a young woman well known down town and with quite a record, has at last landed in jail for yesterday in the superior court she was sentenced by Judge Sherman to six months in jail. She was found guilty of cohabitation with George Richards and Richards was sentenced to jail for one year.

The Kelly woman will be remembered as the one who was horsewhipped on the steps of her home in High street about a year ago. The horsewhipping was done by the wife of a mill corporation employe, the affections of whose husband she had alienated. Then the man was brought into court for not paying for a sealskin cape which he gave to Mrs. Kelly.

MAN WAS RELEASED AND THEN ARRESTED AGAIN.

FALL RIVER, June 17.—Edward Crosson was arrested last night on a warrant alleging the larceny of gas from the Fall River Gas Works company, valued at $324.14. He was bailed out. Last March employes of the gas company found in Crosson's cellar, they allege, an arrangement by which Crosson tapped a service pipe and burned the gas in a furnace to heat his house. Crosson was arrested and fined $250. On appeal Judge Pierce held that the special statute did not apply and ordered Crosson's discharge. The present warrant was then secured.

TO LOCOMOTOR ATAXICS!

After myself suffering for ten years the tortures that only an ataxic can know, I have been relieved of all pain and restored to health and strength by an easily obtained and inexpensive treatment. The prescriptions which cured me (which can be filled by any druggist) I will mail free to any fellow sufferer who sends me a self addressed, stamped envelope. E. P. Burnham, Delmar, N. Y.

Reaping Benefit

From the Experience of Lowell People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Lowell residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. 'Tis emphatic and convincing. No better proof can be had.

Mrs. Wm. A. Buckley, of 9 Chestnut street, Lowell, Mass., says: "Both my husband and myself are very strong advocates of Doan's Kidney Pills. Mr. Buckley took them some six years ago and was completely cured of kidney complaint and backache. He doctored and wore bandages and used liniments and other remedies but nothing did him any good until he got Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store on Merrimack St. The use of three boxes cured him and he regards it a pleasure to tell others of the great value of this medicine. Some time after he was cured I was taken with backache and other noticeable symptoms of kidney complaint. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon banished the backache and corrected all other difficulties. I take a few when I feel that the kidneys are sluggish and they always tone me up and make me feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

NARROW ESCAPE

If four-year-old Louise Payette should live to be 100 years old she will never have a narrower escape from death than she had yesterday, when a great touring car passed over her, rendering almost speechless the persons who witnessed it.

Little Louise was crossing the street at the corner of Spaulding and Merrimack streets and did not see the great touring car that was coming down the street at full speed from Pawtucket street. It is not known if the little girl threw herself down in front of the machine or if she was knocked down. The fact remains, however, that the machine passed over her without doing her injury. She lay between the wheels and no part of the machine touched her.

The machine was driven by a Mr. Eldridge of Boston upon whom no blame attaches. He stopped the car and did all that one in his position could do. He did not see the child in time to stop the machine, and if any medical aid was required he was willing to pay for it. Louise Payette's parents live in Bilbeault's block, Moody street.

THE STREETS IN MEDFORD WERE CROWDED.

MEDFORD, Mass., June 17.—A salute of 21 guns fired at sunrise by Lawrence battery opened today's observances in this city, the most elaborate of those held this week in honor of the two hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary of the settlement of Medford. The fact that this was Bunker Hill day, observed as a holiday in Boston and vicinity, made the celebration more general than on previous days and the streets and play-grounds were thronged. The leading feature of the forenoon was a parade through the main part of the city participated in by a military brigade, a civic division and floats representing the various trades of Medford and the city departments. General G. Whitney commanded the military division, which headed the parade and which included members of the Fifth regiment, M. V. M., heavy artillery of the First regiment, Roxbury horse guards, signal corps of the Second brigade, naval brigade, High school brigade, civil and Spanish war veterans and Sons of Veterans. Six bands and drum corps accompanied the long line. A ball game was also played on the common during the forenoon between Arlington and Medford High schools. Later a long program of athletic games was carried out at Playstead, West Medford.

A band concert and fireworks on the common this evening will end the day's celebration and special services in the various churches tomorrow will bring the anniversary observances to a close.

JOHN MYLES

BARRINGTON, R. I., June 17.—An interesting ceremony from a historical viewpoint took place at the Town hall and the Tylers Point cemetery here today when a monument to Rev. John Myles, founder of the First Baptist church in Massachusetts and Rhode Island was dedicated. The exercises were under the auspices of the Barrington Historical Antiquarian society and the Bristol County Historical society. At the ceremonies in the Town hall, Thomas W. Bicknell, of Providence, president of both historical associations, presided, and delivered a brief address.

Mr. Myles died in 1653.

LADD AND WHITNEY CIRCLE.

The regular meeting of Ladd & Whitney circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., was held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The president, Miss Ford, being absent, Vice-President Mrs. George Burtt presided. A letter from Post 185 was read expressing their gratitude toward the circle for providing such a bountiful collation on Memorial Day. There was also an invitation from Wauchatchie command, U. V. U., extended to the circle to attend the memorial services to be held at the Eliot church tomorrow night.

The department corresponding secretary, Mrs. May Lee De Sorgher of Boston, was present and addressed the meeting. After the meeting adjourned the annual strawberry festival was held from 6 p.m. to 8. Then an enjoyable entertainment followed. The young people of the First Congregational church presented a laughable farce entitled "The Peddler's Parade." Those taking part were: Clarence Cutler, Edith Maker, Chester Martel, Arvella Peabody, Ralph Clark, Blanche Atkinson, Ella Martel, Iva Connell, Alice Cochrane, Ed. Nelson, Will Nelson, George Mevis, Bessie Worrell, Wilbur Johnson, Walter Wilson, Lottie Spriggs. Then followed a vocal solo by Miss Nora Johnson, piano accompaniment by Mrs. O. C. Johnson; a "medical lecture," Edward Nelson; and solo by Will Nelson.

ATTACKED WOMAN AND BIT HER SEVERAL TIMES.

TREMONT, June 17.—A vicious mongrel dog broke from his chain at Peirceville Thursday, as Mrs. Samuel Gurney, a young married woman, was entering the dooryard, and bit her eight times upon the leg and arm.

Mrs. Gurney lies in a critical condition. Her husband is employed in the machine shop at the Tremont nail works. The dog's owner is Miss Edith Davis, daughter of Nehemiah Davis, a neighbor, in Briggs' lane.

Mrs. Gurney has been bitten by the dog before, the neighbors say. It has been a terror in the neighborhood for a long time, since Mr. "Wat" Cobb presented it when young to Miss Davis. It was generally tied up.

When the dog attacked Mrs. Gurney Thursday she grabbed his collar and held on, in spite of his bites. It took the combined efforts of two women to choke the beast into submission. The dog has been killed.

BACK TO LIFE

RESUSCITATED AT THE HOSPITAL

After a Long Period of Unconsciousness

Thomas McDermott, aged 22 years and residing at 316 Adams street, had a narrow escape from being drowned last night, and in fact was brought back to life after it was believed that he had been drowned.

McDermott with a number of friends was swimming in the western canal near the Red Bridge near Walker street last evening about 8 o'clock. He got some distance away from the bank, when his friends heard him calling for assistance. Several of his companions went into the water and soon reached the place where he was, but he had sunk beneath the surface of the water and owing to the darkness of the night they had some difficulty in locating him.

He was finally brought to the bank in an unconscious condition and it was believed by all that he had been drowned, but the chance of life remaining was taken and every effort was made by artificial respiration to save him.

For half an hour his friends worked over him, and put on his clothes to keep warmth in the body, but no sign of life had appeared when a carriage arrived to convey him to the hospital. He was hurried to St. John's and on arrival there the efforts toward resuscitation were continued.

After half an hour more of effort there was a faint sign of life and this urged the physicians to continue their work. Consciousness gradually returned and in half an hour more McDermott was again able to sit up and after an hour he had so far recovered strength that he was able to return to his home.

THIRTEEN YACHTS STARTED IN THE BIG RACE.

DOVER, Eng., June 17.—Thirteen yachts started from here today in the annual race from Dover to Heligoland, a Prussian island in the North sea, for Emperor William's cup in a heavy rain storm and with a light wind blowing. Shortly afterwards at about noon, the American yachts Atlantic and Apache and the British yacht Valhalla got away in a fog over the same course for a special cup offered by Emperor William for the auxiliary yachts which participated in the recent trans-Atlantic race.

WITH THE HORSES.

Outside of the Suburban the betting was comparatively light at Sheepshead, Thursday. Though the running of the first race was put back fifteen minutes because of the strike of the Mets, there was practically no big betting on that event at all. The handicap was the chief magnet for the money. Joe Hayman bet $2000 on Beldame, Henry Grann and H. R. Shaffer placed $1000 each on the mare, who also carried $500 bets made by Newton Bennington, George Newton, W. Gratz, Joe Vendig and others. The clubhouse commissioners at the last moment wagered $900 on Beldame, and when the horses were at the post Delhi and Beldame were equal favorites at threes.

Proper had the support of many smart speculators. Wheelock bet $1500 on him. Honest John Kelly, Eddie Burke, Kid Rogers, Sammy Carrol, Abe Lonergan and Billy Hayes all bet $1000 on the Prestonpans horse. Dave Johnson wagered $1500 on Jacquin. Jesse Lewisohn went to Delhi for $2000, Sol. Lichtenstein and Smith Kelmo for $1000 each, Bill Porter for $1500 and Orlando Jones and Bill Cowan for smaller amounts.

Bennington and Lichtenstein cashed on Ivan the Terrible in the first race, with Dave Johnson splitting $1000 on Jocund. When "Diamond Jim" Brady's Water Light won the second race Jesse Lewisohn cleared up $6000. Tommy Meehan, who possibly bet for Brady, had $1500 on the colt, and Bennington $500. Wheelock lost $2500 on Agilo, Eddie Burke $1000 Joe Hayman $1000, Bob Tucker $1000 and Timothy D. Sullivan $500. Orlando Jones and Henry Griffin went to Sinister with Tom Costigan, Max Blumenthal and Alex Shields playing Uncas. Sam Hildreth split $500 on Jake Sanders.

George C. Bennett, the winner of the double event, was played by all the western operators. The clubhouse commission was $5000. Joe Hayman bet $2000 on Bennett. Sol. Lichtenstein placed $1000 on Bohemian. Counsellor Litchtenstein took Bohemian for $500. Morris Stack bet $1500 on Jerry Wernberg, who was also backed by Johnny Coleman and Ike Thompson.

The fifth race was a gold mine for those who backed John E. Madden's Timber, for even after the colt ran away and his price went up to 2½ to 1 after closing at 7 to 5, his supporters went up and down the line and backed him down again. George Wheelock placed $2500 on Timber; so did Joe Hayman, with Charles Head Smith wagering $5000, Kid Rogers $2000, Sol Lichtenstein $1000; Sammy Carroll $1000, Joe Vendig, Fred Lowe, John Waldman, R. Reilly, John Madden, Fred Johnson and Abe Lonergan $500 each. Bob Tucker, John E. Moran and Johnny Coleman played accountant. John A. Drake bet $2000 on Memories in the last race. Charles Head Smith and Lewisohn also backed the mare heavily, with Wheelock playing Orly II., Honest John Kelly taking Pretension and Sam Hildreth Action.

The Suburban Handicap was worth $17,600 to the winner. This turf classic was first run in 1884, the winners being Gen. Monroe, Pontiac, Troubadour, Eurus, Elkwood, Raceland, Salvator, Loantaka, Montana, Lowlander, Ramapo, Lazzarone, Henry of Navarre, Ben Brush, Tillo, Imp, Kinley Mack, Alcedo, Gold Heels, Africander and Hermis, who holds the record for the race, 2.05.

There are 203 bookmakers of all classes operating on the track, including 74 Mets and 10 non-members in the front line, 82 in the back line, 18 standees and 109 in the field.

SILVER WEDDING

Of Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Observed

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hobson of the Belvidere School of Languages and Music, 351 East Merrimack street, observed the 25th anniversary of their marriage at their home, yesterday, with a reception between 5 and 10 p. m. and received the congratulations of many friends.

Others present from out of town yesterday were Colonel and Mrs. Frank Dalton and Miss Dalton of Salem, Mrs. George L. Goodale, wife of Prof. Goodale of Harvard college; Miss Minnie Gilman of Cambridge, Mrs. Hobson's sister Mrs. L. D. Dennett of Saco, Me., Miss Anna Mueller of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Hobson's brother, Dr. Adolph Kettenbeil of Cambridge. A large number of Lowell friends called to offer congratulations.

The drawing room was beautifully decorated with mammoth bouquets of white and pink peonies, Jacqueminot roses, carnations, and the fireplace was screened with field daisies. The library had bouquets of pinks and maidenhair ferns and of buttercups. In the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served, there were clusters of Fair Maid pinks and of daisies. Miss Alice Littlefield, Miss Elizabeth Abbott, Miss Gertrude Abbott, Miss Bonney Lilley and Mr. Nelson Coburn, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Hobson in entertaining guests, and Master Ralph Coburn was page. Mr. and Mrs. Hobson were recipients of a large number of beautiful sterling silver gifts, several books, a liberal amount of money and many lovely flowers.

INAUGURATED BY BELL CLOTHING COMPANY.

The big combination sale inaugurated today at the Bell Shoe & Clothing Co. has for its inception an original and novel idea. Each department manager is responsible for the success and gross amount of sales in his own department, having received full power to make such price concessions and offer the biggest bargains imaginable to make a big showing. The following is taken from a few remarks to a Sun reporter: Mr. T. C. Driver, head of the ladies' department says:

I am pleased to be in a position to show what I can accomplish in my department and have every confidence in the bargains I can offer my friends and patrons. It comes very opportune as my stock consists of the newest and brightest seasonable garments for present wear.

Mr. M. Kelly, head of the men's clothing department, says: At no time of the year could this sale have been more appropriate. Backward season, cold weather, etc., has left us with more spring clothing than we ought to have and as I've got carte blanche on prices, there'll be some tall hustling in this department.

Mr. A. Flanders, head of the shoe department, says: A snap—well I should say so. There'll be more bargains sold in my department than ever before, because I am determined, irrespective of cost, to make this the record-breaking era of the department.

Mr. J. Corrigan, head of the boys' and children's department, says: I am going to boom this department to the top notch. I'll set the other fellows such a pace on bargain getting that they'll have to trot a fast gait not to get distanced.

Mr. E. Mountain, head of the furnishing goods department, says: With the free hand given me by the firm, I'm going to give the boys some prices on straw hats and fancy fixings that'll do their heart good. Swell negligee shirts, neckwear, fancy hose, etc., all included in this sale.

What Mr. M. M. Jacobs, general manager, says: I am glad to see my colleagues take hold of this innovation sale with such zest and vim, and while, of course, the rivalry is of a friendly nature, each department manager vies with the other in making a higher gross return, and while the people of Lowell reap the benefit of the cut prices, the popularity of the "Bell" and the introduction of new customers will ultimately repay us for the sacrifice of profit. The Bell Shoe and Clothing Co., 31 to 41 Merrimack street.

FREDERICK AYER CONTRIBUTES TO FAIR OF AYER EMPLOYES.

Mrs. Bertha Lee, who had charge of the recent bazaar given by the employes of the J. C. Ayer company in aid of the Lowell General hospital, has received a check for $100 from Frederick Ayer with a kind letter complimenting the employes for their good work. The check swells the receipts of the affair to $500.

The J. C. Ayer company is shut down today. Just prior to Washington's birthday the employes were given their choice of holidays and they unanimously declared themselves in favor of the 17th.

GET OUT TO CHURCH AND THEN TO THE WOODS ON SUNDAY.

Get out of the crowded city on Sunday. Go to church and then to the woods or the country away from the hustle of city life.

For the million who toil incessantly during the week, there is but one day of rest—Sunday—and a great deal depends upon how they use that day, whether to their detriment or to their benefit. To loiter around home, in the same environment, unsanitary mayhap it be, to seek no recreation, no change of scene, no refreshment from the invigorating breezes of the woods, the mountains or seashore, would be wasting the opportunities for gaining health, strength and happiness and at the same time for prolonging life. It would be wilful waste of one of heaven's best gifts, the divinely appointed Sabbath, when the man and woman who toil during the week are privileged to rest and to recuperate for the work of the ensuing week. The human body and the mind as well is somewhat like a clock, it gets run down at regular intervals or about once a week, and requires renewed energy and inspiration to carry it over the labors, worries and responsibilities of another week.

Sunday then is the time for recharging the storage batteries with the energy needed for the battle of another week.

How is it to be done? What is the best method of spending Sunday?

Where most people profess some form of Christian faith, we presume the first duty will be to provide for the soul the spiritual sustenance needed, for man is a spiritual or supernatural as well as a physical being. The body requires rest, nourishing food and plenty of fresh air; the mind requires relaxation and change of scene that will overcome that mental occupation that is the dread of intellectual workers and so difficult to cast off.

Of what use is it to the mental toiler to have a respite if the mental "wheels" are still in operation, if he is still pondering over the matters that engaged his attention during the past week or that may engage it during the coming week.

Hence to obtain real mental or even bodily rest the occupation of the week must be for the nonce forgotten and left behind; for mental work is sometimes quite as exhausting as physical labor.

Then to rest properly on Sunday, the work of the week must be forgotten. This cannot be done by poking around the office, looking over the books seeing what was done wrongly and what might have been improved upon. The best way to overcome this tendency is to take to the woods.

The trolley lines have many inviting trips and the companies have provided many delightful resorts. Visit them or else go into the woods, there to commune with Nature in her wildest retreats, to listen to the singing of the birds, the sighing of the pines and enjoy the sweetness and beauty of the flowers and the inspiration of scenic grandeur.

But to the people who live in the congested districts in poor tenements and unsanitary surroundings the opportunity to get out into the woods should not be lost.

If Lowell were situated like Brockton, Quincy, Salem, Malden, Lynn, Gloucester, Boston, and other cities near the sea, we would advise everybody to use the trolleys to get to the beaches—there to enjoy the fresh breezes from the broad Atlantic; but being rather distant from the seashore the vast majority must be contented with the woods and the summer resorts which have their peculiar attractions as well as the beach.

Stand in one of the great union stations in Boston on a hot day and watch the vast streams of people that keep continually pouring outward to the country and the mountains and the equally vast streams which pour inward to the beaches. The people tire of one thing and seek change of scene which has its beneficial effects; but the poor workingman cannot take long trips. It will serve his purpose best to take his whole family out to the parks or the commons; or, better still, for a trolley ride to the suburbs where all can wander at will in the cool shade and drink in the pure air that is an unknown quantity in the burning streets of the city. When men loiter around their homes on Sunday, they do not feel right and yet they do not know what ails them. To overcome this ennui they have recourse to strong drink and too often by excessive indulgence turn the Sunday into a curse instead of a blessing. Not only do they thus abuse their own physical health, but they spend what should go to buy food or clothing for their families. How much better to go to the woods and return refreshed, good humored, cheerful and happy.

The man who gets out to the woods on Sunday or any other day is not so likely to have that craving for strong drink which is brought on by bad digestion and impure air. A trip to the woods will serve as an excellent tonic for body and mind. It is one of the ways in which the poor family can derive most benefit from the day of rest and fortify themselves most effectually against the inroads of disease. Therefore, let us again advise all who can do so conveniently to take to the woods—get out of the crowded city on Sunday; get out to the forests and parks, to the rivers and mountains, to the summer resorts with their lakes and their fountains, not to engage in roller skating but to rest the body and regale the mind with fine scenery and it may be sacred music that has always the power to charm.

FRANCE HEADS ALL THE OTHER COUNTRIES.

The fact that practically a million dollars' worth of automobiles and parts thereof have been exported from the United States since the beginning of the present calendar year lends interest to the following compilation prepared by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics, showing the imports and exports of automobiles in the commerce of the United States.

The first record of the importation of foreign-built automobiles into the United States was for the fiscal year 1901, when 26 automobiles, valued at $43,126, were imported into the country. Since that year, however, the imports have steadily increased, having grown from 26 in 1901 to 423 in 1904, while their value (including automobile parts) has increased from $47,471 in 1901 to $1,416,303 in the last fiscal year.

During the last fiscal year France supplied 85 per cent. of the importations of automobiles into the United States, the value of the imports from that country being nearly seven times as much as the combined value of the imports from all other countries. From France 368 automobiles, valued at $1,117,494, were imported, while from all other countries the total number was 55, valued at $176,666.

A special compilation recently made by the bureau of statistics shows the ports through which foreign-built automobiles enter the country. New York, Boston, Chicago, Newport, R. I., and Philadelphia are, in the order named, the principal ports for the admission of foreign automobiles into the United States. The number and value imported at each port during the past year were as follows: At New York, 358, valued at $1,106,128; Boston, 41, valued at $121,252; Chicago, 10, valued at $19,597; Newport, R. I., 6, valued at $10,048; and Philadelphia, 4, valued at $17,167; while through the ports of Newark, St. Louis, Mobile, and San Francisco 4 automobiles, with a combined value of $10,668, entered the country.

The rate of duty assessed on importations of automobiles and parts of is 45 per cent. ad valorem, and the aggregate amount of duties paid on the total imports thereof since 1901 is $1,373,835, having been $21,350 in 1901, $247,599 in 1902, $454,050 in 1903, and $650,836 in 1904.

The exportations of automobiles of domestic manufacture have been recorded only since 1902. In that year the total exportation of automobiles and parts thereof was $345,528; in 1903 the total had increased to $1,207,064, and by 1904 the total was $1,895,605; while for the ten months of the fiscal year 1905, for which figures are available, the total is $1,876,063, thus indicating a record of over $2,200,000 for the complete year which ends with the present month.

The United Kingdom and Canada take about three-fourths of the automobiles and parts thereof that are exported from the United States. During the fiscal year 1904 automobiles and parts thereof of domestic manufacture were exported to the value of $1,895,605, of which $1,020,651 went to Europe, mainly to the United Kingdom, $498,793 to North America, principally to the Dominion of Canada, and $376,125 to other countries.

In view of the rapid increase in the use of automobiles in the United States and the large proportion of imported automobiles brought from France, the following extract from Consulaire Verslagen en Berichten, published at Amsterdam, will be of interest. From this statement it will be seen that France, as well as the United States, imports foreign-built automobiles in response to the demand for machines other than of domestic manufacture, and that she also exports far in excess of such importations. The statement is as follows:

According to a statement by the administration of direct taxes, the number of automobiles in France in 1903 was 19,855, or, in round numbers, 20,000. This is a marked increase over the preceding year. In 1899, when the first census of these vehicles was held, their number was 1438; in 1900 it was 2351; in 1901, 3286; in 1902, 11,000 and in 1903, 18,855. The greatest number in any department is 4510, in the department of Siene. As automobiles are an article of export and of great utility to the less wealthy class, it is hoped that a drop in price will popularize their use.

One incident of the industry is the decrease in the number of horses. From 1903 to 1904 the number of horses in Paris dropped from 91,016 to 90,147, a difference of 869. In 1901 there were 133,502, making a decrease in 1901 of 43,745 as compared with 1901. At Lyons the same thing was observed, although there the underground railway may have contributed. The 20,000 vehicles represent a value of about 40 million dollars.

During the first two months of 1904 automobiles to the value of $358,316 were imported, as compared with $123,539 and $58,816 for the same periods in 1902 and 1903. Although there has thus been an increase in the value of imports, still it bears no comparison with the value of exports, which for the same two months were $5,267,348 in 1904, $3,670,816 in 1903, and $3,462,613 in 1902.

NEW CUBA

NUMBER OF AMERICANS HAVE SETTLED THERE.

HAVANA, June 16.—Cuba has no compiled statistics which would serve as a trustworthy basis for statements concerning the number of Americans who have settled in the island or for estimates of the land which has been bought by American citizens during the last six years, yet both form a noticeable element in the Cuba of today. It is certain that the settlers are to be estimated in thousands rather than in hundreds, and it is possible, and even probable, that somewhere between 7 per cent. and 10 per cent. of the entire area of the island is owned outright by Americans.

The acquisition of land has followed a variety of channels. The Cuba Railway company, organized under a New Jersey charter, purchased the land for its line, 459 miles in length, and has bought various tracts along its route. The so-called tobacco trust has purchased a large number of scattered tracts in the tobacco areas. A few companies have bought sugar lands with a very considerable total acreage. Other tracts, large and small, have been bought for purposes of cultivation, for cattle raising, for timber operations, mining operations or for speculation pure and simple. A few tracts have been taken with a view to the erection of winter residences, and one costly building of this kind is already well under way at Mariel, about 25 miles west of Havana.

Another channel appears in the form of speculative investment in large tracts for sub-division and sale to small holders. Some of these have been little if anything better than deliberate swindles. Others have been started in a mixture of good faith and general ignorance. It is impossible to say how many buyers have been victimized by such enterprises. Some have come to occupy the tracts which they have bought solely on the basis of lurid descriptions of glorious climate and wonderful soil, spread before them in pamphlets prepared for such as they by the promoters of the enterprise. Many have gone home again disgusted with their experience and embittered by their losses. Some have stayed to fight it out because no other course was open to them, and a few have been fairly successful.

There is really very little reason for any American emigration to Cuba. Probably 95 per cent. of those who come do so with the idea that the natural richness of the island is so great that wealth will come to them without obliging them to contribute any of that unnatural aid known as hard work. Disappointment will surely be one of the principal crops secured by any who come with that idea in their heads. Any man who believes that Cuba is an exception to the fundamental law that the cost of bread is the sweat of the brow should at once revise his opinion. Cuban opportunities furnish ground for arguments and inducements whose soundness is apparent rather than actual. On a basis of modest capital backed by intelligent industry the average American will do quite as well in his own land as he will in Cuba or Porto Rico or the Philippines. Most Americans will do even better at home.

NOTIFIED OF DATE OF HIS EXECUTION.

OSSINING, N. Y., June 17.—Official notice of the date of his execution for the murder of millionaire William Marsh Rice was served upon Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, in his cell in Sing Sing yesterday. The date is Aug. 7. Patrick did not seem to be in the least disturbed by the warden's announcement. He said that the court had nothing else to do but to set a new date for the carrying out of the sentence, but he intimated that the warden would not be called upon to enforce the death penalty on that date and that steps would be taken at once to secure a further delay by making another appeal for a new trial.

The letter was accepted and placed on file.

The secretaries are incensed at the criticism made by the manufacturers that they are responsible for the large number of operatives that have left the city. The secretaries deny the allegation.

THAW GIVES ALIMONY TO ACTRESS WIFE.

CHICAGO, June 17.—A check for $75,000 is said to have been given by Charles F. Thaw of New York to Frances Rush, formerly a chorus girl, who received a divorce from Thaw yesterday. The divorce was granted by Judge Albert Akers on statutory grounds, Thaw making no defense. No mention of alimony was made in the decree given Mrs. Thaw, but her lawyer declares a check for the sum named was given to her by Thaw, the lawyer negotiating the transaction. The Thaws were married four years ago.

HOW TO SUCCEED

Points for Young Men to Consider

"That article recently printed in the 'Points for Subordinates' on the discouraging note offered by public men, by saying that not all can hope to attain the highest eminence, reminds me of the army," said a veteran of the civil war last night. "When a regiment or a brigade was lined up to go into battle, we felt certain that some of us were going to be killed. As a matter of fact, some were killed in every engagement that I entered. I was a private and went where commanded. On more than one occasion I have seen our solid ranks thinned out and comrades on both sides go down, yet it never occurred to me that I would be killed. That was the chance a soldier didn't like to consider. The moment he began to feel that he would be shot, his knees began to tremble, his aim was vague and his courage insecure. While we knew to a dead moral certainty that some of us would never sit around the camp-fire again, every soldier cultivated the feeling that he and he alone of the regiment was going to be the one to escape the enemy's bullets.

"That sort of a feeling and that determination made the battle hot and long and often brought victory. As I was going to say, it is the sentiment to be applied in the ordinary peaceful affairs of life. When I see a lot of young men together listening to wise counsel, I like to have them told that each one is in all likelihood the man who will escape the enemy's bullets; that each is the lucky one; and that there is no doubt that each can reach the highest goal—it all depends on the effort put forth. As your writer suggested, some of them will thereby shoot pretty tall trees, as all are taught to aim high."

UP BY HARD WORK.

"The Memoirs of an American," a serial running in the Saturday Evening Post, could be read by every young man, making an earnest beginning in life, with considerable profit. It is only a plain narrative of a boy who began at the bottom in Chicago and by his own sturdy determination pulled himself to wealth and position. The story is of interest because it reads like truth. The incidents related are so commonplace and so matter-of-fact that it requires no imagination to believe them. The lesson of the story is especially valuable to the young man because it shows how success can be achieved by work and struggle without the entrance at any point of the factor of luck or chance.

Harrington, the American who succeeded, won for himself by following the plain signposts of success. He worked diligently, enthusiastically in every position that he held from delivery boy in a meat market to the top of the packing-house ladder. In addition to this, he saved money out of every salary that he received. Even at the beginning, when he earned barely enough for support, he saved something. He studied his business constantly and thoroughly, and he strove to please every customer with whom he came into contact. But even with these virtues, his success was not meteoric. He rose only by slow and laborious degrees. Every additional prize was wrested from the world with effort; every step upward represented toil. Harrington won because he understood his business and because he never relaxed his efforts. He won the fight because he fought intelligently and gallantly.

The point in this story that should especially impress itself upon the youth is the fact that from the first, from the time when he walked the streets of Chicago without a roof and without the price of a meal, Harrington never doubted his ability to succeed, never lost his determination to win wealth. It is this fixed purpose that tells for success. Pretty nearly anything that a strong man determines to secure he can get if his determination and effort never flag. It is the serious perseverance of purpose that is the chief characteristic of the Japanese people. It is this that has stood for much of their success in war and peace.

The youth who starts in determined to succeed, confident that he can and will succeed, and who never relaxes effort for an instant, will, like Harrington in the story referred to, land at the top.

TAILORS DIVULGE SOME POINTS.

At their banquet the other night the merchant tailors of New York, who are interested in such things, had some matters under discussion that young men could profit by hearing. Said one:

"There is no man in business who does not have to give and get credit. Credit is the cheapest thing in the world. We are taken at our own valuation. The young man who seeks to sell his services with the air of 'Kick me before somebody else does,' gets a menial's job and pay for the rest of his days. The well-dressed, clean fellow with an air of confidence will be his boss. We have heard all our lifetime that nine out of every ten business men fail. Statistics prove this untrue. About five out of every hundred fail. Out of 1,560,000 business men but 60,000 failed last year."

JUST AS YOU ARE!

"If you are willing to make a door mat of yourself, do not be surprised if people wipe their feet on you and kick you aside," says Success.

Well Begun Is Half Done

If you are starting in business in Lowell the best thing you can do is to advertise in The Lowell Sun. All the people will then read your sign. Begin well and success is half won. Merchants who introduce themselves through the columns of the favorite paper of the people are sure of success. In no other way can they so easily and so cheaply attract the attention of the masses. A word to the wise is sufficient.

GOOD BUSINESS

REPORTED BY THE JOBBERS IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Jobbers had no complaints to make yesterday over the manner in which summer business is moving along. Cooler weather in a measure kept the city retail buyer out of the market, but mail orders, especially from the south, were very encouraging. From all the principal southern cities very favorable reports have been received. Business in New Orleans has been particularly good. Several of the department stores report May sales as ahead of last year for the same period by over 30 per cent. Salesmen just back from southern trips report that the business outlook all through the south was never brighter. One salesman who travels eight months in the year through southern territory, and who has been doing this for past thirty years, said yesterday:

"I have just returned from a two months' trip through the south, and have booked excellent orders both for current needs and next fall. I have watched the south develop for over 25 years, and people in the north don't realize the enormous resources and opportunities there. Many of the largest cotton mills in this country have realized that they must get in closer touch with the section which produces raw material. They have gone south. In certain sections towns are springing up around these new plants. Many hands are employed, and good wages are being paid. This has helped to put more money in circulation, and has naturally helped the retail storekeeper. In former years the retailer depended largely upon the farmer, who received money for his cotton or other products once or twice a year. This meant that the retailer must give credit and carry his account for eight months, or may be a year. Today these same retailers are doing a large cash business, wherever there is a cotton mill within shopping distance.

"New Orleans looms up large in the future. The coming Panama Canal means that this city will be one of the greatest and busiest in the United States at no very distant date. Already signs toward this end are apparent. Men with money are today getting options on property in and around the city, where it is possible. Others are planning new companies. Three new steamship lines have been announced with New Orleans as the home port. Raw material, including cotton, is plentiful, including iron ore, lumber, cement fields, and many other things too numerous to mention. All I can say is, keep your eye on the south."

WILL MEET THE "MAN WITH THE HOE."

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 16—One of the most interesting episodes in the history of literature and art seems likely to take place during the coming summer at the Lewis and Clark exposition. "The Man With the Hoe," Millet's celebrated painting, and Edwin Markham, author of the still more famous poem of the same name, which was inspired by the painting; are expected to meet face to face in the museum of art at the exposition. A coincidence that adds interest to this expected event lies in he fac ha Edwin Markham is a naive of Oregon City, only twelve miles from Portland, where the exposition is held. The poet grew up there, and doubtless was more or less familiar in his boyhood with the beautiful spot where the great fair has been built.

The Millet painting is now owned in San Francisco, where Markham's poem was first published. Frank Vincent DuMond, director of fine arts at the Portland fair, is negotiating with Mr. Crocker, owner of he picture, to secure the world-famed work as one of the attractions in the museum of art, where Mr. DuMond is now installing a splendid collection of paintings by the most renowned artists of America and Europe, and many representative works by western artists.

It is the hope of the exposition management that Mr. Markham may be present during "Western Authors' Week" at the fair, from July 10 to 15, culminating in "Poets' Day." The final day of the week was named in honor of Joaquin Miller, who in a letter to the department of special events insists that it be called "Poets' Day" and that all poets of recognized worth be invited. Miller declares that he is "not entitled to first place except by right of antiquity," and that he has "tried on the halo fashioned for him by the exposition and it doesn't fit." Nevertheless, the day is most likely to be known as "Joaquin Miller Day," though it is expected that a considerable number of poets will be in attendance.

During "Western Authors' Week" it is believed that a large gathering of authors will attend the exposition and take part in certain exercises and social functions to be arranged by the committee in charge. This is the first exposition that has given such recognition to the authors, and the idea is attracting wide attention. Joaquin Miller, the dean of western writers and poets, is a native of Indiana, though he grew up in Oregon and did much of his early literary work in that state. He now resides near Oakland, Cal. He is famous both in Europe and America. Recently his complete poetical works have been collected and published, with characteristic comments by the author.

HIS HAND INJURED.

While adjusting a large motor yesterday afternoon George W. Conant, head machinist for Derby & Morse, had his right hand too close to the rapidly revolving exhaust fan with the result that the index finger was almost severed and the hand and other fingers were badly lacerated.

He was taken to Dr. John C. Irish's office, where his wounds were dressed. It was found that the top of the index finger was being held in place by the skin, the bone having been broken.

FISH WARDEN GEORGE T. SPENCE.

BUILD FISHWAY

The Fish Cannot Pass Through It

George T. Spence, fish warden for the city of Lowell, says that the fishways in this city at the present time are positively unserviceable and he says that the commissioners on fisheries should see to it that a new fishway is built at once. Mr. Spence declares that it is impossible for fish of any importance to get through the fishway as it is at the present time. He claims it is not even a good apology for a fishway.

Mr. Spence tells interesting stories of the vain attempts of fish to climb the falls by way of the fishway. He has seen thousands of them in trying to face the swiftly running water in the fishway thrown back and discouraged. Mr. Spence has served as state deputy on fish and game in this state for several years, and he allows that he knows what he is talking about when he says that the fishway in this city is the poorest kind of an apology. He also makes the statement that when the Locks and Canals are putting in new flash boards the fishway is boarded up, but that does not amount to much in view of the fact that the fishway is no good anyway. Relative to the closing up of the fishway when new flash boards are being installed, Mr. Spence quotes from his report to the commissioners on fisheries and game for the year ending Dec. 31, 1904, as follows:

During the month of May there was the largest run of eels I have seen for a great many years here at the fishway. On May 22 I found the fishway completely closed up. The men employed by the Locks and Canals company, having occasion to put new flash boards on the dam, had boarded the fishway up, and there was no chance for any water to run through. I called at the office of the company and notified them that the fishway was closed up and there should be an opening left on the end of the dam, so as to allow the water to go over and give the fish a chance t oget up, and they claimed that the men working on the dam had made a mistake. The boards were taken off, and they fixed it satisfactorily.

Mr. Spence calls upon the commissioners on fisheries to give the fish a chance to get over Pawtucket falls.

"In reading over a report of the commissioners on fisheries and game a few years ago," said Mr. Spence, "the governor of New Hampshire said that owing to impassable falls in Lawrence and Lowell the fish were unable to reach New Hampshire. The trouble is that the relations between the commissioners and the companies who control the dams in this city and in Lawrence are too pleasant to be disturbed by an order for a new fishway. The commissioners on fisheries and game for the side of the companies and let the fishways go to Jericho."

The following was culled, by Mr. Spence, from the report of the commissioners and fisheries and game for the year ending December 31, 1903:

"It is of large importance that, in the event of building additional fishways, the utmost care shall be exercised to secure their proper location, as well as their suitable construction, in order that the public may receive the largest benefit in consequence of the action taken. Unfortunately, it sometimes happens that a fish ladder is so badly located that the object of building it is entirely defeated, and, as a result, its erection is worse than useless, for those ignorant of the real cause of inefficiency are liable to ascribe it to some other cause than the right one, much to the prejudice of fishways as a means for fish to pass over dams on their way to spawning grounds at the head waters of streams.

"The Lawrence fishway is a noteworthy example of making such a structure useless, even when it is built at large expense. The writer has examined it on several occasions, and is of the opinion that either it should be abandoned as worthless, or that it should be rebuilt in another location as soon as the laws will permit.

"The foot of the fishway is in close proximity to the outlet of a sewer, which pollutes the river at that point to such an extent that one may marvel that even a lamprey eel enters it. Indeed, there were not many of them that made the venture this year. Superintendent Thomas S. Holmes reports that: 'Lampreys appeared in the Lawrence fishway May 15. There were very few of them, and none were seen after June 17. The only other fish seen were a very few suckers, chubbs and silver eels.'

"This is not strange; the wonder is that any fish were seen in or near the fishway, for not only is the water contaminated, but the lower end of the fishway is out of the water a large part of the time,—that has been its condition whenever seen by the writer.

"Inasmuch as the commission is usually considered responsible for the proper location of fishways, as well as for their satisfactory construction, the board in authority at the time the Lawrence fishway was built will doubtless be held accountable for its present unsatisfactory location, which has effectively defeated the purpose of its erection. However that may be, it is evident that the commission should now be authorized by law to have fishways built where they are required for the continuance of fish life in our streams."

"I hope," said Mr. Spence, "that when the commissioners build a new fishway in Lowell they will not build it near the mouths of any of our sewers.

"The commissioners have been stocking ponds that now contain a large number of black bass, with trout and land-locked salmon. I want to say that the salmon and trout will make nice live bait for the bass. Other ponds have been stocked with smelt which is a natural food for the land-locked salmon. I know of one pond that was stocked with land-locked salmon fingerlings over 15 years ago and there were a large number of pickerel in the pond at the time. No land-locked salmon have ever been seen or caught in this pond."

The following extracts from the Acts of 1904 will give your readers some idea of the authority invested in commissioners of fisheries:

Section 9. The commissioners may examine all dams upon rivers where the law requires fishways to be maintained, or where in their judgment fishways are needed, and they shall determine whether the fishways, if any, are suitable and sufficient for the passage of the fish in such rivers, or whether in their judgment a fishway is needed for the passage of fish over any dam; and shall prescribe by an order in writing what changes or repairs, if any, shall be made therein, and where, shall be kept open, and shall give notice and when a new fishway must be built, and at what times the same five to the owners of the dams accordingly. The supreme judicial court, or the superior court, shall, upon the petition of the commissioners, have jurisdiction in equity or otherwise to enforce any order made in accordance with the provision of this section, and to restrain any violation of such order, notified by serving upon them a copy of the order; and a certificate of the commissioners that service has been so made shall be deemed sufficient proof thereof.

Section 11. Any owner of such a dam who refuses or neglects to keep open or maintain a fishway at the times prescribed by the commissioners shall forfeit fifty dollars for each day of such refusal or neglect.

Section 12. If in the opinion of the commissioners, a passage for edible fish should be provided or if any one of the commissioners finds that there is no fishway or an insufficient fishway in or around a dam where a fishway is required by law to be maintained, any one of the commissioners may, in his discretion, enter with workmen and materials upon the premises of the person required to maintain a fishway there and may, at the expense of the commonwealth, if in the opinion of the commissioners the person required by law to construct or maintain such fishway is not able to afford such expense, improve an existing fishway, or cause one to be constructed if none exists, and may, if necessary, take the land of any other person who is not obliged by law to maintain said fishway, and if a fishway has been constructed in accordance with the provisions of this section, the commissioners shall not require the owner of the dam to alter such fishway within five years after the completion thereof.

Section 13.—All damages which are caused by taking land as provided in the preceding section, shall, upon the application of either party, be estimated in the same manner as land which has been taken for a highway and shall be a charge against a person who is required by law to construct and maintain such fishway and shall be recovered in an action of contract in the name of the commonwealth, with costs and with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum.

In concluding his interview Mr. Spence said: "I would say to the commissioners on fisheries and game for this state that if they do not build a new and proper fishway in Lowell, right away, I would recommend that the honorable board of commissioners stock the Merrimack river between Lawrence and Lowell with frying fish as they are the only ones of the finny tribe that could possibly succeed in getting over the dam at Pawtucket falls under present conditions."

WILL PAY BILL

United States Stands Expense of Peace Conference

WASHINGTON, June 17—Impressive in dignity and number will be the missions which Russia and Japan will send to the Washington conference, for although the plenipotentiaries, will be limited to two or three, the complete missions with their advisers and attaches and secretaries will each, it is expected, number 32 or more persons. Japan's plenipotentiaries probably will be accompanied by an army and a navy officer of high rank who will act as military adviser to the plenipotentiaries. In addition, there will be secretaries and attaches, some of them from the diplomatic service, some from the foreign office and others who will act as translators and recording secretaries. Russia probably will send a similar mission though perhaps not so large and both the Russian ambassador and the Japanese minister at Washington will place at the disposal of the respective missions their secretaries and attaches.

The Washington government will furnish a suitable place of meeting for the conference and as soon as a date for its convening is fixed, arrangements for the two missions will be made by the Russian and Japanese envoys here. There have been so many other important details to be settled, that the state department has not yet fixed upon offices for the conference. In addition to the main conference room, retiring rooms, offices for secretaries and a reception room will be needed. Either the capital or the congressional library are regarded as perhaps the best suited buildings in Washington and in view of the indefinite period which the conference may remain in session, it has been suggested that perhaps the congressional library might be preferable to the capitol, for should some unexpected obstruction arise to keep the conference in session until in the fall, the convening of congress in extra session, might necessitate the removal of the conference elsewhere.

Whatever expenses are incurred incident to the maintenance of quarters, will of course be borne by the Washington government. If M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador at Paris comes to Washington as the ranking Russian plenipotentiary, his rank will equal that of Marquis Ito. At first there was some doubt in the minds of the Japanese as to whether M. Nedloff possessed sufficient rank, for a mission of the importance accorded the Washington conference in Japan. Russia, however, at this juncture, let it be known that the Russian ambassador at Paris, outranked even the Russian minister for foreign affairs. Moreover, it was pointed out that as the personal representative of his sovereign a Russian ambassador could be outranked only by a prince of the royal family. Japan has not of course objected to the selection of M. Nelidoff, but in view of her expressed determination to select two of three "distinguished personages" she is desirous that Russia choose as plenipotentiaries men of rank and statesmanship, who possess the confidence, not only of their own government, but of the other powers.

THE RUSSIANS

WILL SUPPORT WAR POLICY IF JAPAN DEMANDS TOO MUCH.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 17—2.05 p. m.—The note of the foreign office announcing that the negotiations for the meeting of the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries was printed without comment in the morning papers, but the press of all shades of opinion is discussing Japan's terms and declare with practical unanimity for a continuation of the war rather than the acceptance of humiliating conditions. In this the newspapers are upheld by public opinion, which is veering around to support of the war policy if Japan's terms prove too hard.

Only the Nasha Zlesn advises Russia that she need not balk at the payment of an indemnity the cession of the island of Sakhalin, the renunciation of her right to keep warships in far eastern waters or the surrender of Vladivostok but the paper holds that Russia must retain northern Manchuria and the Vladivostok railroad. The Bourse Gazette, which draws a gloomy picture of Russia's relations with France, Great Britain, Germany and Austria the Novoe Vremya, and the reactionary Sviet sound hostile notes against the United States.

The Novoe Vremya reiterates that Russia's chief enemies in the far east are not the Japanese, but the British and Americans on account of their commercial rivalry, while the Sviet objects to Washington as the place of meeting for the plenipotentiaries, declaring that the atmosphere there is unfriendly and asserting that Russia's representatives will be subjected to prejudicial influence" in the capitol of the enemy's ally."

All the papers comment on the retirement of Grand Duke Alexis from the office of high admiral and a general feeling of relief is manifested at the fact that the present naval regime is ended.

FOR BIG PARADE

MANY FEATURES ALREADY PROMISED

Sporting Feature Was Cut Out

At a meeting of the Fourth of July committee held last night it was voted to cut out the sporting feature and to transfer the $125 appropriated for that feature to the parade. Unless all signs fail the slambang parade will be a "corker."

Chief Marshal Hubbard is very enthusiastic and will do all in his power to make a success of the parade. Principal Irish of the High school was at the meeting. He had been asked to state whether or not the High school regiment could parade on July 4. Mr. Irish said that after the school closed the pupils were not under the control of the school department. Then there was the question of loss of equipment to consider. Mr. Irish, however, said he would talk with the committee and do what he could to have the regiment turn out.

On motion of Councilman Baldwin it was voted to add $25 to the prize for a school feature.

Chief Marshal Hubbard said that things were going along swimmingly. He said that he had heard from the O. M. I. cadets of Belvidere, the St. Patrick's Fife and Drum corps, and he had had assurances from the five Portuguese societies that they would turn out.

The suggestion was made that the Textile school arrange a feature, and it was stated that there was every indication that such a feature would be introduced. Nothing definite as to the starting time of the parade was agreed upon. It was the sense of the committee that the parade should start not later than 8 o'clock or earlier than 6.30.

The committee went to Charlestown today to see the parade and to secure features for the slambang in Lowell on the Fourth.

ON THE WARPATH.

Passaconaway tribe of Red Men will send their warwhoops down the line in the slambang parade. The great council sent a dispensation last night authorizing the tribe to appear in costume in the parade. There will be at least 100 real Indians in line and the feature will be a very attractive one.

FRENCH AMERICAN CITIZENS.

A large meeting of representative French American people was held in St. Joseph's college hall last evening. The purpose of the meeting was to make arrangements for the turning out of French Americans in the Fourth of July parade.

Maxime Lepine presided, and Councilman Leon Marcotte was the secretary. It was unanimously voted to accept Chief Marshal Hubbard's invitation to take part in the parade.

Those who spoke in favor of getting up a whole French American division were E. H. Choquette, L. P. Turcotte, Charles H. Boisvert, Councilman Marcotte, Pierre A. Brousseau, Joseph Harvey, Maxime Lepine, Fred Giroux, Joseph S. Monminy, Paul Charbonneau, L. P. Leblanc and Mr. Brunelle.

The formation of a whole division to represent the French American people met with general approval and means were immediately taken to secure that end. Joseph Harvey was chosen marshal, and L. P. Turcotte, Maxime Lepine and Councilman Marcotte were appointed a committee to issue invitations to the French American societies and clubs to turn out in the division.

NORTH ADAMS PAPER SUED FOR ALLEGED LIBEL.

NORTH ADAMS, June 17.—John G. Robinson and Cal Towers, guardians of Cevera De Fonta, better known as Prince Mungo, a Filipino, who is with the John Robinson circus, have entered suit against a local paper for $10,000 for libel. The Herald printed a story recently, purporting to come from a commercial traveller named John H. Siddon, asking that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of this city take action to prevent the Filipino from biting the heads off small alligators. The man claimed to have seen this done in Bennington, Vt., while the show was there. Prince Mungo denies the allegation.

HE WALKED OUT

U. S. Prisoners Had Unusual Privileges

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., June 17—The trial of Harry McCormick, who is charged with having broken from the Middlebury jail while awaiting trial on the charge of forgery, which began here yesterday before Judge Watson of the supreme bench, developed sensational testimony which it is said is likely to lead to an investigation of the jail here, and which again brought prominently to notice J. W. Ketcham, the U. S. prisoner who is serving a seven years' sentence for the part he had in wrecking the Farmers' national bank of Vergennes.

It appeared in the testimony, and Deputy Sheriff William H. Cobb, who has also been the jailer here for 22 years, admitted the fact, that Ketcham has been allowed to serve as turnkey, has had access to the keys of the jail, and has even had the unusual prison luxury of the services of a valet.

McCormick, who is being defended by Frank L. Fish of Vergennes, sets up the defence that he did not break jail, as the doors of the jail were open and that he simply went away. He was apprehended in Franklin, N. H., last Saturday, pleaded not guilty to the charge of jail breaking.

A number of prisoners from the jail were brought to court as witnesses, among them being Ketcham. All these witnesses were subjected to a rigid examination as to the methods and discipline of the jail, and it was during this line of testimony that Ketcham's jail life was brought prominently to the fore. It appears that the lad he had as valet had himself been subjected to a charge of forgery by Ketcham, who charged that the servant had forged his name to a check for $1.

The valet, Don Henry Davis, a native of the island of Malta, brought here by soldiers returning from the Philippines, had been arrested on the charge, but the court ordered the case nol pross'd after an investigation. It is known that Davis comes of a prosperous Maltese family, and that the lad will receive $5000 when he comes of age in two years, and it is alleged that the charge against Davis was prompted by ulterior motives.

Cobb said that the door of the cell room could be opened by a piece of wire and a wooden plug, and he had satisfied himself by experimenting that it could be done. He admitted that an iron bar provided for securing the jail doors had never been used as it was intended, and that only recently did he ascertain that he possessed a lock for such bars.

Some of the prisoners who were companions of McCormick in jail testified to the effect that they had seen McCormick have in his possession and engaged in the manufacture of a wire key which he told them he intended to use in opening the jail door. McCormick, they said, also told some of the prisoners after he was apprehended and brought back that he had secured his liberty by the aid of the jailer and told certain of his companions that death awaited them if they did not come into court and testify that McCormick received a letter from E. W. Train of Ludlow, in which was $10 and a note from Cobb, the jailer, stating that arrangements would be made to liberate him.

A SERIOUS FALL

Henry Brady, aged 36 years, fell down stairs at his boarding house, 24 Webster street, shortly before midnight last night and sustained serious injuries.

He was so badly hurt that the ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Emergency hospital, where upon examination it was found that he was suffering from a broken nose, his head was gashed and required seven stitches, and one of his fingers was broken together with probable internal injuries.

LEGAL HUSBAND

WOMAN ASKS COURT TO DECIDE THE QUESTION.

BROCKTON, June 17.—Mrs. Mary E. Frawley-Clapp-Collison of Boston, who has appealed to the courts to relieve her of one of her two husbands, having been married to Henry J. Collison after having received news of the death of John F. Clapp, her first husband, who had deserted her, came here Thursday and searched this city and Easton in the hope of locating her missing spouse.

According to the records of the city clerk here, she was married to John F. Clapp in Easton by the Rev. Francis Holmes, Aug. 16, 1886. They lived in Easton for a time and then separated. The deserted wife states that some years afterward one of his aunts reported that he was dead. She had removed to Boston and was there married to Henry J. Collison in 1900.

In February, 1905, a Mrs. Mary E. Wilbur of Boston told her that she had seen the missing first husband, Clapp, on the street in Brockton. She at once appealed to the superior court to set her marital relations in order, and the matter is now under advisement with Judge Fox.

Clapp was in Easton a few days ago, according to an employe in the Easton town clerk's office, and has been in Easton working within a few days.

Mrs. Collison is living apart from Collison, having taken that step immediately on receiving the information from Mrs. Wilbur in February.

TIME HAS COME

New First Baseman Proves to be the Real Thing--O. Jackson Works Nicely Behind the Bat

Joe Wall, the new first baseman, arrived in Lowell yesterday and played in yesterda's game against Manchester. The new man showed up well during the preliminary practice, doing some lively work on the base. Billy Merritt was in uniform and participated in the practice, but did not play in the game. Anderberg occupied a seat on the bench and will take a few days' much needed rest.

Cross did slab work for Lowell, while Leith was in the harness fro the team from the Queen city. "Old Phenom" John Smith, who is well known to local fans, was out in right garden for the visitors and was given a very cordial reception by the fans. There were about 300 present and Umpire Stafford called time at 3.15 o'clock.

FIRST INNING.

The visitors scored right off the reel in the first inning. Spratt, the first man up, drew his base on balls. He then stole second. Owen Jackson threw the ball to catch Spratt off the base, but McLaughlin tried a one-handed catch and the result was that Spratt reached third. Armbruster struck out and Page flied out to Grant, and Spratt scored on the put out. J. Smith flied out to J. Jackson.

In Lowell's half Connors singled to centre field and Grant sent him to second with a sacrifice. Bigbie flied out to Armbruster and J. Jackson hit to Leith who fielded the ball to first in time to catch the runner.

Score—Manchester 1, Lowell 0.

SECOND INNING.

In the second inning Kane flied out to Bigbie and Clark hit a grounder through Connors' legs. Clark then tried to steal second and was thrown out by Owen Jackson. A. Smith closed the inning by striking out.

Wall, the new man, demonstrated the fact that he is quite a sprinter, in the latter half of the second inning. He drew his base on balls and then stole second. Tierney flied out to Armbruster. Wall started to steal third and almost reached the bag when Owen Jackson made a foul and Wall had to walk back to second. Jackson then hit to Clark who fumbled and the runner was safe while Wall went to third. Jackson and Wall then tried a double steal, and Wall was thrown out at the plate.

Score—Manchester 1, Lowell 0.

THIRD INNING.

The visitors failed to score in the third inning. Knau opened with a single. Leith bunted a fly to J. Jackson. Spratt sent a grounder which Connors took care of and Ambruster closed the inning by flying out to Grant.

Lowell went out in quick order in the latter half of the third, all of the outs being on flies. Cross flied out to Arthur Smith while Connors made his second hit. Grant flied out to Armbruster and Bigbie closed the inning by flying out to Kane.

Score—Manchester 1, Lowell 0.

FOURTH INNING.

Cross pulled out of the tightest kind of a box in the fourth inning. With three men on bases and only one out, by good fielding the visitors were prevented from scoring. Page opened with a foul fly to J. Jackson. J. Smith and Kane followed with singles and Clark being hit by a pitched ball walked to first, filling the bases. Arthur Smith hit to short centre field and Grant made a pretty catch, and threw back to the plate in time to hold J. Smith on third. Knau closed the inning by flying out to Bigbie.

The locals went out in quick order in the latter half of the inning. Jim Jackson struck out and Wall was hit by a pitched ball, but was thrown out while trying to steal second. McLaughlin closed the inning by striking out.

FIFTH INNING.

The visitors scored another run in the fifth inning, and Owen Jackson made two excusable errors. Leith struck out while Spratt and Armbruster made singles. The two latter then tried a double steal and Spratt was nailed at third Armbruster reaching second on the play. O. Jackson then muffed a foul fly off Page's bat, after a hard run. Page singled scoring Armbruster and Page went down to second on the play. O. Jackson threw to McLaughlin, but the latter was moping and Page reached third. John Smith hit to McLaughlin and went out at first.

Lowell got as far as third in this inning, but the fans were once more disappointed when another goose egg was added to the score. Tierney hit over third base for what looked to be a fair ball, but the umpire called it foul. Tierney then made a clean single which could not be disputed. O. Jackson sacrificed and sent him to second. Cross hit to Knau and went out at first, Tierney going down to third on the put out. The crowd then shouted for Billy Connors to bring in Tierney, but the best that Billy could do was to hit to Leith and die at first.

SIXTH INNING.

Neither side scored in the sixth inning. Kane singled and then went down to second on Clark's sacrifice. A. Smith flied out to Bigbie and Knau hit along the first base line and Wall fielded the ball and put him out at first.

Only four balls were pitched in the latter half of the sixth. Grant flied out to Armbruster, Bigbie flied out to J. Smith, and Jim Jackson went out on a grounder to Leith.

Score—Manchester 2, Lowell 0.

SEVENTH INNING.

The visitors went out in one, two, three order in the seventh inning. Leith foul flied to J. Jackson, Spratt hit to McLaughlin and was out at first, while Armbruster foul flied to O. Jackson.

Lowell scored one run in the lucky seventh, but should have scored more. Wall was the first man up and he hit to left field for a single. McLaughlin drew his base on balls. Tierney sacrificed advancing Wall and McLaughlin. Owen Jackson was called upon to bring both men in and he responded with a single scoring Wall. Barney attempted to come home from second on the throw home. Cross, drew his base on balls and Connors walked to first on a free pass, filling the bases, but Grant was called out on strikes.

EIGHTH INNING.

Page flied out to McLaughlin in the eighth. John Smith fanned out and Kane followed with a single to left. Kane etrid to steal second and was nailed Owen Jackson.

Bigbie hit to Spratt, but Kane muffed the ball at first base and the runner was safe. Jackson bunted to Leith who threw to Knau catching Bigbie at second. Knau tried to catch Jackson, but threw bad and Jackson went down to second. Wall then hit to centre field for two bases scoring J. Jackson. McLaughlin then came to the bat and redeemed himself by sending the ball over the left field fene for a home run scoring Wall and himself. Tierney hit to Spratt and was thrown out at first. O. Jackson hit to Clark and was thrown out at first.

NINTH INNING.

Clark flied out to Jim Jackson in the ninth inning. Arthur Smith sent a fly to Bigbie, the ball going away out to the fence and he caught it against the fence but the umpire said the man was safe and he went down to second base. Knau flied out to Grant and A. Smith went to third on the put out. Morrissey then went in to bat for Leith. Morrissey struck out.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Concord today.

Mr. Eustace and Mr. Stafford meet again today—at catchweights.

Yesterday's game was in the nature of a hummer and the fans were well satisfied.

Here's where we start to climb up," said Capt. Connors after yesterday's game.

Lowell now has a good ball team. Joe Wall, the new first baseman, looked the part of a ball player the moment he stepped on the grounds and he showed himself to be as good as he looked. He is sure on the base and his timely batting practically won the game. Owen Jackson, too, is just the boy behind the bat, and there'll be few bases stolen on him. True, he made two errors but one was Barney McLaughlin's fault, while the other was a muffed foul fly.

Constant playing seems to have been the best thing in the world for Tierney, for Chick is playing a first class game all around.

The same lineup will play against Concord today.

It isn't the usual thing to lay off a ball player the day after he makes two two-base hits in one game, but that is what happened to Tommy Devine yesterday.—Concord Exchange.

Perhaps he was laid off for showing how to play third base after Eustace was chased off the grounds here a few days ago.

Stafford missed a decision on third base against Lowell, yesterday.

President Pulliam has instructed the National league umpires to address the players on the field as "Mister." The players don't need any instructions as to what to call the poor umpires.

Bill Clements did not stay long in New Bedford for yesterday Manager Doe learned from the player that he guessed he would not play here. He went to his home in Providence Tuesday after the game with Haverhill, and returned yesterday to tell Manager Doe that he had decided to play with Toronto. As Clements had accepted the New Bedford manager's terms, perhaps the board of strategy will have a question to decide. Manager Doe would like to have had Clements in uniform yesterday, for he had an idea of pitching him.—New Bedford Mercury.

Clements will have his hands full of business if he attempts to get funny with Doe.

It is whispered in baseball society that there is trouble "in the midst" of the New Bedford team. Taylor and Friend want to get through with the team and Doe would like to transport some of the others.

Grant's mind was evidently on "the green" when he allowed three strikes to be called on him yesterday, and strikes they were.

Stafford comes from Cambridge, that classic city where the Med Fac romps during the still watches of the night and where a fair sized portion of the check list is under indictment for alleged election frauds. Thus he can recognize trouble from a distance and generally gets in the first swing at it when it comes up to him.

Stafford took off the fine imposed on Grant after Wednesday's game. He was somewhat hasty and was fair enough to admit the fact.

It's up to "Hi Jo" Dickson to locate his old friend "Long John" and insist upon him returning to the ranks of the truly loyal rooters. His observations upon men and things in baseball are greatly missed.

The Daily News of Cumberland, Md., a red hot baseball paper in a red hot base ball town, in Thursday's issue has an enthusiastic account of a 17-inning game played the day before at Midland, Md., between Midland and Fairmount in the Peach league, in which the pitcher on the losing team was William Jackson, another brother of Jim and Owen of the Lowell team. The young fellow although his team lost the game, held his opponents down to six hits with a total of seven in 17 innings, which is certainly pitching some. He also contributed a single to the eight hits made by his team. There is still another brother playing in that league, older than the two boys now with Lowell. Thus four of them are playing professional baseball and there may be a couple more when they get big enough, for the Jackson family consists of six boys and six girls. If President Roosevelt hasn't heard of the Jackson family of Frostburg, he should be made acquainted at once. The name of Jackson ever since the days of the immortal Andrew was ever a name to conjure by.

Street Department is Short of Money

The committee on streets met last evening and voted to recommend a loan of $35,000 for the street department. That department is going to run shy and will have to be pieced out.

Chairman Fairweather called to order about 8.30. The city engineer was instructed to get estimates of the cost of macadamizing Chelmsford street from Powell street to the city line, and on Powell street from Liberty street to Chelmsford street.

Petitions for the acceptance of Clough avenue from West Tenth street to Bridge street and for the avenue from Ina street to Fourth avenue were read and sub-committees were appointed to take the matter in hand. Councilman Morse and Mahoney were appointed on one committee and Councilman Fleming and Hayes on another.

The petitions for damages relative to the straightening of Middlesex street from the power house to the city line were read and Chairman Fairweather and Councilman Mayberry were appointed a sub-committee to investigate.

Councilman Cheney appeared before the committee and spoke in favor of improving the condition of Middlesex street between Grand street and the depot.

Committee adjourned at 9.15.

WHARF WAS IGNITED AT CHELSEA.

BOSTON, June 17—A coal lighter owned by John Morrison & Co. of East Boston, the tug William G. Williams of the Ross towboat company and portions of the wharf of Bickney & Whiting, Marginal street, Chelsea, were on fire at the same time yesterday afternoon, neither, however, having been seriously damaged.

In the vicinity of the fires there is a large oil business, and yesterday afternoon a quantity of oil flowed into Chelsea creek. It is supposed that a workman after lighting his pipe threw a match into the water and the oil on the surface took fire. In an instant the coal lighter, tug and wharf were afire, and before the workmen realized the situation a lively blaze was on.

An alarm was sounded from box 18 at 4.19, and after an hour's work the firemen extinguished the flames. The lighter, tug and wharf were damaged to the extent of $50 each.

COUNTRY WEEK

APPEAL FOR FUNDS TO CONTINUE GOOD WORK.

The Channing Fraternity is sending around its annual appeal in behalf of that great philanthropy, country week, which it has maintained for several years. The work of last year was most successful. More than 130 women and children enjoyed a much needed rest in the country—some for a few days and some for two or three weeks—as necessity demanded. Beside these vacations 1200 women and children took advantage of the free street car excursions, which gave them a chance to get away from the heat of the city for a day. These day trips were greatly appreciated by those unable to leave their homes for a longer time. For this feature we are indebted to the generosity of the Boston and Northern Street Railway Co.

The expense of Country Week is met by voluntary contributions and the money is disbursed under the skilful and experienced guidance of Mrs. Paxson. The work is far reaching in our city, and much good is accomplished in our very midst. The amount on hand this year is less than usual, and the committee hope for a very generous response.

The office of the Ministry-at-Large, Middlesex street, between Eliot and South streets, has been placed at the disposal of country week and applicants may be received Saturday afternoons from 2 to 6 o'clock, beginning July 8, and ending with the close of August 26.

Contributions of money are respectfully solicited and may be sent by mail or otherwise to Edward Ellingwood, treasurer, corner Merrimack and Central streets. All sums received will be acknowledged from time to time through the Lowell papers, unless otherwise requested. Letters relative to country week should be addressed to Mrs. A. M. Paxson, Lowell.

NEW HOSPITAL

WILL BE DEDICATED NEXT WEDNESDAY.

The new building of the Lowell General hospital will be formally dedicated on next Wednesday at 4 p. m.

The new building is not only free from debt but there is a sufficient surplus to grade the grounds and put the other buildings in good condition, all being possible through the munificence of Frederick Fanning Ayer.

The two wards in the new building are the handsomest in New England and it possesses a large operating room finished throughout in white enamel with floor of glass that is non-absorbent. The work of furnishing has been done by the Ladies' Aid association the Young Women's Guild and the young women of the J. C. Ayer company.

NORWAY

WILL HAVE GOVERNMENT ON THE SWISS MODEL.

LONDON, June 17—Nojo Bjornson, the Norwegian poet, novelist and dramatist, in a communication to the Daily Chronicle declares that had the Norwegian Storthing left the question of the dissolution of the union to be decided by the general election eighteen months since, it would undoubtedly have been achieved in full agreement with the Swedish people, the majority of whom even now are in favor of dissolution. Norwegians could then have adopted whatever form of government they wished. As the matter stands, unless King Oscar consents to nominate a prince of the house of Bernadotte for the throne, Norway will no doubt become a republic and a government on the Swiss model will be adopted.

SAM LANGFORD WON.

MARY PRETT A VICTIM OF HEART FAILURE.

BOSTON, June 17.—Mrs. Mary Pratt, 45 years of age, whose home was in Somerville, was brought into the Relief hospital last night shortly before 8 o'clock in a semi-unconscious condition and without regaining consciousness died there at 1.30 this morning.

She was found by friends, standing up against the subway station in Haymarket square and when spoken to did not respond. Soon after she was brought into the hospital, the doctors placed her on the dangerous list and sent a hurried call for her husband, who arrived shortly before his wife passed away. Heart trouble is said to be the cause of her death.

MEN COME TO ME

I want every man that is suffering from any special disease, or condition, acute or chronic, to come and have a social chat with me, and I will explain to you a system of treatment which I have originated and developed after my whole life's experience in the treatment of special diseases of men. It is a treatment that is based on scientific knowledge, and one which time alone has proven superior to all others, inasmuch as it is tried by thousands and has proven successful. I have NO CURE-ALL OR TRIAL TREATMENTS, NO SCHEME TO SELL MEDICINES in my specialty ailments of men. My education, my experience, my conscience, my reputation, condemn all such quackery. If you will call and see me, I will give you FREE OF CHARGE a thorough personal examination, together with an honest and scientific opinion of your case. If, after examining you, I find your case incurable I will tell you so; if, on the other hand, I find your case curable, I will insure you a permanent cure.

I will make you no false promise as to curing your case in a short time, knowing it will take longer, as I promise nothing but what I can do and always do what I promise. I make NO CHARGE FOR MEDICINES, as they are always included in the nominal fee asked.

Privacy is thus assured to all patients. All cases accepted this month upon the plan of NO CURE, NO PAY.

is a condition that men suffer from more than all other conditions combined, and is the direct cause of nervous prostration and early loss of mental, physical and all powers, which in turn unfits one for ordinary duties of life. I accomplish a permanent cure in such conditions as Varicocele.

BLOOD POISONING
of a specific nature is a condition that the innocent as well as the guilty may acquire, inasmuch as it is very often hereditary. The first symptom is an ulcer, then pains in the bones and joints, ulceration of the mouth, throat and tongue, falling out of the hair and eyebrows and a copper-colored rash over the body. If you have any of the above symptoms, I ask you to consult me at once, as I treat and permanently cure every case that I accept.

RHEUMATISM
in all its forms, acute or chronic, muscular rheumatism, lumbago, gout, sciatica, by my system of treatment shows signs of improvement at once, and in a very short time is permanently cured.

RECTAL
diseases, such as piles (itching or bleeding), fistules, fissures, chronic constipation, or any condition of the rectum, by my system of treatment I permanently cure, without a cutting operation or the injection of the astringent solution.

WASTING WEAKNESSES
that occur in the night or during the day, and which in a great many cases are the starting out of many conditions which in time will render one a mental, physical and nervous wreck. If you have trouble with this condition, see me at once, as I stop the ailment completely, never to return.

BLADDER AND KIDNEY
symptoms of which are pains in the back and loins, frequent and scalding urination, puffiness of the eyes and a swelling of the feet, and a thousand other symptoms better known to the sufferer, I treat and permanently cure all such conditions.

ULCERS
I care not how long standing nor of what nature, as I dry them up at once.

HYDROCELE
or any swellings, tenderness or impediments are restored to their normal size.

ECZEMA

THREE FIREBUGS

Held in $500 for Grand Jury

North Andover Case Cleared Up

NORTH ANDOVER, June 17.—Joseph M. Coppinger, 25; Samuel Hargreaves, 22, and Ernest L. Johnson, 25, were arraigned before Justice Frye at a special session of court yesterday afternoon and held in $500 bonds each for the September term of the grand jury.

They are charged with burning the five ice-houses owned by Brooks F. Holt of Lawrence, which were situated on the shore of lake Chochichewick in this town.

When arraigned the three men conversed together and finally pleaded guilty and were then bound over to the upper court.

The three arrests were made yesterday afternoon by Maurice F. Casey, aid in the fire marshal's department of the district police, who has been investigating the burning of the five ice-houses since last July.

There was a celebration here on the eve of the Fourth last year and the crowd of celebrators, not being content with starting bonfires, turned their attention to greater fires. A barn owned by Mrs. Ellen Mahoney was set afire and destroyed, but the three men arrested were not concerned in that.

Early on the morning of the Fourth the town was aroused by the fire at the ice-houses owned by Mr. Holt. The five building were valued at $4000 and were practically destroyed. The investigation that followed showed that the fire was of incendiary origin, and Mr. Casey began work on the case. He obtained bits of evidence by gradually pursuing his investigation, and a week ago he became convinced that he had located the right parties. Within the past few days he has interviewed the three men arrested yesterday, visiting each separately, and yesterday decided upon the arrests.

Coppinger, who has been working in Boston for three weeks, was first taken and brought to this town. Johnson was found in Lawrence and Hargreaves was found in this town.

A special session of the court was convened late yesterday afternoon, when the prisoners were arraigned. They each furnished bail, after being held for the grand jury.

Casey has learned that Coppinger, Hargreaves and Johnson were celebrating the Fourth, and early on that morning planned the fire at the ice-houses. They secured a quart of kerosene, and going to the ice-houses, gathered hay and straw, and, with this and the oil, started the blaze.

The young men are well known in town and of good families. Their act is regarded as a "night before the Fourth" prank, in which their recklessness overreached their judgment. Coppinger, before leaving North Andover, was employed on the delivery wagon of a Lawrence grocer.

It is said that Coppinger has made a confession, telling the whole story of the reckless prank to Deputy Neal.

WILL PITCH CANVAS IN LOWELL JUNE 28.

The attractions offered by Ringling Brothers' circus the current season are more imposing than ever before. The performers are the pick and flower of the world. The spectacle of "The Field of the Cloth of Gold" employs 1,200 people, and the scenic and costume accessories cost a fortune. The fun is provided by fifty clowns. The spectacle runs about thirty minutes, and precedes the ring acts. The march of the chivalric hosts introduces all the people and horses with the great shows and is a thrilling and picturesque relief from the usual circus entry. The tournaments of the sixteenth century are illustrated by athletic feats of the kind peculiar to this historic time of romance. A Ballet divertissement of 300 young girls is a fascinating feature of this production. In the circus program are 200 acts, interpreted by 375 performers. Over 200 horses are required for the swiftly changing bill. Among the sixty celebrated riders are the four Berdinis and Gilbert Eldred, of European renown; Albert Crandall, Orrin Davenport, May Davenport, Lulu Davenport, Rhoda Royal, Mme. Royal, the Hobsons, Alex. Lowanda, Rego McCree, John Agee, the DeVenes, Nola Butterfield and Nellie Showers. In the great gymnastic features of the show are many European performers never seen in this country before. The six Ginnerettis are first among these. The Colini-Cairon troupe, the Malvos, the great Dracula, Mons. Le Hirt, Mlle. El Salto, the Fortune Brothers, the three Rios and the Alvos trio are in this class of famous gymnic artists. The Kaufman family and Jackson family are masterful bicycle specialists, unequalled in the world. The Dacosas family and Flying Fishers are at the head of the sixty aerial artists gathered from the four quarters of the globe.

The bicycling specialties of the Kaufman family of eight and Jackson family of seven are amazing exhibitions and thrillingly illustrate the possibilities of riding upon this delicate machine. They perform athletic feats of amazing difficulty and novelty with the graceful ease of experts in ground gymnastic work. This feature is one of the sensational numbers in the immense program.

BOY DROWNED

HE WAS BATHING IN THE SPICKETT RIVER.

METHUEN, June 17—William Spiers aged 11, was drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing in the Spickett river at the dike. He was with several companions and had been in the water some time before they missed him. He was a good swimmer, and it is supposed he was seized with cramps.

Chief of Police Jones and Patrolmen Bradley and Farnsworth recovered the body at 9. The boy's home was on Concord street, Lawrence.

BOY ATTACKED BY ROOSTER LOST AN EYE.

BOSTON, June 17.—Losing an eye through an attack made on him by a rooster, Felix Scandone, six years old, seeks $10,000 damages from Rosetta Pettine, owner of the bird.

The case went to trial yesterday in the session without jury of the superior court before Judge Hardy.

The child lives in East Boston. He was playing in an open field three years ago, off Lubec street, when the rooster flew at him, picking at his eye. At the time the boy was three years old.

The action is based on the allegation that the rooster possessed vicious habits and dangerous propensities, which previously had been manifested.

Reported to Have Been Indicted

CHICAGO, June 17—Proposed indictments against officials of at least five packing firms were said to have been presented to the members of the federal grand jury by District Attorney C. B. Morrison yesterday for consideration. A report was current that the indictments had practically been voted by the jury.

From a dozen to forty indictments were yesterday generally expected, as a close to inquiries which have lasted since March, bringing in scores of witnesses and occupying months. The charges are conspiracy, violation of the anti-trust laws, perjury, subordination of perjury and intimidation of witnesses.

The accused make charges of their own, asserting that homes of some of them have been practically robbed by secret service men in search of evidence and alleging persecution of innocent persons. The latter refers to the cases where wives of some of the packing firms employes who left the city, were placed under bond.

There has also developed a serious conflict among the packers themselves. On resulting intimations of alleged treachery the government officials are said to count on producing testimony not obtainable except by some one turning "state's evidence."

Wednesday, June 21, 1905, at 4 o'clock

I will sell at public auction a very fine residence, consisting of a well built house and barn and 11,940 square feet of land, with a frontage of 60 feet, situated at No. 48 Riverside street, between Pawtucket and Moody street bridge, making it very convenient to get to the heart of the city in a few minutes, near church, school and store and two lines of street cars.

Having business interests that oblige me to leave Lowell, I have instructed Mr. Farrell to sell, without limit, my beautiful home. The house has 10 large rooms and bath, with a large summer kitchen, with unfinished attic, and has a high posted, well lighted cellar with cement bottom. The house is substantially built of the best material that money could buy, and no pains or expense spared to make it a comfortable home, as I always expected to live in it myself. It is heated by a first-class hot water heating plant, with ample raidators throughout that give the best satisfaction. It is lighted by gas and has handsome gas fixtures.

First floor has large square hall and vestibule, parlor, sitting room, with open fireplace and mantel. Dining room with china closet built in kitchen, with hot and cold water, also large, airy summer kitchen conveniently arranged. Second floor has 5 pretty high posted and airy chambers, with a handsome fireplace and mantel in one; has a roomy bath room, with hot and cold water, all open plumbing; everything is in the best of shape and a better finished house cannot be found. The barn has stalls for three horses and room to store 8 carriages, with a large loft for hay and grain. There is also a shed attached, used as storage, 22 by 40, that make it very handy. The grounds are laid down to a lawn, set out with apple, pear, cherry trees, shrubs and vines, with broad drive and walks; a mortar wall is laid all around the lot and it is well fenced.

This property is in the best of repair inside and out, and a better built or a handsomer residence so near the heart of the city it would be hard to find. Any person wanting a nice, quiet home with every convenience, be sure and attend the sale.

Terms: $500 must be paid at time of sale; 30 days will be given to take deed; 60 per cent. of the purchase money can remain on mortgage.

I will sell at public auction the fine lot of land with a new barn and the foundation for two tenement house, 40x41, with a heavy 16-inch wall with a center wall dividing same, situated on Grotton street, North Chelmsford, but a step from the end of the street cars at North Chelmsford. Take street that leads to Crystal lake, and it is situated on the top of the hill on the left hand side before you reach the lake and contains 11,000 square feet of land with a frontage of 79 feet on Grotton St. Having started to build me a home I have erected a very nice barn for three horses, high-posted with studding 16 inches apart on a solid foundation that I had in mind some time; if so desired could be turned into a dwelling, also large carriage shed. I also put in a solid house cellar, 40x41 ft., with center wall all 16-in. thick for a two tenement house. The lot is all graded and 100 load of loam is in pile on the lot to finish grading. I had a fine well put in at great expense, and as things turned out I need money and feel that I must sell. Some one will get a good trade.

Per order, J. CARPENTER.

EXECUTORS' SALE OF TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 3747 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 12 LAGRANGE STREET.

As executor of the above estate, I will sell promptly at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday next, this parcel of property consisting of a two-tenement house, and about 3747 square feet of land. There is no property so well and conveniently handled by a person of moderate means than a two-tenement house of this character.

It is situated on the southerly side of Lagrange street, and will always be rented, as it is quite handy to all city conveniences; it is but a short distance from the Lowell Machine shop and Carpet mills, and the several industries on Broadway. Now it is up for absolute sale and the purchaser, whoever it may be is sure to strike a grand bargain. The house consists of two tenements of about six rooms each; they are in very good repair and are rented at the present time for about $264 a year. The lot contains about 3747 square feet, is all fenced in, has good yard room with concrete walks and has a frontage on the street of about 57 feet. Now this is a prime good parcel of property and will be appreciated by the man with a small capital to invest.

TERMS: $250 must be paid to auctioneer at time and place of sale.

Very Pretty Home Property

House, barn and about 4824 square feet of land, on School street. This is a very neat, compact piece of residential property; it is the right size for a small home and offers all conveniences that are necessary to make a comfortable dwelling. There are eight large, well proportioned rooms, bath, and cemented cellar. It is heated throughout by steam, has hot and cold water connections, and all modern improvements. The stable has four stalls, excellent carriage room, and a good loft for storage; the carriage room and driveway are all concreted. The lot contains about 4824 square feet of land with a frontage of about 50 feet on the street; it sets on the easterly side of the street, has good elevation and is pleasantly surrounded by many pretty homes.

This would make an excellent home for some business man who had two or three horses and the present owner having changed his place of business is the only reason that he offers his beautiful little home for sale. For full particulars call on C. F. Keyes.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 17, 1905.—State Attorney Healy, this afternoon, announced that as a result of the grand jury investigation of alleged corruption practices in labor matters the state expects to make a strong case of conspiracy against some of the men intimately connected with the teamsters' strike. The speedy end of the strike is predicted by some owing to the proposed overthrow of Pres. Shea's supporters in the teamsters' joint council. Shea is alleged to have been deserted by almost all of his chief allies.

Frank Davis, 17 years old, was shot and probably fatally injured today by the driver of an American Express company wagon. The driver was attacked by a crowd just before the shooting. After the shooting the mob fled. The driver surrendered himself at a police station.

Denies Stories About Royal Arcanum

ROME, N. Y., June 17—Howard C. Wiggins, Supreme Regent of the Royal Arcanum in a statement denying the published reports that there had been a recent meeting of some of the members of the supreme council and charging certain enemies of the order with circulating false reports, said to The Associated Press today:

"My attention has been called to an article widely published in various papers yesterday stating that a conference had been held here by various members of the supreme council together with Grand Regent Hoag to consider plans to prevent threatened secession of councils from the order. There is absolutely no truth whatever in such a report. Grand Regent Hoag has not been in Rome to my knowledge within six months. There is no occasion for alarm and no occasion for conference upon the part of supreme council officers. The statement contained in the report of yesterday that at every council meeting since the present agitation began from 5 to 12 members have been suspended, is absolutely false and untrue. The source from which emanates such false and misleading reports will be obvious to every one.

"The rates recently adopted, represent the actual cost of protection as shown by our 27 years experience. Our members do not want something for nothing, but prefer adequate rates, guaranteeing permanency of the order throughout all time to come to temporary cheapness.

"The courts of the last resort in various states have without exception upheld the power of fraternal orders to increase their rates of assessment whenever necessary in order to provide for meeting their mortuary obligations and similar action to that taken by the supreme council has been sustained by repeated decisions."

Mr. Wiggins added that the Royal Arcanum was on an absolutely firm foundation and that its very success had aroused the envy and fury of the interests which are hostile to the fraternal orders.

BOSTON, June 17—Detroit won the game this morning by bunching hits in the eighth inning. Donovan was invincible after the first inning, Boston failing to get a single hit off his delivery. Dineen's pitching was much poorer than the score indicates. A one handed stop by Ferris and a running catch by Stahl were the fielding features. The score:

Today's Ball Game at Spalding Park

About one thousand baseball enthusiasts went out to Spalding park this afternoon to witness the game between Lowell and Concord, the rejuvenated Lowell team playing its second game with Concord this week.

Today's game was somewhat different from the game with the same team several days ago owing to the strengthened condition of the local team and the fans evidently appreciated the new lineup by the enthusiasm which they displayed during the game.

Bushey was on the slab for Lowell, while Sline did the pitching for the Concord team. Capt. Connors intended to put Leonard in to pitch today's game, but Leonard went home several days ago and has not shown up since.

Bushey started in somewhat erratic but later got steady. Umpire McCloud called the game at 3.10 o'clock with Concord at the bat.

FIRST INNING.

The visitors scored two runs in the first inning owing to the wildness of Bushey and clever base running on the part of the Concord players. Sheets drew his base on balls. Eustace hit along the first base line to Wall and was out at first, Sheets going down to second. Zecher also drew a free pass. Templin hit to centre field for a single and Sheets tried to get home, but Grant made a fine throw from the field to the home plate and Sheets was out. Templin stole second base. Kane hit to Wall who fumbled the ball, Zecher scored and Templin went to third. Kane and Templin worked a double steal and Templin scored. Duggan hit over McLaughlin's head, but the latter jumped into the air and brought the ball down with one hand and fielded it to first in time to catch the runner.

In Lowell's half, Connors hit to Hickman and was retired at first. Grant flied out to Zecher and Bigbie drew his base on balls, while Jim Jackson flied out to Henry.

SECOND INNING.

In the second inning Henry and Hickman flied out to Grant and Sline sent a grounder to Bushey and was out at first.

Wall and McLaughlin sent grounders to Henry and were out at first, while Tierney sent a grounder to Eustace and was thrown out.

Score—Concord 2, Lowell 0.

Sline singled to left field and Duggan and Henry scored. Sline sent a grounder to Connors and was out at first. Eustace hit to Bigbie and was out at first.

Jackson hit to Henry, who threw to second and McLaughlin scored. Tierney started for third and Hickman threw Tierney out. Bushey singled to left field and Owen Jackson started for home, but Merritt held him up and he did not pass third, though he could have made home safely for the left fielder fumbled the ball. Connors hit to Templin and Jackson tried to get home, but was thrown out at the plate. Grant hit to left field for two bases scoring Bushey. Bigbie closed the inning by flying out to Zecher.

REFORM PARTY

Business Men in Philadelphia Score Republicans

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Mayor Weaver today issued a statement bearing upon the letter signed by 21 business men and addressed to Sheriff Miles, chairman of the republican city committee, urging the committee to reform the republican party. The letter suggested that new nominations be made for the fall election.

The mayor's statement is as follows:

"I know nothing about this movement neither as to its origin, nor its purpose. It is a trivial interposition at this time. Some of the gentlemen whose names appear on the address, I am sure can not have understood the true significance and the possible efforts of their action."

MORE DISMISSALS.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17—The only development of importance today in Mayor Weaver's crusade for good government was the dismissal of 30 employes in the bureau of health.

It is generally believed that Mayor Weaver has decided that every man who has had any part in the frauds believed to have been perpetrated upon the city in connection with public works shall be arrested and prosecuted.

This injection of paltry politics at this time is unfortunate.

"The efforts I am making to reform the municipal government and expose the past abuses and crimes have given me no time to consider political questions or political effects. It will be treason to a holy cause to involve it in partisan politics. It makes no difference what persons, what parties, or what organizations fall as the result of their participation in municipal wrongs and crimes of the past. Let them fall. They must fall and be dethroned if the work in hand cannot be completed impartially and honestly and the affairs of the people placed on a firm and secure foundation for the future. I will consider no politics before this work is done.

"Treating with the organization over the question of a ticket for sheriff and coroner, is a futile and misleading diversion. It makes no difference who that organization puts on its ticket at this time. This is not a contest over a sheriff and coroner and I shall not permit it to be reduced to such a tame and impotent conclusion if I can help it. Therefore I speak now and thus strongly, in order that the true friends of municipal regeneration and honest government may be on their guard against either subtle or misleading efforts as would divert the issue, betray the cause and possibly save for further evil, the parent source of all of our woes."

STEAMER ON FIRE

A Serious Explosion is Feared

NEW YORK, June 17.—Fire which started in the hold of the steamer City of Kansas of the Savannah line while she was making her way through the dense fog off Sandy Hook early today and caused a panic among her three score passengers, and which was believed to have been extinguished, broke out anew after she had reached her dock. When the hatches were removed after the hold had been filled with steam for several hours the flames burst forth and resisted every effort the combined land and water fire fighters could make to subdue them. Late this afternoon the fire was still smouldering in the hold and tons of water were being poured down upon it. Far down in the bottom of the hold there is stored a large quantity of resin and turpentine. It is feared that if the flames reach this material a serious explosion may occur, scattering the fire to all portions of the vessel. Several thousand water melons which were stored in the hold have been destroyed by the heat and the cargo of cotton has been considerably damaged.

BUNKER HILL DAY

Charlestown Will Have Two Parades

BOSTON, June 17.—Although not a legal holiday, practically all the business activities of Greater Boston were suspended today in observance of the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The patriotic celebration of the anniversary centered as usual in Charlestown, the scene of the famous fight. A special detail of police patrolled the district all night to insist upon the obedience of ordinances which require that the noisy part of the celebration shall not begin until 4 a. m. Promptly at that hour the patriotism of the people was manifested by an extensive explosion of fire works. Two parades were arranged for Charlestown during the day, one consisting of military, naval and civic bodies including bluejackets from the visiting warships for the afternoon and an electrical parade for the evening. There was a parade also in the town of Medford in celebration of that city's 275th anniversary. Races at the country club in Brookline, play in the state tennis championship at Longwood, bicycle races at Revere and Cambridge and other outdoor events attracted large numbers of people.

The outing was voted a success by all.

D. Generalis and DeMitris Kantos were charged with illegally exposing drugs for sale at their store, corner of Market and Suffolk streets. They pleaded not guilty and were held in $200 until next week for a hearing. Both are on bail. GERRISH LIABLE

He Must Pay Miss Foote $10,000

BOSTON, June 17.—James R. Gerrish, master of the house of correction at Deer Island, has abundant opportunity to regret for the part he took in the promotion of the Dumont & Boston mining and milling company's scheme in which figured Francis L. Barton, who was pardoned after he had ingratiated himself into the good graces of the master of the institution in which he was serving a sentence for swindling a railroad company, and Charles F. Berry, the missing trustee and fugitive from justice.

Gerrish was severely scored for the attitude he has assumed by Judge Loring in the supreme court yesterday at the close of the hearing on the bill brought by Miss Frances E. Foote against the Beacon Trust company and Gerrish to get back $10,000 that she lost through the dealings Berry, her trustee, had with Gerrish and Burton.

The court held Gerrish personally liable for the $10,000, and he will have to pay it to Miss Foote, while the other defendant, the trust company, is relieved from the liability.

His honor said that the appearance of Gerrish on the stand was not frank; his testimony was not fair, and a good deal should be inferred against him.

The court said that the scheme to which Gerrish lent himself, as one of four, was to take all the capital stock after enough had been sold to get $75,000 to be paid to the mining company and was a scheme which had the possibility of dealing with large sums of money.

Gerrish, the court said, was told by the trustee, Berry, who was an associate of Burton, the prisoner, that he had a mortgage on which he could get money. Subsequently Gerrish found that the mortgage was not Berry's but was Miss Foote's and he asked Berry in regard to the information he had gleaned. Berry told him a story that does not fit in, said the court, with anything he had known of the matter up to that time.

Berry told Gerrish that Miss Foote was interested in the scheme and that was a lie. Gerrish was not justified in accepting as true, said his honor, that preposterous lie of Berry.

Berry is held liable to Miss Foote, to whom he must account for the $10,000.

While Burton was serving his sentence he interested Gerrish and others in his schemes, resulting in their befriending him and getting him a pardon.

Lately Burton wrecked a bank out west and has been arrested. He left this city after swindling those who had befriended him out of about $30,000.

Lost All Night on the Water

HYANNIS, June 17—Jesse Jeffers, a 13 year old Indian boy of Marthas Vineyard reached Hyannis today after being lost all night on the water. Jeffers started from Edgartown late yesterday in a 12 foot sail boat for his home at Cape Pogue, two miles distant. A thick fog came over the water and the boy lost his bearings. He sailed about all night and landed on the Osterville shore today. He walked to Hyannis. Jeffers says he was never on the mainland before and had no idea where he was when his boat touched the shore. During the night the mast broke and Jeffers lost an oar so that the boat drifted most of the time until it struck bottom.

THIEF RUN DOWN

Three Cases Against Him in Lowell

The police of several cities, including Lowell, are after Charles Haynes or Hynes, aged 20 years, a slick boarding house thief, now under arrest in Providence.

A dispatch from Providence concerning the arrest, states as follows: Charles Haynes, 20 years old, who came from Boston 10 days ago and remained about this city looking it over for select boarding houses, was in court today charged with larceny from Angelina E. Nichols and others and he was held for the grand jury in $500.

On each of three other charges of the same character he was fined $20 and costs. His victims in these cases were Henry S. Rowe, Daniel H. Reese, and Harriet M. Beale. The goods were taken from first-class boarding houses on the east side of the river. The accused claimed to be a postal clerk and he would call and make arrangements for a room. He would have a valise, and this he sometimes left behind when he had gone through the house and taken all the jewelry or other valuables he could get hold of.

He admitted all the larceny charges and pleaded guilty. He stated he had secured about $400 in all.

Haynes says that he is a hotel bellboy and that he has worked in Boston and in other New England cities. His home is at Cumberland Hills, Me. He has been accompanied by a woman who hails from Maine also, and the pair have done the town. The woman says she lost a string of gold beads which Haynes stole at a shore place down the bay. Haynes is well dressed and a smooth looking young fellow.

Unless he secures bonds he will have to stay at Cranston until the action of the grand jury next September.

A dispatch from Portland, Maine, reads: Charles Hynes, as he is known to the police here, is believed to be a native of Westbrook, a suburb of this city. The police say he was an inmate about eight years ago of the Maine school for boys, and later was arrested for larceny from a hotel in one of the eastern Maine cities and served a short sentence in jail.

Haynes came here in May 26 and engaged a room at Nuttal's boarding house where he entered three rooms and stole money and other small articles and decamped. He came again in July 8, 1903, on circus day, and engaging a room in the boarding house of Lilla Jackson in Lawrence street, stole about $50 worth of money and jewelry.

The police of this city traced him to Elmira, N. Y., a year later and found him then a parole man from the reformatory there. Because he reformed to the satisfaction of the New York authorities they refused to sign requisition papers permitting the Lowell police to bring him to this state, and for that reason he had never been brought to account for his depredations in this city.

MEN'S MISSION

Will Close at St. Michael's Sunday

The mission which is being conducted at St. Michael's church this week for the men of the parish under the auspices of the Dominican Fathers, is nearing a close and it is estimated that about 1500 men of the parish have made the mission.

Last night there was the usual large attendance and Rev. Fr. Cahill, O. P., gave instructions on the Holy Rosary after which it was recited and the reverend preacher spoke in an encouraging manner stating that he hoped that the men would continue with the good work they had begun.

In closing he laid great emphasis on the necessity of men keeping out of liquor saloons, especially on Saturday night, stating that that night above all others was the worst as a man who spends Saturday night drinking will not spend his Sunday properly. In all probability he will not go to church at all.

Rev. Fr. Conlin, O. P., delivered the sermon which was taken from St. Luke. He first read the verse in the chapter of St. Luke referring to the prodigal son and likened the prodigal son to the sinner who wanders away from God and who afterwards is received back into grace and forgiven. He made a strong appeal to his hearers to have recourse to the tribunal of penance to wash away their sins and make their peace with God.

At the conclusion of the sermon the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given, Rev. John J. Shaw officiating.

Last night was a record breaking night for confessions, several hundred men being heard in the basement.

The men's mission will end tomorrow night at 7.30 o'clock when vespers, sermon and benediction will be held and the papal benediction given.

FORTY HOURS' DEVOTION.

Young Mack of Lawrence, Mass., and Kid Labore of Manchester went on as a preliminary. Mack won in two rounds, Labore going down in the second.

NARROW ESCAPE

LIVELY FIRE ON GROVE STREET

Firemen Took Chances in Saving Money

A fire broke out in the two and one-half story house belonging to E. J. Medina at 8 Grove street about 1.30 o'clock this morning and Mr. James F. Doherty, of Doherty Bros., and his family had a narrow escape from being suffocated.

Mr. Doherty occupied the upper tenement while the lower tenement was unoccupied and was undergoing repairs. During the day yesterday painters and plumbers were working in the tenement underneath and whether it was owing to an accident on their part that the fire started is not known.

About 1.15 o'clock Mrs. Doherty was awakened by a crackling sound. She could not at first realize what the cause was, but when she became fully awakened and found the room filled with smoke and felt herself being overcome, she shouted to her husband in the next room that the house was on fire.

Mr. Doherty immediately donned some clothing and running to the Westford street fire house pulled in an alarm from box 8. Mrs. Doherty then took her baby in her arms and rushed into the street and later on was taken care of by one of the neighbors.

While in the neighbor's house Mrs. Doherty remembered that she had left considerable money wrapped up in a stocking and when the firemen arrived she informed one of them and he rescued the money.

The flames were first discovered in the ell with their starting point apparently in the empty tenement and had worked their way through the partition to the ell. They had a good start and when the fire was discovered the flames had attained considerable headway.

Two streams were laid to fight the fire and quick work of it was made by the firemen.

It was in the neighborhood of three o'clock before the fire was fully under control. Mr. Medina said there was an insurance of from $1500 to $2000 on the house, and it looked as if this would more than cover the loss on the building. Mr. Doherty had an insurance of $500 on his furniture, and as this was probably a total loss it is doubtful if the insurance will cover it.

F. C. Church had the insurance on the house.

SAMUEL LEMA ROBBED OF HIS EARNINGS.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 17.—Samuel Lema, who came from California to Tiverton two weeks ago to reside, was before the district court here today for examination. Lema claims that while on the way from California he was robbed of his earnings of eight years. The loss of his money preyed on his mind to such an extent that he became despondent. Five days ago he disappeared from Tiverton and it developed today that he had spent the time since his disappearance wandering in the woods. He had eaten nothing and had evidently been without sleep. When he was taken into court today he had to be supported by police officers. The court ordered Lema sent to the hospital, and he will be placed under observation. No charge has been preferred against the man, but the authorities fear that if he is left at large he will die from lack of nourishment.

BIG VERDICT

AWARD OF $48,000 MADE BY JURY IN CIRCUIT COURT.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 17.—A verdict for $48,500 was returned in the United States circuit court last night in the suit brought by the Montgomery Water Power company, a New Jersey corporation, against William A. Chapman, and others of this city, contractors, the amount sued for being $200,000. The verdict is one of the largest recently returned in the local courts.

The suit was brought to recover damages said to have resulted from delay by the defendants refusing to complete the construction of a dam on the Tallapoosa river in Alabama after it had been partially finished and partially destroyed by a flood on the river. The defendants claimed that the specifications furnished them for the construction of the dam were not for a structure of sufficient strength to withstand the force of water during a flood.

The case in various phases has been tried in the courts of other states and has also been before the United States supreme court.

WORCESTER, June 17.—Officials of Worcester County Horticultural Society are interested in the efforts of Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson to interest the farmers of the country in silk worm culture.

Adin A. Hixon, secretary and librarian of Worcester Horticultural Society, gives some interesting facts concerning the only attempt ever made to start the industry in Massachusetts.

The experiments were made in 1869 by Leopold Trouvelot, a French naturalist. He settled near Medford, and at first tried to raise silk from native worms. Trouvelot also introduced European species of silk worms for the same purpose. He was warned at that time by Harvard scientists not to allow any of these moths to escape. Despite this warning some of Trouvelot's moths got away and from such small beginnings was started the gypsy moth plague that has cost the commonwealth upward of a million dollars.

This year $375,000 has been appropriated by the state to aid in exterminating these pests, which are a direct result of the first attempt to raise raw silk in Massachusetts.

NEW TREASURER.

FALL RIVER, June 17—William S. Potter, treasurer of the Flint mills of this city, has been elected by the directors of the Corr Manufacturing Co. of Taunton, treasurer of that corporation, to succeed H. H. Shumway, whose resignation was tendered last week. Mr. Potter will continue treasurer of the Flint mills. Mr. Shumway's retirement from the Corr corporation, is reported to be due to serious differences of opinion between him and some of the stockholders. It was thought possible that Mr. Shumway and some of his friends in Taunton might buy the Watuppa mills property at the sale, Saturday, for the establishment of a plant for his management. Mr. Shumway was present at the sale, but there was, apparently, no bidding in his interest. The Corr Manufacturing Co. has one mill of about 38,000 spindles capacity located in East Taunton.

THAYER'S SPEECH

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 17.—The Massachusetts building, one of the most beautiful and substantial state structures on the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition grounds, was formally dedicated today in the presence of a large gathering of distinguished persons from all sections of the U. S.

A large party of Massachusetts people journeyed across the continent, to be present at the exercises. In the delegation were 18 members of the Massachusetts house of representatives, a number of members of the state senate, several professional men and a large number of people, men and women, from the lesser public walks of life. The delegation was headed by John R. Thayer of Worcester who represents his district in the congress of the U. S.

Perhaps a more fitting day could not have been selected for the dedication ceremony than the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill and this feature lent general interest to the occasion and presented a theme which was not neglected by the speakers of the afternoon. The ceremonies were opened by Dr. Edwin Lincoln House, who delivered the invocation.

The building was presented to the state of Massachusetts by executive commissioner Wilson H. Fairbanks through Theodore E. Wilcox, the personal representative of Gov. Douglas. Addresses of welcome were made by President Goode of the exposition; Mayor Williams of the city of Portland and Governor George E. Chamberlain, for the state of Oregon. Congressman John R. Thayer was the principal speaker for the Massachusetts delegation. A vocal solo by Mrs. Bloch Bauer of this city concluded the exercises.

An elaborate luncheon and reception followed the dedication ceremonies.

Mr. Thayer in speaking for the Massachusetts delegation, said in part:

We are here, commissioned by his excellency, the governor, the honorable council and state legislature, officially, to represent the commonwealth, of Massachusetts upon this anniversary day of the battle of Bunker Hill, and to participate with you in this great historic exposition of the world's progress and to express the deep interest and pride Massachusetts takes in this magnificent exposition which, drawing hither the products of the peoples of the world, is a great national contribution to the world's advancement.

We bear willing testimony of our gratitude to the great northwest for what it has accomplished in the march of civilization, in lighting the torch of liberty and progress on the Pacific slope and in carrying beyond the Rockies and preserving unimpaired the fundamental principles, which were inculcated in the heart and soul of the pioneers, who first came from the old Bay State. We are here from the far eastern shores of Massachusetts bay, having travelled thousands of miles on American soil, bringing glad greetings and earnest congratulations to our brother freemen of this rich and delightful city upon the magnificent success which has attended the fulfillment of a conception as grand as it is inspiring. We meet not as strangers but as friends and relatives filled with the pride of a common ancestry ,linked together by a common heritage, a common aspiration and a common destiny.

It is an affectionate greeting we bring from the mother of states, whose heart beats true and strong for all in the great sisterhood of states, and especially to the representatives of the great northwest, whose energy, perseverance and generosity have invited here the sister states of the union and nations of the world in friendly competition for the edification and instruction of all. The history of Massachusetts is a birthright above all price, for full as it is of great and passionate events marking the milestones in the march of civilization and material development, there is not a page in her annals that will bring the scarlet of shame to the cheek of enlightened men. Doubtless she has faults but they are of the surface. Her heart beats in sympathy for the uplifting and success of the human race.

ROOSEVELT WANTS DEPARTMENTS TO CUT IT OUT.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—President Roosevelt is after the bureaucrat, who believe that his entire work and that the entire work of the government should be the collecting of the papers in reference to a case, commenting with eager minuteness on each, and corresponding with other officials in reference thereto, to use his words.

In his letter designating Assistant Secretary of the Treasurer Keep, James R. Garfield and three other high department men to find out what changes are needed to place the conduct of the executive business of the government in all its branches on the most economical and effective basis, in the light of the best modern business methods, he says: "These people (bureaucrats) really care nothing for the case, but only for the documents in the case. In all branches of the government there is a tendency greatly to increase unnecessary and largely perfunctory letter writing.

"In the army and navy the increase of paper work is a serious menace to the efficiency of fighting officers, who are often required by bureaucrats to spend time in making reports which they should spend in increasing the efficiency of the battleships or regiments under them. As regards this matter, you will please confer with the assistant secretaries of the War and Navy departments, and request them to submit to me a scheme for doing away with the evils referred to.

"In the civil departments the abuse of letter-writing amounts, not merely to the waste of time of the government servant responsible for it, but also to the impeding of public business."

ROYAL ARCANUM

Some Talk of a New Organization

NEW YORK, June 17.—Resolutions have been adopted by at least nine Royal Arcanum councils within Greater New York appointing committees to investigate the new rates recently promulgated by the supreme council of the order. The councils that have adopted resolutions are: Acme, Fraternity, Brooklyn, Gramercy, Brevoort, Long Island, DeWitt Clinton, Oxford and Whitestone.

Members of the committees will hold a joint meeting next week for the purpose of appointing an executive committee to give the matter serious and undivided attention. In appointing a committee, Fern Council No. 774 declared that a strict investigation should be made as to the reasons for the increased rate, and an explanation asked of the supreme council.

The supreme council representatives in this city, when seen yesterday, declined to make any explanation of the increase rates, District Deputy Grand Regent Sheffield said that it was against the rules of the order to talk of Arcanum business for publication.

"There have been no notices of the increase sent out yet," he said, "and when a council is notified a representative from the supreme council will appear before the subordinate council and explain the new system satisfactorily."

A proposal to form a new order to be known as the American Arcanum was put forward at a meeting of Fulton Council in Brooklyn Thursday night. A resolution was also adopted unanimously to compel the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum to convene a special meeting and rescind the order for higher rates. If this action is not taken, or, as an alternative, if the members do not resign, the resolution provides that the fight be taken at once into the state courts.

Grand Vice-Regent Theodore Thonet and Supreme Representative William W. Sheffield of New York were present at the meeting. In the presence of these high officials of the order charges were openly made that lobbying with a fund of $500,000 supplied by one of the three large life insurance companies had brought about the order from the supreme council for higher rates. Whenever the name of Grand Regent Wiggins was mentioned it was hissed and jeered.

NAMED COMMITTEE.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 17.—Equity Council of the Royal Arcanum, the largest council in New England, has appointed a committee to investigate the legality of raising insurance rates and to ascertain whether the supreme council has acted in accordance with the Massachusetts statute governing the increase of fraternal insurance assessment rates.

Mayor F. W. Dickinson, one of the most prominent members of the order in the East, says that the increase is absolutely necessary. In 1898 the order had a surplus of nearly $500,000, he says; in 1903 it had shrunk to $204,000, and last year the department paid out in death benefits $271,000 more than was received from assessments. Conservative members of the Royal Arcanum state that the increase in rates will result in most of the older members dropping out and in many of the younger members taking out policies in old line companies.

RATE CONDEMNED.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., June 17.—Vernon Council No. 219, Royal Arcanum, passed resolutions unanimously, last night, condemning the new rates as unnecessary, excessive and inequitable, branding the clause relative to members 65 years old uncharitable and detrimental to the order and requesting the supreme council to reconvene and readjust rates. It also condemns the New York representatives for voting for the new rates and commends the Massachusetts representatives for fighting them.

DIED INSTANTLY

MILFORD, Conn., June 17.—Martin L. Kilmer, a market gardener, was killed by the accidental discharge of a revolver carried in his pocket while at work in his garden today. He had carried the weapon for many years without using it, as a protection against vicious dogs. The bullet ranged upwards through Kilmer's clothing, entered the right cheek and lodged in the brain. He died instantly retaining hold of a paris green sprayer which he was using when shot. His age was 60.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The trial of Joseph Byrnes, a groom, who had charge of Clarence H. Mackay's polo ponies at Mr. Mackay's country home, Harbor Hill, Roslyn, for the murder of Alexander Kaukuskie, was begun before Justice Keogh of the supreme court at Mineola, L. I., yesterday. Byrnes is charged with shooting the Pole to death in the hotel at Bull's Head after a quarrel about a pool game.

Byrnes's wife died in childbirth a year ago. The baby, Christopher, was in court today, attended by its grandmother, Mrs. Feeney. When the recess was announced at 1 p. m. Mrs. Kaukuskie, the widow of the man who was killed made a rush for Byrnes, screaming:

"Take my children now," she cried. "You killed my husband and now you will have to support my children. I am a poor woman and you will have to take them." One of the woman's three children was in court with her. Two officers seized the woman, but she continued to scream at the defendant.

One of the witnesses said that Byrnes did not draw a revolver until after Kaukuskie threw a pool ball at him. Byrnes's lawyer, Mr. Stoddard, moved that the indictment for murder be set aside, as the prosecution had not shown premeditation. Justice Keogh reserved decision. Mr. Stoddard told the jury that he would show that Byrnes was knocked down and that he fired, while lying on the ground, in self-defense.

KILLED HERSELF

Woman First Tried to Shoot Friend

NEW YORK, June 17.—Miss Minnie Stormer, a pretty dressmaker, aged 27 years, who lived in East Eighty-ninth street, walked into Louis Meyer's shoe store in Third avenue today, tried to shoot Meyer, and then shot herself. Miss Stromer and Meyer had been close friends for two years. Last night she met him escorting another girl and upbraided him.

Miss Stromer pointed a revolver at him, saying: "I'm going to kill you, Louis."

She tried to fire the weapon, but the cartridge failed to explode and Meyer fled to the rear of the store when he called to an employe in the cellar for help. The latter came up stairs far enough to take in the situation and retreated, delaring: "I'm a married man and I don't want to be shot."

Miss Stromer made no further attempt to reach Meyer but while the two men were in hiding she shot herself in the breast and fell dead.

Ownership of Land in Dispute

HALIFAX, N. S., June 17.—According to a Halifax firm of attorneys who are investigating the subject the ownership of a large tract of valuable property included in the immense area of Citadel Hill and vicinity, held by the British military authorities, is in doubt. Persons claiming to be heirs of a family which owned the property before its occupation by the British government are seeking to establish a title, or failing in that attempt to settle the question of ownership beyond question. George Brayley, a Boston musician, is one of those interested in the case and it is understood a brother will go to England shortly to further investigate the case.

Besides a large parcel of land within the Citadel inclosure the claimants name the land upon which stands the military hospital and garrison chapel as property the ownership of which is in doubt. The military gymnasium, military schools and several of the barracks buildings are also situated on the lands. Before the buildings were constructed by the British government years ago the property was owned by a family named Rundt and it is claimed it was leased by the military authorities. The persons who are now investigating the case are of the opinion they say that the leases have expired and it is because of this that attorneys were engaged to take hold of the matter. The leased deeds have not been found and thus far there has been no trace of any deed by which the militia authorities acquired the property absolutely. The two parcels of land with the buildings on them, are of great value, situated as they are in the most elevated part of the city. It is understood, however, that should the claimants succeed in establishing a title that the individual gains would not be particularly large as the legal heirs would be numerous.

The military records in England are to be searched by a member of the Brayley family who will sail within a short time.

WENT AGROUND

Excursionists Spent Night on Steamer

DETROIT, Mich., June 17.—Eleven hundred people, who started out last evening on the steamer Columbia for a moonlight ride on the river and dance, were forced to spend the night on the steamer which went aground in a dense fog at 10.30 o'clock at the foot of Peche Island. The excursionists made the best of the situation and spent the night dancing and singing. The passengers were transferred to another steamer after vain attempts had been made to pull the Columbia into the channel and arrived here at 7.30 a. m.

Twelve hundred moonlight excursionists from Wyandotte, Ford and other down river points had a similar experience to that of the people on board the Columbia, except their steamer, the Pleasure, spent the night tied to a dock instead of aground. The captain did not care to attempt to thread the river in the dense fog. The Pleasure was tied up from 11.15 last night until about 7 o'clock today. The excursionists made the best of their enforced stay on the Pleasure and danced until daylight.

SEVERAL BREAKS

Residents of Milford Are Alarmed

MILFORD, Mass., June 17.—Considerable uneasiness is being felt by the women of this town as the result of numerous recent breaks into private residences by an unknown man who in each case entered or tried to enter through a window in a woman's bedroom. Two additional attempts were made early today. In one case a man entered the window of a room in a house where Miss Lucy O'Reilly was sleeping. She was awakened by his movements and screamed. The intruder hit her on the head with a stick without, however, seriously injuring her. Upon hearing other members of the family approach the man hastily ran to the window and down a ladder and disappeared. A little later Mrs. Wm. Williams was aroused by seeing a man who was trying to enter her window. She quickly summoned her husband, who chased the man for a quarter of a mile, but the latter escaped.

The authorities are working on the theory that the man is insane.

FINAL ATTACK MADE BY DICKENS' SQUADRON.

FORT MONROE, Va., June 17.—The last day of the war game opened with an attack on Fort Monroe at dawn today by the destroyers and the gunboats of Admiral Dickens' fleet. Just between dark and daylight, when it was too light for the search lights to be effectively operated and too dark to see without them, Admiral Dickins and three of his destroyers and two gunboats crept close to the walls of the fort before they were discovered. The fusillade was brief, but lively and at its conclusion the offending craft departed towards the Capes.

The squadron is visible in the distance and the officers of the artillery expect the game to end in a fusillade later.

BROKER A BANKRUPT.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 17.—Charles M. Sheldon, a broker, formerly prominent in Kansas politics, has been adjudged a bankrupt with liabilities of $312,600 and assets of $300. Banks and trust companies scattered over the United States are the principal creditors.

BROTHERS MET

Had Not Met for Fifty Three Years

NEW YORK, June 17.—Glen Cove wasn't much of a place in 1852, when James Travis and his younger brother, Ira, sat on the beach and watched the ships pass Hempstead Bay. James was 19 years old and wanderlust had crept into his heart. So he ran away to sea, and Ira never saw him again until the day before yesterday. They were lads when they parted and graybeards when they met. One had gone all over the world, and recently had traveled 12,000 miles to see his brother. The other had strayed from Glen Cove no further than Flushing, but both prospered.

Ira Travis, who is one of the leading men of Flushing, never gave up hope of finding his runaway brother, although everyone tried to convince him that Jim had been lost at sea. He did the best he could to locate the sailor, but it was in vain. Then a relative died, leaving to each of the brothers a fortune said to be about $60,000, and Ira began anew his efforts to find James. Advertisements were published all over the world, and three months ago one of them caught the eye of the missing brother as he sat in his fine house in Dunedin, New Zealand, a retired land agent, with his family about him.

He started for New York on May 3, taking his wife, his son, the Rev. Richard Travis, and his daughter, Mrs. Francis Rustin. They changed steamers at Auckland and Suva, reached Vancouver ten days ago and arrived in New York Thursday on the Empire State Express. Ira Travis was waiting for his brother at the Rossmore hotel, and yesterday he took the party to his home, at Madison avenue and Percy street, Flushing. The brothers were busy in Manhattan part of the day looking after the legacy.

James Travis is a hearty old man, so well off that the legacy is now only an incident to him, but it may come in handy for his family. He has six sons and five daughters. Of the sons one is a minister, another a farmer, a third a woodcarver, one a dry goods merchant, one an upholsterer, and one a professional ventriloquist. Mrs. Rustin, the daughter who accompanies him, is the wife of a man who for fifteen years was Mayor of Dunedin. Mr. Travis' grandchildren number 24.

When Mr. Travis went about Manhattan yesterday and viewed the changes made since he saw the city last, when Ambrose C. Kingsland was mayor, he shook his head in wonderment.

"And I thought Melbourne was a great city!" he said.

BODY FOUND

THE LITTLE ARMSTRONG BOY RECOVERED.

The body of James Armstrong, the boy who was drowned in the Merrimack river yesterday morning while heroically attempted to save the life of a companion, was found this morning by Undertaker Molloy and Charles Armstrong, the father of the boy. The body was taken to Undertaker Molloy's funeral parlors.

Charles Davis and Michael Larkin, the latter the well known swimmer, were the first to discover the body of young Armstrong. Both tried to pull the body to the surface of the water, but it was wedged between two stones and neither one of the swimmers could move it.

They came to the surface and notified Mr. Armstrong, the boy's father, and the latter divesting himself of his clothing, dove in and pulled the body to the top of the water where it was taken into the boat.

AFTER 50 YEARS

Brother and Sister Were Reunited

LAWRENCE, June 17.—For brother and sister to be united after a separation of 50 years is not wholly without precedent, but for their meeting to fall on the anniversary of the separation is surely most remarkable.

Anthony Sherlock of 152 Cedar street, Manchester, N. H., an operative in the mills, has just returned from Lawrence, where he has been visiting his sister, whom he had not seen for a half century. The reunion of brother and sister took place on the anniversary of the day when Sherlock parted from her on leaving the old country for America.

Mr. Sherlock's sister is Mrs. Katherine Cassidy. She lives at 321 Hampshire street. She is an invalid and is cared for by a devoted daughter.

Anthony Sherlock on April 8 lost his wife by death. The account of the funeral was read by Mrs. Cassidy's daughter and an investigation was immediately begun. Mrs. Cassidy and her daughter wrote to Mr. Sherlock and he came to Lawrence.

After coming to America Sherlock lost all trace of his sister. It appears, however, that she married in the old country and came to America. The brother and sister were only 26 miles apart. Neither learned of the other until 12 years ago, when Mrs. Cassidy was told by a friend that an Anthony Sherlock, who looked as if he might be her brother, was working in one of the mills in Manchester. Mrs. Cassidy had long before this made up her mind that her brother was dead for rumor that he had enlisted in the army in the Civil war and was killed in battle had come to her. She went to Manchester and sought out the address of Anthony Sherlock only to find that he had moved away.

Nevertheless, feeling that her brother might be in the city she subscribed to a Manchester paper. For years she scanned its columns but no mention of her brother ever appeared. Then she was broken down with rheumatism and has since been an invalid. The paper, however, she continued to receive, and it was read to her by her daughter.

Last April an account of the death and funeral of Mrs. Anthony Sherlock caught her eye and now hopes that perhaps her brother might be found before she died were aroused. Her daughter wrote to Mr. Sherlock and the correspondence resulted in his coming to Lawrence and the reunion of brother and sister after a separation of half a century.

AT THE HAGUE

Peace Conference May Be Held

ST. PETERSBURG, June 17.—7.05 p. m.—The question of the place of meeting of the Russian and Japanese representatives has been reopened and there is a possibility that The Hague instead of Washington may be selected. After the announcement that Washington had been selected, Russia expressed a desire to have the selection re-considered and exchanges to that end are now proceeding between Foreign Minister Lamsdorff and Ambassador Meyer and Washington. Russia's preference for The Hague is based on the obvious advantages that it is entirely neutralized, the capital of a small state and the site of the arbitration court and also by consideration of time.

THE LATE ALBERT LIBBY.

OFFICER LIBBY

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon

HAD SERVED SINCE 1869

Leaves a Record of Honorable Service

Patrolman Albert E. Libby, one of the oldest members of the Lowell police department, having been in service in the department for over 36 years, passed away yesterday afternoon at 4.10 o'clock at his home, 61 Eighteenth street.

The deceased had been ill but several weeks, but owing to the fact that the disease which caused his death had been bothering him for a good many years his life was despaired of shortly after he had taken to his bed last week.

Mr. Libby was 72 years of age and had watched for 17 years continuously in Centralville. Almost everyone knew the big hearted and jovial policeman who patrolled the Centralville district and his absence from his regular beat will be felt with regret by all the residents of that section of the city. He had lived the greater part of his life in Centralville and on one occasion when there was a shakeup in the police department, and Mr. Libby was assigned to a beat in some other part of the city, a petition was soon started by residents of Centralville to have him restored and the petition was soon granted.

Many a person who has tread the wrong path had been led back by the deceased officer who was always full of sound advice and always thought it better to try and lift a man up who had fallen than have him arrested and brought into disgrace.

On Jan. 9th of this year Officer Libby celebrated the 36th anniversary of his appointment to the force. He quietly observed the occasion and expected to observe several other anniversaries.

He was appointed on the police force January 9, 1869 by Mayor Folsom. He has served since that time practically without a break, and has been considered one of the most efficient men on the force. Seventeen of those eventful years have been spent on the Centralville beat, and there is hardly a man, woman or child on the north side of the river who did not know him. He was never a demonstrative man, but he had a congenial personality, and was gentle and kind even in the performance of duty.

Albert E. Libby was born in Hartford, Maine, in 1833. He came to Lowell in 1853 and went to work in the Appleton mills. He was employed there as a watchman, and served faithfully for five years. Counting this in with his 36 years on the police force, and his years spent this total 41. On April 20, 1857, he started for New York and San Francisco and spent 10 years on the Pacific coast. His appointment to the local force came in 1869, twelve years later.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Mabel Libby, with whom he lived up to the time of his death, and Mrs. George E. Burns, both of Eighteenth street.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home in Eighteenth street.

MEMORIAL

IN HONOR OF THE REVOLUTIONARY HEROES.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, June 17—A bronze memorial statue in honor of the revolutionary heroes of the town of Framingham was dedicated today in Buckminster Square in the center of the town. A parade was held in which companies E of this town, M of Milford and F of Marlboro, Sixth regiment, M. V. M., participated together with members of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans. The oration of the day was given by Lieut. Governor Curtis Guild, Jr.

The statue which is that of a blacksmith minute man was designed by Mrs. Alice Ruggles Kitson and cast in bronze with a granite pedestal.

GUILTY

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., June 17.—No further defense was offered by Harry McCormack when his trial on the charge of having broken from the Middlebury jail, while awaiting trial on the charge of forgery was resumed here today before Judge Watson of the supreme court. Judge Watson occupied two minutes in his charge to the jury and six minutes later the jury reported a verdict of guilty. McCormack then was arraigned on the charge of forgery, pleaded guilty to two of the five counts of the indictment against him and was remanded back to jail. Sentence in both cases was deferred.

HEART FAILURE

PHILIP WELLER OF MELROSE DROPPED DEAD.

MELROSE, Mass., June 17.—Just as Philip Weller, 23 years old, was about to step from a boat on L. Pond in this city to a float early today, he fell backward and went into the water. Companions held out an oar, but Weller made no attempt to grasp it and the others then quickly pulled him out of the water. Two physicians were hastily summoned, but Weller was dead before their arrival. They pronounced death due to heart failure. With several others Weller had been out in the boat for several hours after midnight.

MAN WAS RELEASED AND THEN ARRESTED AGAIN.

FALL RIVER, June 17.—Edward Crosson was arrested last night on a warrant alleging the larceny of gas from the Fall River Gas Works company, valued at $324.14. He was bailed out. Last March employes of the gas company found in Crosson's cellar, they allege, an arrangement by which Crosson tapped a service pipe and burned the gas in a furnace to heat his house. Crosson was arrested and fined $250. On appeal Judge Pierce held that the special statute did not apply and ordered Crosson's discharge. The present warrant was then secured.

TO LOCOMOTOR ATAXICS!

After myself suffering for ten years the tortures that only an ataxic can know, I have been relieved of all pain and restored to health and strength by an easily obtained and inexpensive treatment. The prescriptions which cured me (which can be filled by any druggist) I will mail free to any fellow sufferer who sends me a self addressed, stamped envelope. E. P. Burnham, Delmar, N. Y.

Reaping Benefit

From the Experience of Lowell People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Lowell residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. 'Tis emphatic and convincing. No better proof can be had.

Mrs. Wm. A. Buckley, of 9 Chestnut street, Lowell, Mass., says: "Both my husband and myself are very strong advocates of Doan's Kidney Pills. Mr. Buckley took them some six years ago and was completely cured of kidney complaint and backache. He doctored and wore bandages and used liniments and other remedies but nothing did him any good until he got Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store on Merrimack St. The use of three boxes cured him and he regards it a pleasure to tell others of the great value of this medicine. Some time after he was cured I was taken with backache and other noticeable symptoms of kidney complaint. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon banished the backache and corrected all other difficulties. I take a few when I feel that the kidneys are sluggish and they always tone me up and make me feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

NARROW ESCAPE

If four-year-old Louise Payotte should live to be 100 years old she will never have a narrower escape from death than she had yesterday, when a great touring car passed over her, rendering almost speechless the persons who witnessed it.

Little Louise was crossing the street at the corner of Spaulding and Merrimack streets and did not see the great touring car that was coming down the street at full speed from Pawtucket street. It is not known if the little girl threw herself down in front of the machine or if she was knocked down. The fact remains, however, that the machine passed over her without doing her injury. She lay between the wheels and no part of the machine touched her.

The machine was driven by a Mr. Eldridge of Boston upon whom no blame attaches. He stopped the car and did all that one in his position could do. He did not see the child in time to stop the machine, and if any medical aid was required he was willing to pay for it. Louise Payotte's parents live in Bibeault's block, Moody street.

BIGGEST DAY

THE STREETS IN MEDFORD WERE CROWDED.

MEDFORD, Mass., June 17.—A salute of 21 guns fired at sunrise by Lawrence battery opened today's observances in this city, the most elaborate of those held this week in honor of the two hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary of the settlement of Medford. The fact that this was Bunker Hill day, observed as a holiday in Boston and vicinity, made the celebration more general than on previous days and the streets and play-grounds were thronged. The leading feature of the forenoon was a parade through the main part of the city participated in by a military brigade, a civic division and floats representing the various trades of Medford and the city departments. General G. Whitney commanded the military division, which headed the parade and which included members of the Fifth regiment, M. V. M., heavy artillery of the First regiment, Roxbury horse guards, signal corps of the Second brigade, naval brigade, High school brigade, civil and Spanish war veterans and Sons of Veterans. Six bands and drum corps accompanied the long line. A ball game was also played on the common during the forenoon between Arlington and Medford High schools. Later a long program of athletic games was carried out at Playstead, West Medford.

A band concert and fireworks on the common this evening will end the day's celebration and special services in the various churches tomorrow will bring the anniversary observances to a close.

JOHN MYLES

BARRINGTON, R. I., June 17.—An interesting ceremony from a historical viewpoint took place at the Town hall and the Tylers Point cemetery here today when a monument to Rev. John Myles, founder of the First Baptist church in Massachusetts and Rhode Island was dedicated. The exercises were under the auspices of the Barrington Historical Antiquarian society and the Bristol County Historical society. At the ceremonies in the Town hall, Thomas W. Bicknell, of Providence, president of both historical associations, presided, and delivered a brief address.

LADD AND WHITNEY CIRCLE.

The regular meeting of Ladd & Whitney circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., was held yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The president, Miss Ford, being absent, Vice-President Mrs. George Burtt presided. A letter from Post 185 was read expressing their gratitude toward the circle for providing such a bountiful collation on Memorial Day. There was also an invitation from Wauchatchie command, U. V. U., extended to the circle to attend the memorial services to be held at the Eliot church tomorrow night.

The department corresponding secretary, Mrs. May Lee De Sorgher of Boston, was present and addressed the meeting. After the meeting adjourned the annual strawberry festival was held from 6 p.m. to 8. Then an enjoyable entertainment followed. The young people of the First Congregational church presented a laughable farce entitled "The Peddler's Parade." Those taking part were: Clarence Cutler, Edith Maker, Chester Martel, Arvella Peabody, Ralph Clark, Blanche Atkinson, Ella Martel, Iva Connell, Alice Cochrane, Ed. Nelson, Will Nelson, George Mevis, Bessie Worrell, Wilbur Johnson, Walter Wilson, Lottie Spriggs. Then followed a vocal solo by Miss Nera Johnson, piano accompaniment by Mrs. O. C. Johnson; a "medical lecture," Edward Nelson; and solo by Will Nelson.

ATTACKED WOMAN AND BIT HER SEVERAL TIMES.

TREMONT, June 17.—A vicious mongrel dog broke from his chain at Pelrceville Thursday, as Mrs. Samuel Gurney, a young married woman, was entering the dooryard, and bit her eight times upon the leg and arm.

Mrs. Gurney lies in a critical condition. Her husband is employed in the machine shop at the Tremont nail works. The dog's owner is Miss Edith Davis, daughter of Nehemiah Davis, a neighbor, in Briggs' lane.

Mrs. Gurney has been bitten by the dog before, the neighbors say. It has been a terror in the neighborhood for a long time, since Mr. "Vat" Cobb presented it when young to Miss Davis. It was generally tied up.

When the dog attacked Mrs. Gurney Thursday she grabbed his collar and held on, in spite of his bites. It took the combined efforts of two women to choke the beast into submission. The dog has been killed.

BACK TO LIFE

RESUSCITATED AT THE HOSPITAL

After a Long Period of Unconsciousness

Thomas McDermott, aged 22 years and residing at 316 Adams street, had a narrow escape from being drowned last night, and in fact was brought back to life after it was believed that he had been drowned.

McDermott with a number of friends was swimming in the western canal near the Red Bridge near Walker street last evening about 8 o'clock. He got some distance away from the bank, when his friends heard him calling for assistance. Several of his companions went into the water and soon reached the place where he was, but he had sunk beneath the surface of the water and owing to the darkness of the night they had some difficulty in locating him.

He was finally brought to the bank in an unconscious condition and it was believed by all that he had been drowned, but the chance of life remaining was taken and every effort was made by artificial respiration to save him.

For half an hour his friends worked over him, and put on his clothes to keep warmth in the body, but no sign of life had appeared when a carriage arrived to convey him to the hospital. He was hurried to St. John's and on arrival there the efforts toward resuscitation were continued.

After half an hour more of effort there was a faint sign of life and this urged the physicians to continue their work. Consciousness gradually returned and in half an hour more McDermott was again able to sit up and after an hour he had so far recovered strength that he was able to return to his home.

HEAVY STORM

THIRTEEN YACHTS STARTED IN THE BIG RACE.

DOVER, Eng., June 17.—Thirteen yachts started from here today in the annual race from Dover to Heligoland, a Prussian island in the North sea, for Emperor William's cup in a heavy rain storm and with a light wind blowing. Shortly afterwards at about noon, the American yachts Atlantic and Apache and the British yacht Valhalla got away in a fog over the same course for a special cup offered by Emperor William for the auxiliary yachts which participated in the recent trans-Atlantic race.

WITH THE HORSES.

Outside of the Suburban the betting was comparatively light at Bluephend, Thursday. Though the running of the first race was put back fifteen minutes because of the strike of the Mets, there was practically no big betting on that event at all. The handicap was the chief magnet for the money. Joe Hayman bet $2000 on Beldame, Henry Grann and H. R. Shaffer placed $1000 each on the mare, who also carried $500 bets made by Newton Bennington, George Newton, W. Gratz, Joe Vendig and others. The clubhouse commissioners at the last moment wagered $2000 on Beldame, and when the horses were at the post Delhi and Beldame were equal favorites at threes.

Proper had the support of many smart speculators. Wheelock bet $1500 on him, Honest John Kelly, Eddie Burke, Kid Rogers, Sammy Carrol, Abe Lonegan and Billy Hayes all bet $1000 on the Prestonpans horse. Dave Johnson wagered $1500 on Jacquin. Jesse Lowisohn went to Delhi for $2000, Sol. Lichtenstein and Smith Keime for $1000 each, Bill Porter for $1500 and Orlando Jones and Bill Cowan for smaller amounts.

Bennington and Lichtenstein cashed on Ivan the Terrible in the first race, with Dave Johnson splitting $1000 on Jacund. When "Diamond Jim" Brady's Water Light won the second race Jesse Lowisohn cleared up $5000. Tommy Meehan, who possibly bet for Brady, had $1500 on the colt, and Bennington $500. Wheelock lost $2000 on Agile, Eddie Burke $1000 Joe Hayman $1000, Bob Tucker $1000 and Timothy D. Sullivan $500. Orlando Jones and Henry Griffin went to Minister with Tom Costigan, Max Blumenthal and Alex Shields playing Uncas. Sam Hildreth split $500 on Jake Sanders.

George C. Bennett, the winner of the double event, was played by all the western operators. The clubhouse commission was $5000. Joe Hayman bet $2000 on Bennett. Sol. Lichtenstein placed $1000 on Bohemian. Counsellor Litchtenstein took Bohemian for $500. Morris Stack bet $1500 on Jerry Wernberg, who was also backed by Johnny Coleman and Ike Thompson.

The fifth race was a gold mine for those who backed John E. Madden's Timber, for even after the colt ran away and his price went up to 2½ to 1 after closing at 7 to 5, his supporters went up and down the line and backed him down again. George Wheelock placed $2500 on Timber; so did Joe Hayman, with Charles Head Smith wagering $5000, Kid Rogers $2000, Sol Lichtenstein $1000; Sammy Carroll $1000, Joe Vendig, Fred Lowe, John Waldman, R. Reilly, John Madden, Fred Johnson and Abe Lonergan $500 each. Bob Tucker, John E. Moran and Johnny Coleman played accountant. John A. Drake bet $2000 on Memories in the last race. Charles Head Smith and Lewisohn also backed the mare heavily, with Wheelock playing Only II., Honest John Kelly taking Pretension and Sam Hildreth Action.

The Suburban Handicap was worth $17,000 to the winner. This turf classic was first run in 1884, the winners being Gen. Monroe, Pontiac, Troubadour, Eurus, Elkwood, Raceland, Salvator, Loantaka, Montana, Lowlander, Ramapo, Lazzarone, Henry of Navarre, Ben Brush, Tillo, Imp, Kinley Mack, Alcedo, Gold Heels, Africander and Hermis, who holds the record for the race, 2.05.

There are 233 bookmakers of all classes operating on the track, including 74 Mets and 10 non-members in the front line, 52 in the back line, 18 standees and 109 in the field.

SILVER WEDDING

Of Mr. and Mrs. Hobson Observed

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hobson of the Belvidere School of Languages and Music, 354 East Merrimack street, observed the 25th anniversary of their marriage at their home, yesterday, with a reception between 5 and 10 p. m. and received the congratulations of many friends.

Others present from out of town yesterday were Colonel and Mrs. Frank Dalton and Miss Dalton of Salem, Mrs. George L. Goodale, wife of Prof. Goodale of Harvard college; Miss Minnie Gilman of Cambridge, Mrs. Hobson's sister Mrs. L. D. Bennett of Saco, Me., Miss Anna Mueller of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Hobson's brother, Dr. Adolph Kettenhall of Cambridge. A large number of Lowell friends called to offer congratulations.

The drawing room was beautifully decorated with mammoth bouquets of white and pink peonies, jacqueminot roses, carnations, and the fireplace was screened with field daisies. The library had bouquets of pinks and maidenhair ferns and of buttercups. In the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served, there were clusters of Fair Maid pinks and of daisies. Miss Alice Littlefield, Miss Elizabeth Abbott, Miss Gertrude Abbott, Miss Bonney Lilley and Mr. Nelson Coburn, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Hibson in entertaining guests, and Master Ralph Coburn was page. Mr. and Mrs. Hobson were recipients of a large number of beautiful sterling silver gifts, several books, a liberal amount of money and many lovely flowers.

REAL NOVELTY

INAUGURATED BY BELL CLOTHING COMPANY.

The big combination sale inaugurated today at the Bell Shoe & Clothing Co. has for its inception an original and novel idea. Each department manager is responsible for the success and gross amount of sales in his own department, having received full power to make such price concessions and offer the biggest bargains imaginable to make a big showing. The following is taken from a few remarks to a Sun reporter: Mr. T. G. Driver, head of the ladies' department says:

I am pleased to be in a position to show what I can accomplish in my department and have every confidence in the bargains I can offer my friends and patrons. It comes very opportune as my stock consists of the newest and brightest seasonable garments for present wear.

Mr. M. Kelly, head of the men's clothing department, says: At no time of the year could this sale have been more appropriate. Backward season, cold weather, etc., has left us with more spring clothing than we ought to have and as I've got carte blanche on prices, there'll be some tall hustling in this department.

Mr. A. Flanders, head of the shoe department, says: A snap—well I should say so. There'll be more bargains sold in my department than ever before, because I am determined, irrespective of cost, to make this the record-breaking era of the department.

Mr. J. Corrigan, head of the boys' and children's department, says: I am going to boom this department to the top notch. I'll bet the other fellows such a pace on bargain getting that they'll have to trot a fast gait not to get distanced.

Mr. E. Mountain, head of the furnishing goods department, says: With the free hand given me by the firm, I'm going to give the boys some prices on straw hats and fancy fixings that'll do their heart good. Swell negligee shirts, neckwear, fancy hose, etc., all included in this sale.

What Mr. M. M. Jacobs, general manager, says: I am glad to see my colleagues take hold of this innovation sale with such zest and vim, and while, of course, the rivalry is of a friendly nature, each department manager vies with the other in making a higher gross return, and while the people of Lowell reap the benefit of the cut prices, the popularity of the "Bell" and the introduction of new customers will ultimately repay us for the sacrifice of profit. The Bell Shoe and Clothing Co., 31 to 41 Merrimack street.

FREDERICK AYER CONTRIBUTES TO FAIR OF AYER EMPLOYES.

Mrs. Bertha Lee, who had charge of the recent bazaar given by the employes of the J. C. Ayer company in aid of the Lowell General hospital, has received a check for $100 from Frederick Ayer with a kind letter complimenting the employes for their good work. The check swells the receipts of the affair to $500.

The J. C. Ayer company is shut down today. Just prior to Washington's birthday the employes were given their choice of holidays and they unanimously declared themselves in favor of the 17th.

GET OUT TO CHURCH AND THEN TO THE WOODS ON SUNDAY.

Get out of the crowded city on Sunday. Go to church and then to the woods or the country away from the bustle of city life.

For the million who toil incessantly during the week, there is but one day of rest—Sunday—and a great deal depends upon how they use that day, whether to their detriment or to their benefit. To loiter around home, in the same environment, unsanitary mayhap it be, to seek no recreation, no change of scene, no refreshment from the invigorating breezes of the woods, the mountains or seashore, would be wasting the opportunities for gaining health, strength and happiness and at the same time for prolonging life. It would be willful waste of one of heaven's best gifts, the divinely appointed Sabbath, when the man and woman who toil during the week are privileged to rest and to recuperate for the work of the ensuing week. The human body and the mind as well is somewhat like a clock, it gets run down at regular intervals or about once a week, and requires renewed energy and inspiration to carry it over the labors, worries and responsibilities of another week.

Sunday then is the time for recharging the storage batteries with the energy needed for the battle of another week.

How is it to be done? What is the best method of spending Sunday?

Where most people profess some form of Christian faith, we presume the first duty will be to provide for the soul the spiritual sustenance needed, for man is a spiritual or supernatural as well as a physical being. The body requires rest, nourishing food and plenty of fresh air; the mind requires relaxation and change of scene that will overcome that mental occupation that is the dread of intellectual workers and so difficult to cast off.

Of what use is it to the mental toiler to have a respite if the mental "wheels" are still in operation, if he is still pondering over the matters that engaged his attention during the past week or that may engage it during the coming week.

Hence to obtain real mental or even bodily rest the occupation of the week must be for the nonce forgotten and left behind; for mental work is sometimes quite as exhausting as physical labor.

Then to rest properly on Sunday, the work of the week must be forgotten. This cannot be done by poking around the office, looking over the books seeing what was done wrongly and what might have been improved upon. The best way to overcome this tendency is to take to the woods.

The trolley lines have many inviting trips and the companies have provided many delightful resorts. Visit them or else go into the woods, there to commune with Nature in her wildest retreats, to listen to the singing of the birds, the sighing of the pines and enjoy the sweetness and beauty of the flowers and the inspiration of scenic grandeur.

But to the people who live in the congested districts in poor tenements and unsanitary surroundings the opportunity to get out into the woods should not be lost.

If Lowell were situated like Brockton, Quincy, Salem, Malden, Lynn, Gloucester, Boston, and other cities near the sea, we would advise everybody to use the trolleys to get to the beaches—there to enjoy the fresh breezes from the broad Atlantic; but being rather distant from the seashore the vast majority must be contented with the woods and the summer resorts which have their peculiar attractions as well as the beach.

Stand in one of the great union stations in Boston on a hot day and watch the vast streams of people that keep continually pouring outward to the country and the mountains and the equally vast streams which pour inward to the beaches. The people tire of one thing and seek change of scene which has its beneficial effects; but the poor workingman cannot take long trips. It will serve his purpose best to take his whole family out to the parks or the commons; or, better still, for a trolley ride to the suburbs where all can wander at will in the cool shade and drink in the pure air that is an unknown quantity in the burning streets of the city. When men loiter around their homes on Sunday, they do not feel right and yet they do not know what ails them. To overcome this ennui they have recourse to strong drink and too often by excessive indulgence turn the Sunday into a curse instead of a blessing. Not only do they thus abuse their own physical health, but they spend what should go to buy food or clothing for their families. How much better to go to the woods and return refreshed, good humored, cheerful and happy.

The man who gets out to the woods on Sunday or any other day is not so likely to have that craving for strong drink which is brought on by bad digestion and impure air. A trip to the woods will serve as an excellent tonic for body and mind. It is one of the ways in which the poor family can derive most benefit from the day of rest and fortify themselves most effectually against the inroads of disease. Therefore, let us again advise all who can do so conveniently to take to the woods—get out of the crowded city on Sunday; get out to the forests and parks, to the rivers and mountains, to the summer resorts with their lakes and their fountains, not to engage in roller skating but to rest the body and regale the mind with fine scenery and it may be sacred music that has always the power to charm.

FRANCE HEADS ALL THE OTHER COUNTRIES.

The fact that practically a million dollars' worth of automobiles and parts thereof have been exported from the United States since the beginning of the present calendar year lends interest to the following compilation prepared by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics, showing the imports and exports of automobiles in the commerce of the United States.

The first record of the importation of foreign-built automobiles into the United States was for the fiscal year 1901, when 26 automobiles, valued at $13,126, were imported into the country. Since that year, however, the imports have steadily increased, having grown from 26 in 1901 to 423 in 1904, while their value (including automobile parts) has increased from $47,471 in 1901 to $1,416,203 in the last fiscal year.

During the last fiscal year France supplied 56 per cent. of the importations of automobiles into the United States, the value of the imports from that country being nearly seven times as much as the combined value of the imports from all other countries. From France 368 automobiles, valued at $1,117,401, were imported, while from all other countries the total number was 55, valued at $176,666.

A special compilation recently made by the bureau of statistics shows the ports through which foreign-built automobiles enter the country. New York, Boston, Chicago, Newport, R. I., and Philadelphia are, in the order named, the principal ports for the admission of foreign automobiles into the United States. The number and value imported at each port during the past year were as follows: At New York, 358, valued at $1,106,123; Boston, 41, valued at $121,252; Chicago, 10, valued at $19,597; Newport, R. I., 6, valued at $19,018; and Philadelphia, 4, valued at $17,167; while through the ports of Newark, St. Louis, Mobile, and San Francisco 4 automobiles, with a combined value of $10,668, entered the country.

The rate of duty assessed on importations of automobiles and parts of is 45 per cent. ad valorem, and the aggregate amount of duties paid on the total imports thereof since 1901 is $1,373,535, having been $21,359 in 1901, $247,590 in 1902, $464,050 in 1903, and $650,536 in 1904.

The exportations of automobiles of domestic manufacture have been recorded only since 1902. In that year the total exportation of automobiles and parts thereof was $919,528; in 1903 the total had increased to $1,207,061, and by 1904 the total was $1,895,695; while for the ten months of the fiscal year 1905, for which figures are available, the total is $1,876,063, thus indicating a record of over $2,200,000 for the complete year which ends with the present month.

The United Kingdom and Canada take about three-fourths of the automobiles and parts thereof that are exported from the United States. During the fiscal year 1904 automobiles and parts thereof of domestic manufacture were exported to the value of $1,895,695, of which $1,020,681 went to Europe, mainly to the United Kingdom, $498,799 to North America, principally to the Dominion of Canada, and $376,125 to other countries.

In view of the rapid increase in the use of automobiles in the United States and the large proportion of imported automobiles brought from France, the following extract from Consulaire Versiaged en Berichten, published at Amsterdam, will be of interest. From this statement it will be seen that France, as well as the United States, imports foreign-built automobiles in response to the demand for machines other than of domestic manufacture, and that she also exports far in excess of such importations. The statement is as follows:

According to a statement by the administration of direct taxes, the number of automobiles in France in 1903 was 19,856, or, in round numbers, 20,000. This is a marked increase over the preceding year. In 1899, when the first census of these vehicles was held, their number was 1436; in 1900 it was 2351; in 1901, 5256; in 1902, 11,000 and in 1903, 18,856. The greatest number in any department is 4510, in the department of Siene. As automobiles are an article of export and of great utility to the less wealthy class, it is hoped that a drop in price will popularize their use.

One incident of the industry is the decrease in the number of horses. From 1903 to 1904 the number of horses in Paris dropped from 91,616 to 90,147, a difference of 869. In 1901 there were 133,892, making a decrease in 1904 of 43,745 as compared with 1901. At Lyons the same thing was observed, although there the underground railway may have contributed. The 20,000 vehicles represent a value of about 40 million dollars.

During the first two months of 1904 automobiles to the value of $256,316 were imported, as compared with $123,520 and $95,816 for the same periods in 1902 and 1903. Although there has thus been an increase in the value of imports, still it bears no comparison with the value of exports, which for the same two months were $4,267,596 in 1904, $4,020,815 in 1903, and $3,142,613 in 1902.

NEW CUBA

NUMBER OF AMERICANS HAVE SETTLED THERE.

HAVANA, June 16.—Cuba has no compiled statistics which would serve as a trustworthy basis for statements concerning the number of Americans who have settled in the island or for estimates of the land which has been bought by American citizens during the last six years, yet both form a noticeable element in the Cuba of today. It is certain that the settlers are to be estimated in thousands rather than in hundreds, and it is possible, and even probable, that somewhere between 7 per cent. and 10 per cent. of the entire area of the island is owned outright by Americans.

The acquisition of land has followed a variety of channels. The Cuba Railway company, organized under a New Jersey charter, purchased the land for its line, 450 miles in length, and has bought various tracts along its route. The so-called tobacco trust has purchased a large number of scattered tracts in the tobacco areas. A few companies have bought sugar lands with a very considerable total acreage. Other tracts, large and small, have been bought for purposes of cultivation, for cattle raising, for timber operations, mining operations or for speculation pure and simple. A few tracts have been taken with a view to the erection of winter residences, and one costly building of this kind is already well under way at Mariel, about 25 miles west of Havana.

Another channel appears in the form of speculative investment in large tracts for sub-division and sale to small holders. Some of these have been little if anything better than deliberate swindles. Others have been started in a mixture of good faith and general ignorance. It is impossible to say how many buyers have been victimized by such enterprises. Some have come to occupy the tracts which they have bought solely on the basis of lurid descriptions of glorious climate and wonderful soil, spread before them in pamphlets prepared for such as they by the promoters of the enterprise. Many have gone home again disgusted with their experience and embittered by their losses. Some have stayed to fight it out because no other course was open to them, and a few have been fairly successful.

There is really very little reason for any American emigration to Cuba. Probably 95 per cent. of those who come do so with the idea that the natural richness of the island is so great that wealth will come to them without obliging them to contribute any of that unnatural aid known as hard work. Disappointment will surely be one of the principal crops secured by any who come with that idea in their heads. Any man who believes that Cuba is an exception to the fundamental law that the cost of bread is the sweat of the brow should at once revise his opinion. Cuban opportunities furnish ground for arguments and inducements whose soundness is apparent rather than actual. On a basis of modest capital backed by intelligent industry the average American will do quite as well in his own land as he will in Cuba or Porto Rico or the Philippines. Most Americans will do even better at home.

NOTIFIED OF DATE OF HIS EXECUTION.

OSSINING, N. Y., June 17.—Official notice of the date of his execution for the murder of millionaire William Marsh Rice was served upon Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer, in his cell in Sing Sing yesterday. The date is Aug. 7. Patrick did not seem to be in the least disturbed by the warden's announcement. He said that the court had nothing else to do but to set a new date for the carrying out of the sentence, but he intimated that the warden would not be called upon to enforce the death penalty on that date and that steps would be taken at once to secure a further delay by making another appeal for a new trial.

CHICAGO, June 17.—A check for $75,000 is said to have been given by Charles F. Thaw of New York to Frances Rush, formerly a chorus girl, who received a divorce from Thaw yesterday. The divorce was granted by Judge Albert Akers on statutory grounds, Thaw making no defense. No mention of alimony was made in the decree given Mrs. Thaw, but her lawyer declares a check for the sum named was given to her by Thaw, the lawyer negotiating the transaction. HOW TO SUCCEED

Points for Young Men to Consider

"That article recently printed in the 'Points for Subordinates' on the discouraging note offered by public men, by saying that not all can hope to attain the highest eminence, reminds me of the army," said a veteran of the civil war last night. "When a regiment or a brigade was lined up to go into battle, we felt certain that some of us were going to be killed. As a matter of fact, some were killed in every engagement that I entered. I was a private and went where commanded. On more than one occasion I have seen our solid ranks thinned out and comrades on both sides go down, yet it never occurred to me that I would be killed. That was the chance a soldier didn't like to consider. The moment he began to feel that he would be shot, his knees began to tremble, his aim was vague and his courage insecure. While we knew to a dead moral certainty that some of us would never sit around the camp-fire again, every soldier cultivated the feeling that he and he alone of the regiment was going to be the one to escape the enemy's bullets.

"That sort of a feeling and that determination made the battle hot and long and often brought victory. As I was going to say, it is the sentiment to be applied in the ordinary peaceful affairs of life. When I see a lot of young men together listening to wise counsel, I like to have them told that each one is in all likelihood the man who will escape the enemy's bullets: that each is the lucky one; and that there is no doubt that each can reach the highest goal—it all depends on the effort put forth. As your writer suggested, some of them will thereby shoot pretty tall trees, as all are taught to aim high."

UP BY HARD WORK.

"The Memoirs of an American," a serial running in the Saturday Evening Post, could be read by every young man, making an earnest beginning in life, with considerable profit. It is only a plain narrative of a boy who began at the bottom in Chicago and by his own sturdy determination pulled himself to wealth and position. The story is of interest because it reads like truth. The incidents related are so commonplace and so matter-of-fact that it requires no imagination to believe them. The lesson of the story is especially valuable to the young man because it shows how success can be achieved by work and struggle without the entrance at any point of the factor of luck or chance.

Harrington, the American who succeeded, won for himself by following the plain signposts of success. He worked diligently, enthusiastically in every position that he held from delivery boy in a meat market to the top of the packing-house ladder. In addition to this, he saved money out of every salary that he received. Even at the beginning, when he earned barely enough for support, he saved something. He studied his business constantly and thoroughly, and he strove to please every customer with whom he came into contact. But even with these virtues, his success was not meteoric. He rose only by slow and laborious degrees. Every additional prize was wrested from the world with effort; every step upward represented toil. Harrington won because he understood his business and because he never relaxed his efforts. He won the fight because he fought intelligently and valiantly.

The point in this story that should especially impress itself upon the youth is the fact that from the first, from the time when he walked the streets of Chicago without a roof and without the price of a meal, Harrington never doubted his ability to succeed, never lost his determination to win wealth. It is this fixed purpose that tells for success. Pretty nearly anything that a strong man determines to secure he can get if his determination and effort never flag. It s the serious perseverance of purpose that is the chief characteristic of the Japanese people. It is this that has stood for much of their success in war and peace.

The youth who starts in determined to succeed, confident that he can and will succeed, and who never relaxes effort for an instant, will, like Harrington in the story referred to, land at the top.

TAILORS DIVULGE SOME POINTS.

At their banquet the other night the merchant tailors of New York, who are interested in such things, had some matters under discussion that young men could profit by hearing. Said one: "There is no man in business who does not have to give and get credit. Credit is the cheapest thing in the world. We are taken at our own valuation. The young man who seeks to sell his services with the air of 'Kick me before somebody else does,' gets a menial's job and pay for the rest of his days. The well-dressed, clean fellow with an air of confidence will be his boss. We have heard all our lifetime that nine out of every ten business men fail. Statistics prove this untrue. About five out of every hundred fail. Out of 1,500,000 business men but 60,000 failed last year."

JUST AS YOU ARE!

"If you are willing to make a door mat of yourself, do not be surprised if people wipe their feet on you and kick you aside," says Success.

GOOD BUSINESS

REPORTED BY THE JOBBERS IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Jobbers had no complaints to make yesterday over the manner in which summer business is moving along. Cooler weather in a measure kept the city retail buyer out of the market, but mail orders, especially from the south, were very encouraging. From all the principal southern cities very favorable reports have been received. Business in New Orleans has been particularly good. Several of the department stores report May sales as ahead of last year for the same period by over 30 per cent. Salesmen just back from southern trips report that the business outlook all through the south was never brighter. One salesman who travels eight months in the year through southern territory, and who has been doing this for past thirty years, said yesterday:

"I have just returned from a two months' trip through the south, and have booked excellent orders both for current needs and next fall. I have watched the south develop for over 25 years, and people in the north don't realize the enormous resources and opportunities there. Many of the largest cotton mills in this country have realized that they must get in closer touch with the section which produces raw material. They have gone south. In certain sections towns are springing up around these new plants. Many hands are employed, and good wages are being paid. This has helped to put more money in circulation, and has naturally helped the retail storekeeper. In former years the retailer depended largely upon the farmer, who received money for his cotton or other products once or twice a year. This meant that the retailer must give credit and carry his account for eight months, or may be a year. Today these same retailers are doing a large cash business, wherever there is a cotton mill within shopping distance.

"New Orleans looms up large in the future. The coming Panama Canal means that this city will be one of the greatest and busiest in the United States at no very distant date. Already signs toward this end are apparent. Men with money are today getting options on property in and around the city, where it is possible. Others are planning new companies. Three new steamship lines have been announced with New Orleans as the home port. Raw material, including cotton, is plentiful, including iron ore, lumber, cement fields, and many other things too numerous to mention. All I can say is, keep your eye on the south."

WILL MEET THE "MAN WITH THE HOE."

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 16—One of the most interesting episodes in the history of literature and art seems likely to take place during the coming summer at the Lewis and Clark exposition. "The Man With the Hoe," Millet's celebrated painting, and Edwin Markham, author of the still more famous poem of the same name, which was inspired by the painting; are expected to meet face to face in the museum of art at the exposition. A coincidence that adds interest to this expected event lies in he fac ha Edwin Markham is a native of Oregon City, only twelve miles from Portland, where the exposition is held. The poet grew up there, and doubtless was more or less familiar in his boyhood with the beautiful spot where the great fair has been built.

The Millet painting is now owned in San Francisco, where Markham's poem was first published. Frank Vincent DuMond, director of fine arts at the Portland fair, is negotiating with Mr. Crocker, owner of he picture, to secure the world-famed work as one of the attractions in the museum of art, where Mr. DuMond is now installing a splendid collection of paintings by the most renowned artists of America and Europe, and many representative works by western artists.

It is the hope of the exposition management that Mr. Markham may be present during "Western Authors' Week" at the fair, from July 10 to 15, culminating in "Poets' Day." The final day of the week was named in honor of Joaquin Miller, who in a letter to the department of special events insists that it be called "Poets' Day" and that all poets of recognized worth be invited. Miller declares that he is "not entitled to first place except by right of antiquity," and that he has "tried on the halo fashioned for him by the exposition and it doesn't fit." Nevertheless, the day is most likely to be known as "Joaquin Miller Day," though it is expected that a considerable number of poets will be in attendance.

During "Western Authors' Week" it is believed that a large gathering of authors will attend the exposition and take part in certain exercises and social functions to be arranged by the committee in charge. This is the first exposition that has given such recognition to the authors, and the idea is attracting wide attention. Joaquin Miller, the dean of western writers and poets, is a native of Indiana, though he grew up in Oregon and did much of his early literary work in that state. He now resides near Oakland, Cal. He is famous both in Europe and America. Recently his complete poetical works have been collected and published, with characteristic comments by the author.

HIS HAND INJURED.

While adjusting a large motor yesterday afternoon George W. Conant, head machinist for Derby & Morse, had his right hand too close to the rapidly revolving exhaust fan with the result that the index finger was almost severed and the hand and other fingers were badly lacerated.

He was taken to Dr. John C. Irish's office, where his wounds were dressed. It was found that the top of the index finger was being held in place by the skin, the bone having been broken.

FISH WARDEN GEORGE T. SPENCE

BUILD FISHWAY

The Fish Cannot Pass Through It

George T. Spence, fish warden for the city of Lowell, says that the fishways in this city at the present time are positively unserviceable and he says that the commissioners on fisheries should see to it that a new fishway is built at once. Mr. Spence declares that it is impossible for fish of any importance to get through the fishway as it is at the present time. He claims it is not even a good apology for a fishway.

Mr. Spence tells interesting stories of the vain attempts of fish to climb the falls by way of the fishway. He has seen thousands of them in trying to face the swiftly running water in the fishway thrown back and discouraged. Mr. Spence has served as state deputy on fish and game in this state for several years, and he allows that he knows what he is talking about when he says that the fishway in this city is the purest kind of an apology. He also makes the statement that when the Locks and Canals are putting in new flash boards the fishway is boarded up, but that does not amount to much in view of the fact that the fishway is no good anyway. Relative to the closing up of the fishway when new flash boards are being installed, Mr. Spence quotes from his report to the commissioners on fisheries and game for the year ending Dec. 31, 1899, as follows:

During the month of May there was the largest run of eels I have seen for a great many years here at the fishway. On May 22 I found the fishway completely closed up. The men employed by the Locks and Canals company, having occasion to put new flash boards on the dam, had boarded the fishway up, and there was no chance for any water to run through. I called at the office of the company and notified them that the fishway was closed up and there should be an opening left on the end of the dam, so as to allow the water to go over and give the fish a chance t oget up, and they claimed that the men working on the dam had made a mistake. The boards were taken off, and they fixed it satisfactorily.

Mr. Spence calls upon the commissioners on fisheries to give the fish a chance to get over Pawtucket falls.

"In reading over a report of the commissioners on fisheries and game a few years ago," said Mr. Spence, "the governor of New Hampshire said that owing to impassable falls in Lawrence and Lowell the fish were unable to reach New Hampshire. The trouble is that the relations between the commissioners and the companies who control the dams in this city and in Lawrence are too pleasant to be disturbed by an order for a new fishway. The commissioners on fisheries and game for the side of the companies and let the fishways go to Jericho."

The following was culled, by Mr. Spence, from the report of the commissioners and fisheries and game for the year ending December 31, 1903:

"It is of large importance that, in the event of building additional fishways, the utmost care shall be exercised to secure their proper location, as well as their suitable construction, in order that the public may receive the largest benefit in consequence of the action taken. Unfortunately, it sometimes happens that a fish ladder is so badly located that the object of building it is entirely defeated, and, as a result, its erection is worse than useless, for those ignorant of the real cause of inefficiency are liable to ascribe it to some other cause than the right one, much to the prejudice of fishways as a means for fish to pass over dams on their way to spawning grounds at the head waters of streams.

"The Lawrence fishway is a noteworthy example of making such a structure useless, even when it is built at large expense. The writer has examined it on several occasions, and is of the opinion that either it should be abandoned as worthless, or that it should be rebuilt in another location as soon as the laws will permit.

"The foot of the fishway is in close proximity to the outlet of a sewer, which pollutes the river at that point to such an extent that one may marvel that even a lamprey eel enters it. Indeed, there were not many of them that made the venture this year. Superintendent Thomas S. Holmes reports that: 'Lampreys appeared in the Lawrence fishway May 15. There were very few of them, and none were seen after June 17. The only other fish seen were a very few suckers, chubbs and silver eels.'

"This is not strange; the wonder is that any fish were seen in or near the fishway, for not only is the water contaminated, but the lower end of the fishway is out of the water a large part of the time,—that has been its condition whenever seen by the writer.

"Inasmuch as the commission is usually considered responsible for the proper location of fishways, as well as for their satisfactory construction, the board in authority at the time the Lawrence fishway was built will doubtless be held accountable for its present unsatisfactory location, which has effectively defeated the purpose of its erection. However that may be, it is evident that the commission should now be authorized by law to have fishways built where they are required for the continuance of fish life in our streams."

"I hope," said Mr. Spence, "that when the commissioners build a new fishway in Lowell they will not build it near the mouths of any of our sewers.

"The commissioners have been stocking ponds that now contain a large number of black bass, with trout and land-locked salmon. I want to say that the salmon and trout will make nice live bait for the bass. Other ponds have been stocked with smelt which is a natural food for the land-locked salmon. I know of one pond that was stocked with land-locked salmon fingerlings over 15 years ago and there were a large number of pickerel in the pond at the time. No land-locked salmon have ever been seen or caught in this pond."

The following extracts from the Acts of 1904 will give your readers some idea of the authority invested in commissioners of fisheries:

Section 9. The commissioners may examine all dams upon rivers where the law requires fishways to be maintained, or where in their judgment fishways are needed, and they shall determine whether the fishways, if any, are suitable and sufficient for the passage of the fish in such rivers, or whether in their judgment a fishway is needed for the passage of fish over any dam; and shall prescribe by an order in writing what changes or repairs, if any, shall be made therein, and where, shall be kept open, and shall give notice how and when a new fishway must be built, and at what times the same five to the owners of the dams accordingly. The supreme judicial court, or the superior court, shall, upon the petition of the commissioners, have jurisdiction in equity or otherwise to enforce any order made in accordance with the provision of this section, and to restrain any violation of such order, notified by serving upon them a copy of the order; and a certificate of the commissioners that service has been so made shall be deemed sufficient proof thereof.

Section 11. Any owner of such a dam who refuses or neglects to keep open or maintain a fishway at the times prescribed by the commissioners shall forfeit fifty dollars for each day of such refusal or neglect.

Section 12. If in the opinion of the commissioners, a passage for edible fish should be provided or if any one of the commissioners finds that there is no fishway or an insufficient fishway in or around a dam where a fishway is required by law to be maintained, any one of the commissioners may, in his discretion, enter with workmen and materials upon the premises of the person required to maintain a fishway there and may, at the expense of the commonwealth, if in the opinion of the commissioners the person required by law to construct or maintain such fishway is not able to afford such expense, improve an existing fishway, or cause one to be constructed if none exists, and may, if necessary, take the land of any other person who is not obliged by law to maintain said fishway; and if a fishway has been constructed in accordance with the provisions of this section, the commissioners shall not require the owner of the dam to alter such fishway within five years after the completion thereof.

Section 13.—All damages which are caused by taking land as provided in the preceding section, shall, upon the application of either party, be estimated in the same manner as land which has been taken for a highway and shall be a charge against a person who is required by law to construct and maintain such fishway and shall be recovered in an action of contract in the name of the commonwealth, with costs and with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum.

In concluding his interview Mr. Spence said: "I would say to the commissioners on fisheries and game for this state that if they do not build a new and proper fishway in Lowell right away, I would recommend that the honorable board of commissioners stock the Merrimack river between Lawrence and Lowell with flying fish as they are the only ones of the finny tribe that could possibly succeed in getting over the dam at Pawtucket falls under present conditions."

ONE MAN WAS TRYING TO SAVE ANOTHER.

MANSFIELD, June 16—Lloyd Hodges, aged 23 years, and William Powers, aged 21 years, were drowned last night while bathing in Bramen's Pond about two miles from West Mansfield.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. WILL PAY BILL

United States Stands Expense of Peace Conference

WASHINGTON, June 17—Impressive in dignity and number will be the missions which Russia and Japan will send to the Washington conference, for although the plenipotentiaries, will be limited to two or three, the complete missions with their advisers and attaches and secretaries will each, it is expected, number 12 or more persons. Japan's plenipotentiaries probably will be accompanied by an army and a navy officer of high rank who will act as military adviser to the plenipotentiaries. In addition, there will be secretaries and attaches, some of them from the diplomatic service, some from the foreign office and others who will act as translators and recording secretaries. Russia probably will send a similar mission though perhaps not so large and both the Russian ambassador and the Japanese minister at Washington will place at the disposal of the respective missions their secretaries and attaches.

The Washington government will furnish a suitable place of meeting for the conference and as soon as a date for its convening is fixed, arrangements for the two missions will be made by the Russian and Japanese envoys here. There have been so many other important details to be settled, that the state department has not yet fixed upon offices for the conference. In addition to the main conference room, retiring rooms, offices for secretaries and a reception room will be needed. Either the capitol or the congressional library are regarded as perhaps the best suited buildings in Washington and in view of the indefinite period which the conference may remain in session, it has been suggested that perhaps the congressional library might be preferable to the capitol, for should some unexpected obstruction arise to keep the conference in session until in the fall, the convening of congress in extra session, might necessitate the removal of the conference elsewhere.

Whatever expenses are incurred incident to the maintenance of quarters, will of course be borne by the Washington government. If M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador at Paris comes to Washington as the ranking Russian plenipotentiary, his rank will equal that of Marquis Ito. At first there was some doubt in the minds of the Japanese as to whether M. Nedlioff possessed sufficient rank, for a mission of the importance accorded the Washington conference in Japan. Russia, however, at this juncture, let it be known that the Russian ambassador at Paris, outranked even the Russian minister for foreign affairs. Moreover, it was pointed out that as the personal representative of his sovereign a Russian ambassador could be outranked only by a prince of the royal family. Japan has not of course objected to the selection of M. Nelidoff, but in view of her expressed determination to select two of three "distinguished personages" she is desirous that Russia choose as plenipotentiaries men of rank and statesmanship, who possess the confidence, not only of their own government, but of the other powers.

THE RUSSIANS

WILL SUPPORT WAR POLICY IF JAPAN DEMANDS TOO MUCH.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 17—2.05 p.m.—The note of the foreign office announcing that the negotiations for the meeting of the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries was printed without comment in the morning papers, but the press of all shades of opinion is discussing Japan's terms and declare with practical unanimity for a continuation of the war rather than the acceptance of humiliating conditions. In this the newspapers are upheld by public opinion, which is veering around to support of the war policy if Japan's terms prove too hard.

Only the Nasha Zizen advises Russia that she need not balk at the payment of an indemnity, the cession of the island of Sakhalin, the renunciation of her right to keep warships in far eastern waters or the surrender of Vladivostok but the paper holds that Russia must retain northern Manchuria and the Vladivostok railroad. The Bourse Gazette, which draws a gloomy picture of Russia's relations with France, Great Britain, Germany and Austria the Novoe Vremya, and the reactionary Sviet sound hostile notes against the United States.

The Novoe Vremya reiterates that Russia's chief enemies in the far east are not the Japanese, but the British and Americans on account of their commercial rivalry, while the Sviet objects to Washington as the place of meeting for the plenipotentiaries, declaring that the atmosphere there is unfriendly and asserting that Russia's representatives will be subjected to prejudicial influence" in the capitol of the enemy's ally."

All the papers comment on the retirement of Grand Duke Alexis from the office of high admiral and a general feeling of relief is manifested at the fact that the present naval regime is ended.

FOR BIG PARADE

MANY FEATURES ALREADY PROMISED

Sporting Feature Was Cut Out

At a meeting of the Fourth of July committee held last night it was voted to cut out the sporting feature and to transfer the $125 appropriated for that feature to the parade. Unless all signs fail the slambang parade will be a "corker."

Chief Marshal Hubbard is very enthusiastic and will do all in his power to make a success of the parade. Principal Irish of the High school was at the meeting. He had been asked to state whether or not the High school regiment could parade on July 4. Mr. Irish said that after the school closed the pupils were not under the control of the school department. Then there was the question of loss of equipment to consider. Mr. Irish, however, said he would talk with the committee and do what he could to have the regiment turn out.

On motion of Councilman Baldwin it was voted to add $25 to the prize for a school feature.

Chief Marshal Hubbard said that things were going along swimmingly. He said that he had heard from the O. M. I. cadets of Belvidere, the St. Patrick's Fife and Drum corps, and he had had assurances from the five Portuguese societies that they would turn out.

The suggestion was made that the Textile school arrange a feature, and it was stated that there was every indication that such a feature would be introduced. Nothing definite as to the starting time of the parade was agreed upon. It was the sense of the committee that the parade should start not later than 8 o'clock or earlier than 6.30.

The committee went to Charlestown today to see the parade and to secure features for the slambang in Lowell on the Fourth.

ON THE WARPATH.

Passaconaway tribe of Red Men will send their warwhoops down the line in the slambang parade. The great council sent a dispensation last night authorizing the tribe to appear in costume in the parade. There will be at least 100 real Indians in line and the feature will be a very attractive one.

FRENCH AMERICAN CITIZENS.

A large meeting of representative French American people was held in St. Joseph's college hall last evening. The purpose of the meeting was to make arrangements for the turning out of French Americans in the Fourth of July parade.

Maxime Lepine presided, and Councilman Leon Marcotte was the secretary. It was unanimously voted to accept Chief Marshal Hubbard's invitation to take part in the parade.

Those who spoke in favor of getting up a whole French American division were E. H. Choquette, L. P. Turcotte, Charles H. Boisvert, Councilman Marcotte, Pierre A. Brousseau, Joseph Harvey, Maxime Lepine, Fred Giroux, Joseph S. Monminy, Paul Charbonneau, L. P. Leblanc and Mr. Brunelle.

The formation of a whole division to represent the French American people met with general approval and means were immediately taken to secure that end. Joseph Harvey was chosen marshal, and L. P. Turcotte, Maxime Lepine and Councilman Marcotte were appointed a committee to issue invitations to the French American societies and clubs to turn out in the division.

NORTH ADAMS PAPER SUED FOR ALLEGED LIBEL.

NORTH ADAMS, June 17.—John G. Robinson and Cal Towers, guardians of Covera De Fonta, better known as Prince Mungo, a Filipino, who is with the John Robinson circus, have entered suit against a local paper for $10,000 for libel. The Herald printed a story recently, purporting to come from a commercial traveller named John H. Siddon, asking that the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of this city take action to prevent the Filipino from biting the heads off small alligators. The man claimed to have seen this done in Bennington, Vt., while the show was there. Prince Mungo denies the allegation.

HE WALKED OUT

Big Sensation at Jail Breaking Trial

U. S. Prisoners Had Unusual Privileges

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., June 17—The trial of Harry McCormick, who is charged with having broken from the Middlebury jail while awaiting trial on the charge of forgery, which began here yesterday before Judge Watson of the supreme bench, developed sensational testimony which it is said is likely to lead to an investigation of the jail here, and which again brought prominently to notice J. W. Ketcham, the U. S. prisoner who is serving a seven years' sentence for the part he had in wrecking the Farmers' national bank of Vergennes.

It appeared in the testimony, and Deputy Sheriff William H. Cobb, who has also been the jailer here for 32 years, admitted the fact, that Ketcham has been allowed to serve as turnkey, has had access to the keys of the jail, and has even had the unusual prison luxury of the services of a valet.

McCormick, who is being defended by Frank L. Fish of Vergennes, sets up the defence that he did not break jail, as the doors of the jail were open and that he simply went away. He was apprehended in Franklin, N. H., last Saturday, pleaded not guilty to the charge of jail breaking.

A number of prisoners from the jail were brought to court as witnesses, among them being Ketcham. All these witnesses were subjected to a rigid examination as to the methods and discipline of the jail, and it was during this line of testimony that Ketcham's jail life was brought prominently to the fore. It appears that the lad he had as valet had himself been subjected to a charge of forgery by Ketcham, who charged that the servant had forged his name to a check for $1.

The valet, Don Henry Davis, a native of the island of Malta, brought here by soldiers returning from the Philippines, had been arrested on the charge, but the court ordered the case not press'd after an investigation. It is known that Davis comes of a prosperous Maltese family, and that the lad will receive $999 when he comes of age in two years, and it is alleged that the charge against Davis was prompted by ulterior motives.

Cobb said that the door of the cell room could be opened by a piece of wire and a wooden plug, and he had satisfied himself by experimenting that it could be done. He admitted that an iron bar provided for securing the jail doors had never been used as it was intended, and that only recently did he ascertain that he possessed a lock for such bars.

Some of the prisoners who were companions of McCormick in jail testified to the effect that they had seen McCormick have in his possession and engaged in the manufacture of a wire key which he told them he intended to use in opening the jail door. McCormick, they said, also told some of the prisoners after he was apprehended and brought back that he had secured his liberty by the aid of the jailer and told certain of his companions that death awaited them if they did not come into court and testify that McCormick received a letter from E. W. Train of Ludlow, in which was $10 and a note from Cobb, the jailer, stating that arrangements would be made to liberate him.

A SERIOUS FALL

Henry Brady, aged 36 years, fell down stairs at his boarding house, 24 Webster street, shortly before midnight last night and sustained serious injuries.

He was so badly hurt that the ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Emergency hospital, where upon examination it was found that he was suffering from a broken nose, his head was gashed and required seven stitches, and one of his fingers was broken together with probable internal injuries.

LEGAL HUSBAND

WOMAN ASKS COURT TO DECIDE THE QUESTION.

BROCKTON, June 17.—Mrs. Mary E. Frawley-Clapp-Collison of Boston, who has appealed to the courts to relieve her of one of her two husbands, having been married to Henry J. Collison after having received news of the death of John F. Clapp, her first husband, who had deserted her, came here Thursday and searched this city and Easton in the hope of locating her missing spouse.

According to the records of the city clerk here, she was married to John F. Clapp in Easton by the Rev. Francis Holmes, Aug. 16, 1886. They lived in Easton for a time and then separated. The deserted wife states that some years afterward one of his aunts reported that he was dead. She had removed to Boston and was there married to Henry J. Collison in 1900.

In February, 1905, a Mrs. Mary E. Wilbur of Boston told her that she had seen the missing first husband, Clapp, on the street, in Brockton. She at once appealed to the superior court to set her marital relations in order, and the matter is now under advisement with Judge Fox.

Clapp was in Easton a few days ago, according to an employe in the Easton town clerk's office, and has been in Easton working within a few days.

Mrs. Collison is living apart from Collison, having taken that step immediately on receiving the information from Mrs. Wilbur in February.

While playing with other children in Second street last evening 8-year-old Ansal Henry was attacked by a vicious shepherd dog and the savage brute would have torn the child to pieces but for the timely interference of persons attracted by the boy's cries. It was with difficulty that the dog was dragged away from the bleeding form of his little victim.

Early this morning the dog was in the street smelling of the blood stained dust and growling savagely. Two weeks ago the dog bit another boy and in fact he has been the terror of the neighborhood since his arrival in Second street about a month ago.

A representative of The Sun called at Ansal Henry's home in the rear of 22 Second street, this forenoon. The boy is badly bitten about the legs, on the chest and on the arms. The dog tried to get at his throat but the boy managed to keep his head in such a position as to make it impossible for the dog to grab him there. He then seemed intent upon reaching the boy's heart and tore his clothing into shreds in an attempt to reach that vital spot. It was one of the most blood-curdling spectacles that has been witnessed in this city for many a day.

The dog is the property of Miss Bessie Worrall, whose home is at 22 Second street, directly across from the home of the Henry boy. Lieutenant Webster called at the Worrall home this forenoon and ordered that the dog be chained until arrangements are made for his disposal.

Miss Worrall was one of the first to go to the boy's rescue, but she could not pull the dog away. Miss Worrall's little brother was the next on the scene and he could not pull the dog from his little victim. Mr. Worrall was summoned and with the assistance of another man the blood-thirsty dog was taken away snapping and growling at the men who held him prisoner.

The little boy limped across the street the blood flowing from wounds on his legs, arms and body. A great crowd had gathered by the time the dog was taken away and the trail of blood from the scene of cruel torture to the boy's home cried for vengeance and two young men went looking for the dog. They armed themselves with clubs and vowed that they would beat the dog to death, but they did not succeed in locating him.

The dog was bought at an auction sale in this city by F. A. Orcutt, who has a livery stable in Second street. Orcutt in turn sold him to Miss Bessie Worrall and after the dog had been in Lowell 30 days his license was transferred.

He was brought to Lowell from Wakefield and the police here will try to trace his record in Wakefield. There is a heavy penalty attached to the transportation of a vicious dog from place to place.

While the dog may not have been brought to Lowell from Wakefield because of his viciousness, the fact that he was sold at auction here instead of Wakefield, will bear investigation.

Dr. Meagher is attending the Henry boy. His wounds have been cauterized and while he was sick and suffered pain during the night, he is resting comfortably today.

The dog is perfectly healthy and the fear of rabies does not enter into the case. The dog is vicious and should be well guarded if allowed to live.

Miss Worrall, owner of the dog, claims that the boys plagued the animal before he attacked the boy.

Well Known Inventor the Victim

NEW YORK, June 17.—The man who was run over by an automobile at Ninetieth street and Amsterdam avenue on Thursday night and who died yesterday morning as a result of his injuries in the J. Hood Wright hospital, was James Black, a civil engineer and inventor with offices in the Bennett building on Nassau street.

Policeman John W. England and four others in the automobile said after the accident that the man seemed to become bewildered while crossing the street and that he ran directly in front of the machine.

Mr. Black's friends and business associates gave this explanation for the accident: Mr. Black, they said, had weak eyes and wore powerful glasses They think that while hurrying across the street his glasses fell off and he was unable to see just where he was going.

The injured man was picked up unconscious and hurried to the hospital, where it was found that his skull, right arm, right leg and five ribs had been fractured. He never regained consciousness and died shortly before noon yesterday.

The dead man was 54 years old and a widower. He had no children. He had two brothers, one of whom is at present on a hunting trip in Canada and another with his family somewhere in Europe. Their address is care of J. S. Morgan & Co., London, and a dispatch has been sent to that firm regarding the death of the inventor. In the meantime Mr. Black's body has been removed to an undertaking establishment to await orders from either of the two brothers.

Mr. Black was interested in the Delver Cooperative company, an electrical concern. He was also interested in many inventions and is said to have perfected a scheme whereby electricity could be manufactured at a nominal cost and at the same time be controlled independently.

The dead inventor lived at various hotels in this city and in the summer months sought the Jersey coast. Only a few days ago he went to live at a hotel in Long Branch. He had been visiting at the home of friends in the nineties near Riverside Drive and was leaving their house when the accident occurred. For some time the body remained unidentified at the hospital yesterday. Francis R. Fast, a lawyer associated with Mr. Black, identified the body and took charge of it in the absence of relatives.

Policeman England and his friends were returning to their homes in the automobile when the accident occurred. The machine was being driven by Edward H. Farrell, who was locked up. He was arraigned in the west side police court yesterday just about the time that news reached the court of Mr. Black's death. The magistrate remanded Farrell to the custody of the coroner.

Bottle Labelled Poison by Her Side

But Brooded Over Loss of Her Son

Ann McGowan, a woman about 55 years of age, who has suffered from numerous paralytic shocks and who has spent a good part of her time for the past few years at the city farm, attempted to commit suicide in a most tragic manner on the grave of her son in St. Patrick's cemetery this morning. She was found in a semi-conscious condition by one of the employes of the cemetery and is now at St. John's hospital in a precarious condition, though there is a slight chance for her recovery.

The case is a very sad one and she was probably led to commit the rash deed by continual brooding over the loss of a son some years ago, her lonely condition and feeble health. While she did not show any outward signs of sorrow, wherever she has been she was always quiet and thoughtful, only now and then referring to the fact that her son's death troubled her.

Shortly before 8 o'clock this morning one of the employes of St. Patrick's cemetery noticed an elderly woman lying on a grave in the cemetery, and thinking that she was overcome by the heat, hastened to where she was and tried to arouse her, but his efforts proved unavailing. He then notified Dennis Meagher, superintendent of the cemetery, and the latter telephoned for the ambulance.

Prior to the arrival of the ambulance it was learned that the woman had attempted suicide, a small bottle bearing a red label with a skull and cross bones and marked "poison," being found by her side. The cork of the bottle had evidently been thrown away and the bottle had been nearly drained. An examination of the contents showed that it was laudanum, a deadly poison, while close by the bottle was a small pill box which was marked "Alloes Belladonna and strychnine pills," and "Carleton & Hovey, druggists," was the inscription on the label. The contents of the box, however, was some powdered substance which looked like phenacetine, which is also poisonous if taken in large quantities.

When the ambulance arrived she was hurriedly taken to St. John's hospital and restoratives were given, and while it was announced at the hospital that her condition is critical, there are strong hopes for her recovery.

On the way to the hospital the woman acknowledged that she had tried to commit suicide but would not give any reason for her rash act, and stated that she had procured the laudanum at Carleton & Hovey's drug store. A representative of The Sun called at Carleton & Hovey's and the management denied that any laudanum had been sold recently. He stated that laudanum was only sold upon a doctor's prescription.

Mrs. McGowan has been the victim of numerous paralytic shocks which prevented her from doing any work in order to take care of herself and has spent much time at the farm. Time and time again she has been discharged from the farm at her own request and at the request of others.

The last time she entered the farm was in October of 1904, and upon the request of a friend she was discharged on May 29th. At that time she had about $21, and after leaving the farm visited Undertaker Peter Davey and stated she was looking for a room where she could live, as she was tired of living at the farm.

Mr. Davey know that Mrs. Mary Farr of 142 Market street, close by his place, had a vacant room and the room was secured. There Mrs. McGowan stayed until yesterday, when she took a few of her belongings and said that she was going some place else to room.

That was the last that Mrs. Farr saw of her, though several people who knew her stated that they saw her in upper Gorham street late last evening.

In all probability she spent the night in the cemetery at her son's grave, and early this morning decided to end her life. How long she had been on the grave before being found by one of the employes of the cemetery is unknown.

It is understood that she has a sister in Buffalo, N. Y. Those who know her think that she was mentally unbalanced.

LOWELL MAN

Gannon, formerly of this city, will be pleased to hear that the rank and honor of captain on the colonel's staff as inspector of rifle practice, was bestowed upon him at a meeting of the board of officers at the Fourth regiment armory in Jersey City Wednesday.

There were several speeches and a good time in general after the meeting.

Captain Gannon entered Co. C, 4th regiment National Guard of New Jersey four years ago as a private and has won for himself the honor of captain, as no other officer of the Fourth has been known to do, by his gentle, manly, uprightness and unsurpassed military shooting. He has made his way from private to sergeant, second lieutenant, first lieutenant and captain.

Capt. Gannon is a member of several rifle and social clubs, not only in Jersey City but in other cities, and has always won the friendship of all. He has a wide circle of friends who wish him luck.

Capt. Gannon was born in Hudson, N. H., educated in Lowell and for a period of nine years was a member of Co. C, 6th regiment, M. V. M., in this city.

Capt. Gannon holds a responsible position as inspector of the stock tickers in New York city. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Gannon of 344 Stackpole street. He has two younger brothers, Richard Farmer and Edward James, also one sister, Eleanor May, the two latter now residents of Jersey City.

On June 28, Capt. and Mrs. Gannon will entertain their many friends at a house warming when their new home at Boulevard and Orient avenues will be thrown open. Mrs. Gannon was formerly Miss Jennie S. Britton, daughter of Ruel F. Britton, former owner and proprietor of the St. Cloud hotel.

Street Department is Short of Money

The committee on streets met last evening and voted to recommend a loan of $5,000 for the street department. That department is going to run shy and will have to be pieced out.

Chairman Fairweather called to order about 8.30. The city engineer was instructed to get estimates of the cost of macadamizing Chelmsford street from Powell street to the city line, and on Powell street from Liberty street to Chelmsford street.

Petitions for the acceptance of Clough avenue from West Tenth street to Bridge street and for Ina avenue from Ina street to Fourth avenue were read and sub-committees were appointed to take the matter in hand. Councilman Moran and Mahoney were appointed on one committee and Councilman Fleming and Hayes on another.

The petitions for damages relative to the straightening of Middlesex street from the power house to the city line were read and Chairman Fairweather and Councilman Mayberry were appointed a sub-committee to investigate.

Councilman Cheney appeared before the committee and spoke in favor of improving the condition of Middlesex street between Grand street and the depot.

Committee adjourned at 9.15.

WHARF WAS IGNITED AT CHELSEA.

BOSTON, June 17—A coal lighter owned by John Morrison & Co. of East Boston, the tug William G. Williams of the Ross towboat company and portions of the wharf of Bickney & Whiting, Marginal street, Chelsea, were on fire at the same time yesterday afternoon, neither, however, having been seriously damaged.

In the vicinity of the fires there is a large oil business, and yesterday afternoon a quantity of oil flowed into Chelsea creek. It is supposed that a workman after lighting his pipe threw a match into the water and the oil on the surface took fire. In an instant the coal lighter, tug and wharf were afire, and before the workmen realized the situation a lively blaze was on.

An alarm was sounded from box 16 at 4.19, and after an hour's work the firemen extinguished the flames. The lighter, tug and wharf were damaged to the extent of $50 each.

COUNTRY WEEK

APPEAL FOR FUNDS TO CONTINUE GOOD WORK.

The Charming Fraternity in sending around its annual appeal in behalf of that great philanthropy, country week, which it has maintained for several years. The work of last year was most successful. More than 130 women and children enjoyed a much needed rest in the country—some for a few days and some for two or three weeks—as necessity demanded. Beside these vacations 1200 women and children took advantage of the free street car excursions, which gave them a chance to get away from the heat of the city for a day. These day trips were greatly appreciated by those unable to leave their homes for a longer time. For this feature we are indebted to the generosity of the Boston and Northern Street Railway Co.

The expense of Country Week is met by voluntary contributions and the money is disbursed under the skilful and experienced guidance of Mrs. Paxson. The work is far reaching in our city, and much good is accomplished in our very midst. The amount on hand this year is less than usual, and the committee hope for a very generous response.

The office of the Ministry-at-Large, Middlesex street, between Elliot and South streets, has been placed at the disposal of country week and applicants may be received Saturday afternoons from 2 to 6 o'clock, beginning July 8, and ending with the close of August 26.

Contributions of money are respectfully solicited and may be sent by mail or otherwise to Edward Ellingwood, treasurer, corner Merrimack and Central streets. All sums received will be acknowledged from time to time through the Lowell papers, unless otherwise requested. Letters relative to country week should be addressed to Mrs. A. M. Paxson, Lowell.

NEW HOSPITAL

WILL BE DEDICATED NEXT WEDNESDAY.

The new building of the Lowell General hospital will be formally dedicated on next Wednesday at 4 p. m.

The new building is not only free from debt but there is a sufficient surplus to grade the grounds and put the other buildings in good condition, all being possible through the munificence of Frederick Fanning Ayer.

The two wards in the new building are the handsomest in New England and it possesses a large operating room finished throughout in white enamel with floor of glass that is non-absorbent. The work of furnishing has been done by the Ladies' Aid association the Young Women's Guild and the young women of the J. C. Ayer company.

NORWAY

WILL HAVE GOVERNMENT ON THE SWISS MODEL.

LONDON, June 17—Nejo Bjornson, the Norwegian poet, novelist and dramatist, in a communication to the Daily Chronicle declares that had the Norwegian Storthing left the question of the dissolution of the union to be decided by the general election eighteen months since, it would undoubtedly have been achieved in full agreement with the Swedish people, the majority of whom even now are in favor of dissolution. Norwegians could then have adopted whatever form of government they wished. As the matter stands, unless King Oscar consents to nominate a prince of the house of Bernadotte for the throne, Norway will no doubt become a republic and a government on the Swiss model will be adopted.

SAM LANGFORD WON.

DIED IN STREET

MARY PRETT A VICTIM OF HEART FAILURE.

BOSTON, June 17.—Mrs. Mary Prett, 45 years of age, whose home was in Somerville, was brought into the Relief hospital last night shortly before 8 o'clock in a semi-unconscious condition and without regaining consciousness died there at 1.30 this morning.

She was found by friends, standing up against the subway station in Haymarket square and when spoken to did not respond. Soon after she was brought into the hospital, the doctors placed her on the dangerous list and sent a hurried call for her husband, who arrived shortly before his wife passed away. Heart trouble is said to be the cause of her death.

THREE FIREBUGS

THEY DESTROYED ICE HOUSES

North Andover Case Cleared Up

NORTH ANDOVER, June 17.—Joseph M. Coppinger, 25; Samuel Hargreaves, 22, and Ernest L. Johnson, 26, were arraigned before Justice Frye at a special session of court yesterday afternoon and held in $500 bonds each for the September term of the grand jury.

They are charged with burning the five ice-houses owned by Brooks F. Holt of Lawrence, which were situated on the shore of lake Chochichewick in this town.

When arraigned the three men conversed together and finally pleaded guilty and were then bound over to the upper court.

The three arrests were made yesterday afternoon by Maurice F. Casey, aid in the fire marshal's department of the district police, who has been investigating the burning of the five ice-houses since last July.

There was a celebration here on the eve of the Fourth last year and the crowd of celebrators, not being content with starting bonfires, turned their attention to greater fires. A barn owned by Mrs. Ellen Mahoney was set afire and destroyed, but the three men arrested were not concerned in that.

Early on the morning of the Fourth the town was aroused by the fire at the ice-houses owned by Mr. Holt. The five building were valued at $4000 and were practically destroyed. The investigation that followed showed that the fire was of incendiary origin, and Mr. Casey began work on the case. He obtained bits of evidence by gradually pursuing his investigation, and a week ago he became convinced that he had located the right parties. Within the past few days he has interviewed the three men arrested yesterday, visiting each separately, and yesterday decided upon the arrests.

Coppinger, who has been working in Boston for three weeks, was first taken and brought to this town. Johnson was found in Lawrence and Hargreaves was found in this town.

A special session of the court was convened late yesterday afternoon, when the prisoners were arraigned. They each furnished bail, after being held for the grand jury.

Casey has learned that Coppinger, Hargreaves and Johnson were celebrating the Fourth, and early on that morning planned the fire at the ice-houses. They secured a quart of kerosene, and going to the ice-houses, gathered hay and straw, and, with this and the oil, started the blaze.

The young men are well known in town and of good families. Their act is regarded as a "night before the Fourth" prank, in which their recklessness overreached their judgment. Coppinger, before leaving North Andover, was employed on the delivery wagon of a Lawrence grocer.

It is said that Coppinger has made a confession, telling the whole story of the reckless prank to Deputy Neal.

WILL PITCH CANVAS IN LOWELL JUNE 28.

The attractions offered by Ringling Brothers' circus the current season are more imposing than ever before. The performers are the pick and flower of the world. The spectacle of "The Field of the Cloth of Gold" employs 1,200 people, and the scenic and costume accessories cost a fortune. The fun is provided by fifty clowns. The spectacle runs about thirty minutes, and precedes the ring acts. The march of the chivalric hosts introduces all the people and horses with the great shows and is a thrilling and picturesque relief from the usual circus entry. The tournaments of the sixteenth century are illustrated by athletic feats of the kind peculiar to this historic time of romance. A Ballet divertissement of 300 young girls is a fascinating feature of this production. In the circus program are 200 acts, interpreted by 375 performers. Over 200 horses are required for the swiftly changing bill. Among the sixty celebrated riders are the four Berdinis and Gilbert Eldred, of European renown; Albert Crandall, Orrin Davenport, May Davenport, Lulu Davenport, Rhoda Royal, Mme. Royal, the Hobsons, Alex. Lowanda, Reno McGree, John Agee, the DeVenos, Nola Satterfield and Nellie Showers. In the great gymnastic features of the show are many European performers never seen in this country before. The six Glinserettis are first among these. The Colibi-Cairon troupe, the Malvos, the great Dracula, Mons. Le Hirt, Mlle. El Sulto, the Fortuna Brothers, the three Rios and the Alvos trio are in this class of famous gymnic artists. The Kaufman family and Jackson family are masterful bicycle specialists, unequalled in the world. The Daroma family and Flying Fishers are at the head of the sixty aerial artists gathered from the four quarters of the globe.

The bicycling specialties of the Kaufman family of eight and Jackson family of seven are amazing exhibitions and thrillingly illustrate the possibilities of riding upon this delicate machine. They perform athletic feats of amazing difficulty and novelty with the graceful ease of experts in ground gymnastic work. This feature is one of the sensational numbers in the immense program.

BOY DROWNED

HE WAS BATHING IN THE SPICKETT RIVER.

METHUEN, June 17—William Spiers aged 11, was drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing in the Spickett river at the dike. He was with several companions and had been in the water some time before they missed him. He was a good swimmer, and it is supposed he was seized with cramps.

Chief of Police Jones and Patrolmen Bradley and Farnsworth recovered the body at 9. The boy's home was on Concord street, Lawrence.

BOY ATTACKED BY ROOSTER LOST AN EYE.

BOSTON, June 17.—Losing an eye through an attack made on him by a rooster, Felix Scandone, six years old, seeks $10,000 damages from Rosetta Pettine, owner of the bird.

The case went to trial yesterday in the session without jury of the superior court before Judge Hardy.

The child lives in East Boston. He was playing in an open field three years ago, off Lubec street, when the rooster flew at him, picking at his eye. At the time the boy was three years old.

The action is based on the allegation that the rooster possessed vicious habits and dangerous propensities, which previously had been manifested.

Reported to Have Been Indicted

CHICAGO, June 17—Proposed indictments against officials of at least five packing firms were said to have been presented to the members of the federal grand jury by District Attorney C. B. Morrison yesterday for consideration. A report was current that the indictments had practically been voted by the jury.

From a dozen to forty indictments were yesterday generally expected, as a close to inquiries which have lasted since March, bringing in scores of witnesses and occupying months. The charges are conspiracy, violation of the anti-trust laws, perjury, subordination of perjury and intimidation of witnesses.

The accused make charges of their own, asserting that homes of some of them have been practically robbed by secret service men in search of evidence and alleging persecution of innocent persons. The latter refers to the cases where wives of some of the packing firms employes who left the city, were placed under bond.

There has also developed a serious conflict among the packers themselves. On resulting intimations of alleged treachery the government officials are said to count on producing testimony not obtainable except by some one turning "state's evidence."

EXECUTORS' SALE OF TWO-TENEMENT HOUSE AND ABOUT 3747 SQUARE FEET OF LAND AT NO. 12 LAGRANGE STREET.

As executor of the above estate, I will sell promptly at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday next, this parcel of property consisting of a two-tenement house, and about 3747 square feet of land. There is no property so well and conveniently handled by a person of moderate means than a two-tenement house of this character.

It is situated on the southerly side of Lagrange street, and will always be rented, as it is quite handy to all city conveniences; it is but a short distance from the Lowell Machine shop and Carpet mills, and the several industries on Broadway. Now it is up for absolute sale and the purchaser, whoever it may be is sure to strike a grand bargain. The house consists of two tenements of about six rooms each; they are in very good repair and are rented at the present time for about $264 a year. The lot contains about 3747 square feet, is all fenced in, has good yard room with concrete walks and has a frontage on the street of about 57 feet. Now this is a prime good parcel of property and will be appreciated by the man with a small capital to invest.

TERMS: $250 must be paid to auctioneer at time and place of sale.

Very Pretty Home Property.

House, barn and about 4524 square feet of land, on School street. This is a very neat, compact piece of residential property; it is the right size for a small home and offers all conveniences that are necessary to make a comfortable dwelling. There are eight large, well proportioned rooms, bath, and cemented cellar. It is heated throughout by steam, has hot and cold water connections, and all modern improvements. The stable has four stalls, excellent carriage room, and a good loft for storage; the carriage room and driveway are all concreted. The lot contains about 4524 square feet of land with a frontage of about 50 feet on the street; it sets on the easterly side of the street, has good elevation and is pleasantly surrounded by many pretty homes.

This would make an excellent home for some business man who had two or three horses and the present owner having changed his place of business is the only reason that he offers his beautiful little home for sale. For full particulars call on C. F. Keyes.

JOHN M. FARRELL, Auctioneer

Wednesday, June 21, 1905, at 4 o'clock

I will sell at public auction a very fine residence, consisting of a well built house and barn and 11,940 square feet of land, with a frontage of 60 feet, situated at No. 48 Riverside street, between Pawtucket and Moody street bridge, making it very convenient to get to the heart of the city in a few minutes, near church, school and store and two lines of street cars.

Having business interests that oblige me to leave Lowell, I have instructed Mr. Farrell to sell, without limit, my beautiful home. The house has 10 large rooms and bath, with a large summer kitchen, with unfinished attic, and has a high posted, well lighted cellar with cement bottom. The house is substantially built of the best material that money could buy, and no pains or expense spared to make it a comfortable home, as I always expected to live in it myself. It is heated by a first-class hot water heating plant, with ample raidators throughout that give the best satisfaction. It is lighted by gas and has handsome gas fixtures.

First floor has large square hall and vestibule, parlor, sitting room, with open fireplace and mantel. Dining room with china closet built in kitchen, with hot and cold water, also large, airy summer kitchen conveniently arranged. Second floor has 5 pretty high posted and airy chambers, with a handsome fireplace and mantel in one; has a roomy bath room, with hot and cold water, all open plumbing; everything is in the best of shape and a better finished house cannot be found. The barn has stalls for three horses and room to store 8 carriages, with a large loft for hay and grain. There is also a shed attached, used as storage, 22 by 40, that make it very handy. The grounds are laid down to a lawn, set out with apple, pear, cherry trees, shrubs and vines, with broad drive and walks; a mortar wall is laid all around the lot and it is well fenced.

This property is in the best of repair inside and out, and a better built or a handsomer residence so near the heart of the city it would be hard to find. Any person wanting a nice, quiet home with every convenience, be sure and attend the sale.

Terms: $500 must be paid at time of sale; 30 days will be given to take deed; 60 per cent. of the purchase money can remain on mortgage.

I will sell at public auction the fine lot of land with a new barn and the foundation for two tenement house, 40x11, with a heavy 16-inch wall with a center wall dividing same, situated on Grotton street, North Chelmsford, but a step from the end of the street cars at North Chelmsford. Take street that leads to Crystal lake, and it is situated on the top of the hill on the left hand side before you reach the lake and contains 11,000 square feet of land with a frontage of 70 feet on Grotton St. Having started to build me a home I have erected a very nice barn for three horses, high-posted with studding 16 inches apart on a solid foundation that I had in mind some time; if so desired could be turned into a dwelling, also large carriage shed. I also put in a solid house cellar, 40x41 ft., with center wall all 16-in. thick for a two tenement house. The lot is all graded and 100 load of loam is in pile on the lot to finish grading. I had a fine well put in at great expense, and as things turned out I need money and feel that I must sell. Some one will get a good trade.

Per order, J. CARPENTER.
